Premier Hopeful Regarding Island Fiscal Arrangements

Hope that when the Federal-provincial tax rental agreements expire in 1957 they will be renewed on a still more favorable basis for this Province was expressed yesterday by Premier A. W. Matheson, in an interview following his return from the Dominion-Provincial Conference at Ottawa. The Premier said he realized that this view contrary to widely-expressed newspaper opinion, but pointed out that press reports and comments were based largely on the speeches made at the opening proceedings. The discussions which followed in camera were, he said, more encouraging and afforded no ground for pessimism. The Premier was also hopeful that this Province would at last receive some recognition for the revenues accruing from Canada's northern lands. He raised this point at the conference before reading his prepared text which was published in full in The Guardian on October 8, and he had reason to believe that it will be considered sympathetically.

MARITIMES SHOULD SHARE
Premier Fleming had made reference to the northern lands given to provinces other than the Maritimes, and Premier Matheson took the opportunity of recalling, on the authority of Mr. Justice A. E. Arsenault, former Premier of this Province, a statement made several years ago by the then Premier, Sir Lomer Gouin. This statement was to the effect that if the northern lands ever became a source of revenue to the provinces concerned, the Maritime Provinces should receive adequate compensation.

Premier Matheson told the conference he realized that these lands had cost the provinces to whom they were allotted large sums of money in development, which should be repaid. But the lands belonged, not to these provinces but to the people of all of Canada, and they should be restored on that basis. In making this proposal Premier Matheson told The Guardian he had in mind, not a lump sum to Prince Edward Island by way of compensation, which he believed could easily be obtained, but a continuing grant to be paid from year to year on the basis of our share in the northlands future development. "This would be of far greater value to us as a Province," he said, "and I am hopeful that some arrangement of this kind can

French Deputies Reflect On Faure's Political Fate

PARIS (AP)—With three days for reflection on whether to oust Premier Edgar Faure or let him continue in office a little longer, most deputies of the French National Assembly returned to their homes Friday to talk things over with the voters. To stave off certain defeat in a confused all-night assembly session, Faure asked early Friday for

Concern Over Slow Progress

OTTAWA, (CP)—The trans-Canada highway, little more than one quarter complete after five years' work, will be discussed at a conference here between federal officials and provincial highway ministers, probably next month. Federal authorities are known to be concerned about slow progress with the 4,600-mile, coast-to-coast paved roadway begun in 1950 with the provinces doing the construction. The federal treasury foots half the cost, estimated five years ago at a total cost of some $300,000,000 but now expected to top that before the highway is a reality.

Gale Pounds U.S. Seaboard

NEW YORK (AP)—A wild sneak gale brutally pounded the United States eastern seaboard Friday, posing a flood threat along the hurricane lane from the Carolinas to Canada. At least three persons were dead or missing in the storm. The present agreement provides that the provinces construct allotted mileages of the highway within their boundaries. The federal government is committed to match provincial outlays up to a maximum total of $150,000,000 by December, 1956. It was hoped when

Cornwall Man Third In Tractor Plowing Class

BLYTHESWOOD, Ont. (CP)—International plowing match officials said Friday they lost money on this year's match. Attendance figures showed only 62,000 of the expected 200,000 spectators turned up this year to make it one of the poorest in the 67-year history of competitive plowing in the province. Only 10,000 persons turned up Friday, the final day of the four-day competition. Results: Class 37 tractors: Clarence Schoger, Sugar Grove, Ill.; Jim Bonnar, Roland, Man.; Stan Willis, Cornwall, P.E.I.; Ed Demman, Portage la Prairie; Sven Swanson, Chilliwack, B.C.; George Linsinger, Springport, Mich.; Malcolm Macrae, Cherry Valley, P.E.I.; Hugh Templeton Havelock, N.S.; Raymond Brown, Athol, N.B.; Edward Wood, Pownal, P.E.I.; Wyman Strong, Lachute, Que. Roy Hoeg of Athol, N.S. placed second in class 41, tractors.

No Announcement Planned On Princess' Personal Life

By STERLING SLAPPEY
LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend held a rendezvous Friday night in a romantic country house belonging to one of her cousins—deep in the heart of Windsor forest. Just before they met the princess appealed to the press and public to respect her privacy. This appeal was part of a Royal Family statement saying no announcement of the princess' plans is "at present" contemplated. Neither the royal statement nor the rendezvous did anything to diminish persistent reports that the vivacious princess will wed the divorced war hero. But it may dampen somewhat the frenzied speculation in London's headlines over the events of the last three days. The British press is sensitive to such appeals from the Royal

Family

The 25-year-old princess and the 49-year-old RAF group captain talked together Thursday night at Clarence House, Margaret's London residence. Friday night they drove separately to the Binfield home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyett Willis. Mrs. Willis is a first cousin of the princess and one of her closest friends. Just before they met the princess appealed to the press and public to respect her privacy. This appeal was part of a Royal Family statement saying no announcement of the princess' plans is "at present" contemplated. Familiar Area

Binfield is in the forest of Windsor in the same area where Margaret and Townsend often were seen riding together after the Second World War when he was quarry to the late George VI. Princess Margaret left Clarence House by a seldom-used gate. Queen Mother Elizabeth remained behind. Just a few hours earlier, Townsend drove away from the home of his London host in his green Renault automobile. Word was given out that he would go the home of his mother in Cromcombe, Somerset, and this aroused speculation at once that he would tell his mother, Mrs. Gladys Townsend, whether Margaret would be his bride. However, instead of going to his mother's place, Townsend turned up at the Willis home. (Continued on page 2 col. 6)
