KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative ; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

THE EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

If local institutes were established to meet monthly, in the most convenient and most important centres to discuss educational subjects, they would give young and unexperienced teachers a grand opportunity for acquiring those invaluable mental habits, such as comparing, classifying, defining, reasoning, etc., which tend to make their possessors superior to others of greater natural talent, but of inferior mental discipline. Discipline of the mind should be the chief object, and the discipline or intellectual power so much needed cannot at all be gained, even in a superficial way, by the slipshod method of meeting at Charlottetown once a year. As the matter stands, the convention held at Charlottetown does little or no good to the majority of teachers. Were an inexperienced teacher to speak at the Provincial Educational Association, I imagine he would air his opinions in vain; while the opinions of the enlightened few are to some like rays of light from some bright, luminous body—they merely illuminating while the luminaries remain in view, and then vanishing, as soon as the luminaries are gone, to leave the illumined objects darker than before. That there is a great gap between the rare intelligence of the few and the ignorance of the many no one will deny, and the worst of all is that the ignorance is in too many cases on the side of those who have become old in the pedagogical profession. This gap should be bridged if the teachers desire to procure for the rising youth true refinement of heart and mind. It should be bridged if the teachers are anxious to free the coming generation from the abnormal development of the pocket book into a purer and higher development of head and heart and soul. It should be bridged if the teachers would have their pupils capable of doing something better than book-keeping or toiling at the plough, without a knowledge of the outer world and things around them. A provincial training school, an annual convention monthly institutes held in certain localities, allowing teachers a certain number of days to visit each other's school, and a system organized whereby the teachers in different sections could meet on certain occasions to study the various branches of learning, would in the opinion of the writer, help to bridge the gap, and at the same time tend to lift the teacher's profession to the position that it should occupy. This would increase the teacher's labors, but what of that? Hard toil has its reward.

"Work! and the clouds of care will fly;
Pale want will pass away.
Work! and the leprosy of crime
And tyrants must decay.
Leave the dead ages in their urns;
The present time be ours,
To grapple bravely with our lot
And strew our path with flowers."

Crapaud, Sept. 15th.

SOURIS NOTES.

Mr. John Cantwell has again been appointed Inspector for Souris breakwater. We understand that about seven thousand dollars is to be spent on the work this fall, and we do not doubt that Mr. Cantwell will do a large amount of work with this sum of money, as he informs us that he is offered stone at 58 cents per cubic yard, timber at $2.80 per ton, and iron at $2.18 per hundred lbs.

Engineer Egan, while in Souris, said that this work would require at least thirty thousand dollars this winter to make it secure.

We feel confident that the Government will grant this amount, as the breakwater is a haven of refuge for fishing vessels. Over one hundred vessels often may be seen within its shelter during the storms.

The schr. Mary Joseph arrived this morning from Magdalen Islands with 350 brls. of mackerel for A. Currie, which have been re-shipped on City of Ghent for Boston. Capt. McCarthy says he thinks there are at least from five to six thousand barrels of mackerel still at the Magdalens. The schr. Nutwood was about loaded when he left, and he says the schr. Sea flower will also have a load. The catches there still continue to be good, boats getting from three to four hundred a day.

Souris, Sept 20, 1894.

AN EXCELLENT PUBLICATION.—Donahoe's Magazine for September is a number of unusual excellence, both from a literary and artistic point of view. The features of the month are: "Between Parts," a story by Lulille Lovelle, "The Pulpit and the Stage," by Rev. Mortimer Edward Twomey. "The Diocese of Springfield," by Rev. J. J. McCoy, a well written and elaborately illustrated article. "Catholic Royalty," by Eugene Davies. "The South May Save the Nation," by a Northern Journalist. "The Warfare with Agnosticism," by Rev. J. A. Zahm, C. S. C. "What shall I do to succeed," a series of articles on the occupations of women by women who know the requisites of success. "Shall I be a Doctor," by Susan E. Crocker, M. D., "Shall I be a Trained Nurse," by May Temple Bayard, PECULIAR in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses great curative value. You should TRY IT.
