THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 29, 1896.

NOT THE FAULT OF CANADA.

During the course of his speech at St. John's and Iberville the other day Mr. Laurier made reference to the commercial relations between Canada and the United States, and complained that in the past the Governments of the two countries had failed to treat each other with becoming dignity. This statement, it is pointed out, was made in a way that would lead his hearers to suppose it was the fault of Canada that there should be any unpleasantness between the two countries, and incidentally that the Liberal Conservative Government was responsible for any such unfriendly feeling which might exist. It may be admitted that there has been some unpleasant incidents in connection with the relations between the two countries, but for these Canada cannot, in reason, be held responsible. The Montreal Gazette, in the course of an article dealing with this portion of Mr. Laurier's address, turns on the X rays after this fashion:

"To go back before the time fixed by Mr. Laurier, it was the United States that abrogated the reciprocity treaty of 1854. It was the United States Congress that in 1874 rejected a reciprocity treaty arranged by Hon. George Brown on behalf of the McKenzie Government. It was the United States that abrogated the reciprocity clauses of the fisheries arrangement of 1871. The same country has rejected every proposal since made by Canada to secure mutually beneficial tariff concessions. The United States also made navigation laws that practically shut Canadian vessels out of a large share of the traffic of the inland lakes. The Washington Government failed to carry out its promise to secure for Canadian vessels the free navigation of the New York State canals, which concession was to be the return for the privilege of navigating Canada's inland waterways made under the treaty of Washington. It was the United States that allowed bands of marauders to arm and drill within its territory for the invasion of Canada. It was the same country that refused to allow steamers, loaded with military stores for use in suppressing the Red River rebellion, to pass through the Sault Ste. Marie canal. It was a President of the United States who, for home political effect, threatened to cut off the privilege enjoyed by U. S. railroad and transportation lines of carrying, in bond, goods for export and import, from or to Canada. In fact, it has been the United States Government or Congress that have been responsible for any and every cause of ill feeling between the two peoples. It is only a few months since Congress was roaring its hate of Great Britain and its willingness to vote millions to strike at her through Canada. Canada, on the contrary, has done nothing in retaliation. When it was made plain that she could not get reciprocity, she adopted a policy that preserved her markets to her own people. When the United States Senate rejected a fair fisheries arrangement she took measures to protect her own fishermen in their natural rights. The Government of the United States admitted, however, that in such conduct she was acting within her privilege, was treating foreigners as she was treated by foreigners, and her failure to have so acted would not have made a whit of difference with the rulers of that country. Mr. Laurier might have smiled and smiled and smiled, and obtained no better results. There is a crank element in the United States which objects to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the China-Japan and Australian and Atlantic steamship services, but it is not expected that Mr. Laurier expects to conciliate it."

The Gazette further points out that Mr. Laurier's prospective failure to secure any better commercial conditions than were obtained by his predecessors in office is likely to go far to prove that he has gone out of his way to cast unwarranted reproach upon the Liberal-Conservative party.

MR. LAURIER'S HEALTH.

The cares and responsibilities of office are already beginning to tell on the Hon. Mr. Laurier. The Montreal Star informs its readers that at the conclusion of his address to the electors of St. John's and Iberville on Saturday last "it was noticed that he was very pale and was evidently unwell. He retired through the dense crowd which surrounded him to a chair in the rear of the platform, on which he fell heavily, overcome by the heat and well nigh exhausted. He was assisted out of the crowd to the square, and three medical men who were present attended him. The Premier went to Mr. Marchand's residence, where he soon revived, and was well enough to proceed to Ottawa by the C. P. R. train, which, was held half an hour for him. Mr. Laurier then declared that he felt much better. It is understood that after the bye-elections Mr. Laurier will go for a short cruise down to the Gaspe coast in Mr. Macdonald's yacht to rest and recuperate for the coming session. His friends state that the amount of work which he has done within the last three months is enormous, and would be sufficient to overcome a much stronger man physically."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

—It is reported from Winnipeg that Joe Martin is negotiating with the Greenway government for a settlement of the school question, and that if he succeeds Mr. Laurier has promised to take him into the cabinet.

—The report that Hon. Dr. Montague will join the editorial staff of the Mail and Empire is discredited at Ottawa. Before leaving for the west Dr. Montague said he intended to resume the practice of his profession, possibly in Ottawa.

—The dominion inspector of insurance, M. Fitzgerald, anticipates no serious results to the American insurance companies doing business in Canada from the possible adoption of the free silver policy in the United States. It is believed that American companies will take steps to assure policy holders in the dominion that policies be paid in the lawful funds of Canada.

