DECISION AND INDISCRETION.—One of the most unfortunate East India princes who ever existed the sympathy of the British public, is, perhaps, the Rajah set Corg, owing to the ill advice of friends, but more to his own indiscretion, lost his territory and precedence, his palace was sacked, his people straggled from his person, he became a prisoner, and was taken under an escort from Corg to Benares, where he remained for 13 years in close confinement, deprived of most of the luxuries and many of the comforts of life, without a friend on whom he could rely, his health and constitution enfeebled; in fact, so much so, that it was doubtful whether he would ever again be able to enjoy his country.
At this stage, he was obtained from the East India Company, he visited England, and consulted a number of physicians, who did not benefit him. We next saw finally the distinguished friend consulted Professor Holloway's Ointment and Pills, and that his weakness and his consultations he had with the professor, were anything but unsuccessful. His highness is now in excellent health; in fact he has quite recovered the vigour and energy he lost in his captivity from his imprisonment had caused him. Rumour says that the rajah has instituted proceedings against the East India Company for the recovery of a large amount of money, which he claims as money due and his accessories advanced them. It appears, also, that his highness is indebted to Professor Holloway's Ointment and Pills in obtaining a restitution of his rights; the professor is somewhat of a lawyer, and, having seen his law and justice administered in all parts of the world, from London to the West Indies, and more particularly on the European Continent, had advised the rajah a way of administering a powerful medicine, which he called Corg, and which, by energetic measures, such as the Professor himself exhibited in his successful career, the Prince of Corg will ultimately be restored at least to his ordinary rights, even if his principality has become confiscated for ever. By the way, Professor Holloway has established his medicines in all parts of the known world, and this energetic individual is now expending about 25,000l. a year for advertising the same. It is further stated, that by his decision of character, energy and perseverance he has been able to conquer almost every nation in the world; even the Hindoo whose very creed teaches him that the compounds of a Christian sect, as it were, poison his soul, and uses Holloway's Ointment and Pills, whenever medicine is required, and with what success the case of the distinguished prince above alluded to will speak for itself.—London Daily Standard, August 22nd, 1855.

INTELLECTUAL PRECOCITY.—It once happened that an anxious mother asked Mrs. Barbauld to write a lesson for her children to read "I should much prefer, that a child should be able to read before five years of age," was the reply. "Why, then, have you written a lesson for children of three?" "Because if young mamma will be over busy, they had better teach in a good way than a bad one." I have known clever presencing children at fifteen at twelve, and dances at six particularly clever at sixteen. One of the most popular authoresses of the present day could not read in her own handwriting until she was sixteen. Her accounts are all about it, but said, that as every person did learn with opportunity, she supposed her child would do as last. However, this apparently slow growth of the boy, his inevitable doings of his father from the profits of his first work, and before she was 20, she had published 30 volumes.

BACKBITING.—The longer I live the more I feel the importance of adhering to the following rules, which I have had before my self in relation to such matters.—1st. To bear as little as possible to it as the prejudice of others. 2d. To believe nothing of the kind, until I am absolutely forced to do so. 3d. To believe that the spirit of one who circulates an ill report, dith. Always to moderate as far as I can the unkindness which is expressed towards others. 4th. To believe that the more I hear of a man, the more I hear, a very different account would be given of the matter.

MARRIED MEN AND BACHELORS.—Though bachelors be the strongest staves, married men are the best binders, in the hedge of the commonwealth. It is the policy of the Londoners, when they send a ship into the Levant or Mediterranean Seas, to make every mariner therein a merchant—such a man adventuring somewhat of his own, which will make him more wary to avoid, and more valiant to undergo dangers. Thus married men, especially if having posterity, and the deeper stagers in that state wherein they live, which engage their affections to the greater loyalty.—Falmer.

AN AMERICAN EDITOR'S VIEW.—A Western editor thus delivers himself.—"We would say to the individual who stole our shirt off the pole, while we were lying in bed waiting for it to dry, that we sincerely hope, that the collar will cut his throat."

WORMS.
As this is the season of the year when worms are most formidable among children, the proprietors of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge beg leave to call the attention of parents to its virtues for the expelling of these annoying and often fatal enemies of the human system. It is a preparation of great efficacy in Virginia, who, after having used it for several years in his own practice, and found its success so universal, was induced at last to offer it to the public as a cheap, but certain and excellent medicine. It is since become justly popular throughout the United States, as the most efficient Vermifuge ever known, and the demand has been steadily on the increase since its first introduction to the public.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. J. M'Lane's Vermifuge, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his Colic-bag and Peppermint Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.

The Great American Hair Tonic.
Bogle's celebrated Hypon Hair Tonic, for the growth and preservation of the Hair, is well known to be without a rival on this continent. Hundreds of imitations have started into an ephemeral existence since the introduction of this excellent Hair restorative, and their doors have been sealed, whilst Bogle's Hypon Hair Fluid, with a popularity never attained by any other article, has continued to flourish and increase. There is no malady, which can affect the Hair, that can be cured by this incomparable preparation. To insure it is invaluable, and on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of Hair. It is now patronized by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, and is recommended by the highest authorities in Europe. Bogle's Electric Hair Dye converts red or gray hair into a beautiful black or brown, the moment it is applied. It is equally efficacious for restoring the skin and leaves the Hair soft and glossy without injuring its texture in the least; a decided superiority over all other Hair Dyes.

Bogle's Analo Shaving compound renders that usually unpleasant operation (shaving) a decided pleasure. Bogle's Hebenaria removes Freckles and tan from the face in the shortest possible time, and is acknowledged to be the best article for beautifying the complexion.

To be had, wholesale or retail, of W. Hoge, 227, Water Street, Boston.
And by all Druggists and perfumers throughout the Canada, United States and Great Britain. W. R. WATSON, Agent, P. E. I., 1st Nov. 1855. 1 yw

GILMAN'S HAIR DYE.
The best article ever used, as hundreds can testify in their own unfeigned testimony. Read GILMAN'S LIQUID HAIR DYE, unfeignedly changes the hair to a brilliant jet Black or glossy black. It is permanent, does not stain or injure, and every injury to the article ever yet invented will compare with it. We would advise all who have grey hairs to buy it, for it never fails.