—Montreal Gazette: A good many papers are assuming that the Government's majority will be increased by the bye-elections. The precedents do not justify such a position. In the case of the last Liberal Government the bye-elections reduced its majority, and Mr. Mackenzie was quite as able a man as Mr. Laurier.

—It is reported that a strong wire netting is to be placed in the post office building, over the partition which has for years served to separate the post office department from the corridor. The necessity for this netting is not apparent. But perhaps it is being put up to keep the many hungry Grit office-seekers from jumping over into the post office and constituting themselves officials in that arm of the service.

—The Hon. Mr. Paterson will not run for Saskatchewan, as originally intended by Mr. Laurier, notwithstanding that the Liberals of that District have been placed in line and offered him the nomination. The District will now be contested by two straight party men. Mr. John Clarke, Liberal M. P. for North Grey, died on the 26th inst., and it is said that Mr. Paterson will endeavor to secure his seat. Mr Blair is also still without a constituency.

—After an illness extending over several years, the wife of Mr. John L. Thomson, conductor on the Island Railway, yesterday entered into rest. Mrs. Thomson was a daughter of the late Isaac Thomson, Esq., of Suffolk, and a sister of Rev. Mr. Thomson, now of Washington State. She was a great favorite with all who knew her, and the news of her death, though not unexpected, will be heard with regret. Mr. Thomson and a family of five children mourn the loss of a kind wife and mother.

—The Winnipeg Tribune, edited by R. L. Richardson, M. P. for Lisgar, and the chief newspaper of the Greenway government, says editorially: "It is gratifying to note the confidence with which Mr. Laurier speaks on the school question. He reiterates his pledge made in opposition to settle it satisfactorily in six months. We earnestly trust his pledge will be redeemed and that the last will soon be heard of that disturbing question. Providing no sacrifice of the principal of national schools is involved in the settlement, Manitoba will be heartily glad to see it settled."

THE POPULIST NOMINATIONS

A queer situation has arisen in United States politics. The democrats nominated Bryan and Sewall for the presidency and vice presidency. The populist party has chosen the same candidate for president, but names Watson instead of Sewall for vice president. Had the populists accepted the democratic ticket the two parties would for the purpose of the presidential election have become one. But now their tickets, though alike in one feature, are not identical, and it will apparently be necessary for both parties to have a full set of presidential electors in each contested state. The result would seem to be that the Bryan-Watson electors would divide the free silver vote with the Bryan-Sewall electors, and that Mr. Bryan would thus be made a candidate against himself. The Bryan-Watson ticket, by taking votes from the Bryan-Sewall, ticket, would strengthen McKinley and the republican party. The only advantage which Bryan can get out of the nomination by the populists rather than another man would be in the two or three western states where the populists may be stronger than either of the other parties. Possibly also a fusion could be arranged in some states where the Republicans are stronger than either of the other parties, but not so strong as both. In 1892 a fusion was arranged in some such cases, Democrats and Populists making up a joint ticket of Presidential electors for which both parties voted. The electors divided their vote in a stipulated proportion between Cleveland and the Weaver tickets It is, therefore, possible that Mr. Bryan might get the votes of a few states and parts of states which would not give Sewall a majority. The result might be the election of Bryan, while Sewall would lose to Watson so many electoral votes that he would not have a majority left. But in that case, McKinley's partner, Hobart, would also apparently be without a clear majority over Sewall and Watson. The consequence would be the election of vice-president by congress or—as we understand it—by the senate branch of the national congress. If this should happen a republican would be elected, so that the president would be of one party and the vice-president of another. This has only happened once in the history of the nation. In 1796, John Adams, who was a federalist, was elected president, and Thomas Jefferson, of the republican party, was elected vice-president. The two parties were then bitterly hostile to each other and the election of one from each side was the natural result of a system of election which was soon after discontinued.—St. John Sun.

ENTICED AWAY AND ROBBED.

Advantage Taken of a New Haven Man's Strange Delusion.

New Haven, July 27.—Sidney J. Benham, a well known former business man of this city, who has been missing for about six weeks, has been located at Randolph, Vt. Postmaster Beach received a letter from a citizen of that place, which states that Benham claims to have been enticed to Canada and there robbed of about $500 and a gold watch. Benham, who owns about $10,000 in local real estate, has had a delusion for several years that he is related to Queen Victoria.

His letter states that Mr. Benham told the writer that two men claiming to be agents of the Queen dropped him a message at New Haven, in which he was directed to sell all his property and go to England via Canada with them; that he mortgaged one of his houses for $500 and when in Canada was robbed and left to shift for himself there.

It was learned here that the story told by Benham is undoubtedly true. He mortgaged his property and left with two young men about six weeks ago. Benham, the letter states, is walking home, footsore, weary and penniless. Ex-Insurance Commissioner Berton Mansfield was appointed conservator over Benham about two years ago, but was relieved in April, 1895. The scheme to spirit Benham away, it is believed, was the work of two New Haven young men.

Attempted Burglary.—A bold attempt at burglary was made in the store of Anderson Bros., Kensington, on Monday night, the 27th inst. By boring and cutting a hole was made through the panel of the rear door, opposite the draw bar, which was then pulled back. A vertical bar at the top of the door foiled the burglar or burglars and no further harm was done.

Both Were Fined.—The McLellan-McLean assault case, to which reference has already been made in The Examiner, was disposed of by Stipendiary Magistrate McQuarrie at Summerside yesterday. McLean was fined $3 and costs for discharging firearms in the town, and McLellan was fined $3 and costs or five days in jail for assault on McLean.

SUPREME COURT,

The Trinity Term of the Supreme Court adjourned sine die yesterday. The following cases were disposed of since our last report:—

Smith vs. Sterns.—This is a case stated on an appeal from the decision of a judge of the County Court of King's County. The question for the decision of the court is whether in order to issue a capias out of the County Court it is necessary to allege in the affidavit that the debtor's parting with the property has been for the purpose of evading payments of debts, and also whether an assignment in trust for the benefit of creditors is such a parting with or assigning property as to render the debtor liable to arrest under the County Court Acts. Mathieson for appellant, Rattenbury for respondent.

George Alexander vs. Michael T. Riggs—Action of replevin, tried at Hilary Term when a verdict was given for plaintiff. Defendant afterwards obtained a rule for new trial, which was argued last Easter Term. The Chief Justice delivered judgment, discharging rule, with costs, Judges Hodgson and Fitzgerald concurring. F. L. Haszard, Q. C., for plaintiff; Stewart, Q. C., for defendant.

Rebecca Wadman and ano. Executor of Isaac Wadman, vs. Alvan Wadman.—This case was tried before Mr. Justice Fitzgerald at the present term, and at the trial an application was made by the plaintiff's counsel to add a count to the declaration for money due the plaintiffs as executors of deceased, in addition to the count then in the suit, which now appears to have been for money due to the plaintiffs in their private capacity. The application was granted, and the count added. The trial proceeded, and a general verdict found for the plaintiffs. Mr. Stewart, Q. C., for the defendant, now moved to arrest judgment, on the ground that there was a mi-joinder, alleging that a count in the plaintiff's representative character could not be joined in the same action with one in their private capacity. The Court granted a rule nisi to arrest the judgment. Haszard, Q. C., for plaintiff; Stewart, Q. C., for defendants.

Peter Doyle vs. Felix Martin and wife, absent debtors—This case was tried yesterday. The plaintiff was cross-examined on behalf of the defendants by counsel, and after his evidence had been given the Court upon motion directed a non-suit. McLean, Q. C., for plaintiff; Stewart, Q. C., for defendants.

The court then adjourned until next Michaelmas Term.

THE MATABELES.

Capt. Nicholson Defeated—The Pickets Increased Around Buluwayo.

London, July 27.—A despatch from Cape Town reports that intelligence received from Buluwayo is that the Matabeles are again massing around that place. The situation seems no better than it was last April, when Buluwayo was practically besieged for weeks, and it was only possible to keep open the line of communication and possible retreat to Mafeking, in the south; by hard service and constant watchfulness on the part of the forces in Buluwayo.

Upon the arrival at Buluwayo of Earl Grey, who was appointed resident administrator of the British South African company, to succeed Dr. Jameson, he calmed apprehension by his reports that all danger was over and that the reinforcements there and on their way from Mafeking were ample to cope with the situation. The arrival at Buluwayo of General Sir Frederick Carrington, who had been ordered from Gibraltar to take charge of the imperial forces in South Africa, afforded a still greater assurance that the Matabele revolt would be crushed.

Various operations, some of them reported as highly successful and in which Cecil Rhodes, was a prominent figure, have been conducted against the insurgent natives, but they were apparently ineffectual in shutting out the disaffection. The news received yesterday of Capt. Nicholson's positive reverse in the Matoppo Hills, and the withdrawal or retreat of his forces, deepens dissatisfaction with the state of affairs in Rhodesia.

To-day's reports from Bulawayo are that pickets around the town have had to be largely increased, owing to the massing of hostile natives in the neighborhood.

A telegram from Gwelo, reported in a despatch from Cape Town, says that Major Hurrell left there on July 17 to join the force at Fort Victoria. He had a sharp engagement with the enemy at Belingwe, which lasted for four hours. Three of his troopers were killed and Major Hurrel afterward joined the forces at Fort Victoria and proceeded from there towards Ndema Kraal. Heavy firing has since been heard, but the result of the engagement was not known when the telegram was sent. Favorable news from Rhodesia renews the suggestion for the despatch of additional imperial forces to assist against the Matabele. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has shown himself loath to agree to this step, it is believed, on political grounds, owing to the jealous fears certain to arouse in the Transvaal. These would not be lessened if the Imperial reinforcements were to be sent at this time by the fact that Cecil Rhodes is on the ground with practically a free hand.

The Race To-morrow.—The yacht race on the harbor will be started at half-past twelve to-morrow afternoon, and a limited number of tickets have been issued for the judges' boat. Drs. Johnson and Jenkins were appointed timers and starters. The course of the race will be twice over the route outlined a day or two ago, and it promises to be the most interesting affair of the kind that has been witnessed here for some time. Those who can arrange to witness it should take advantage of the opportunity. Tickets for the judges' boat may be obtained from Mr. Doran.

Excursion to Pugwash.—An excursion will be given in the steamer Jacques Cartier to Pugwash, N. S., on Monday, August 10th. The outing is under the management of the Charlottetown Lodge of Good Templars, which body is known as one of the best pleasure makers. Luncheon and tea at a very moderate charge will be served on the boat by the young ladies of the lodge, which will save the excursionists the expense and bother of putting up at a hotel. Cumberland County District will meet the I-landers. Visitors tickets will be placed on sale at one dollar each. The 82nd Batt Band will accompany the party.

We will gladly receipt your June 30th account. When you are passing drop in and see our pretty things in Japanese terra cotta ware.—Haszard & Moore.

PROVINCIAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

A Glance at the Bill of Fare for the August Meeting.

The programme for the annual prize meeting of the Provincial Rifle Association has just been published. It is a neat little booklet, and reflects credit alike on the the Association and the printer.

The first match on the prize list is the Lieutenant-Governor's, at which all members of the Association are allowed to compete, non-military as well as military—$100 are divided into three prizes.

The Bankers', for the encouragement of young shots, admits only those who have never won a prize more than $2. There are $72 divided into twelve prizes.

The Hodgson Match is open to all duly enrolled militiamen, and offers $120 in thirty-nine prizes.

The Prowse Match offers prizes for teams as well as individuals and divides $145 into forty-four prizes. This match, like the Hodgson, is open only to duly certified militiamen.

The McKay Woolen Co's. match is the largest on the list, and offers $186 in fifty-two prizes.

Deputy Adjutant General Moore offers his beautiful silver trophy as a first prize in the grand aggregate. In this match there is also $70 divided into thirty prizes.

The Ladies Challenge Cup will be the match of the meet no doubt. $44 are this year divided into seventeen prizes, and though the cup goes to the lady who is fortunate enough to choose the winning number, the cash prizes go to the individual marksmen.

His Excellency the Governor General gives a silver and a bronze medal, which go to the highest and second highest in a special aggregate at 500 and 600 yards.

The D. R. A. Medals go this year to the two highest through all the matches, who will be the first and second on the Ottawa team should they choose to join it. There is, too, a nursery aggregate with prizes valued at $31, open only to nursery men who shoot through all the matches.

The prize list is an attractive one, and we trust it will be fully appreciated by our Militia. The opening day of the meeting, is Wednesday, the 12th August.

FISH MARKET SQUARE.

Sir,—Allow me to ask through your paper that the Mayor would give his casting vote in favor of having the fish market square, cleaned up on market evenings. This morning it is rank and smells to heaven. Visitors will remember this stink, and talk about it long after they have left our shores. Let the dry goods boxes remain on the sidewalks a day or two, they won't hurt anyone, but this smell is vile and will breed disease. Surely it must be somebody's duty to remove this. If the writer had a nuisance in his yard one-tenth as vile as the fish market square he would be called on to appear before His Honor, Stipendary Hazzard. W.
