Food Supply In Barren Lands In Short Supply

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP) — An increasing lack of food on the barren lands was blamed Wednesday for the deaths of eight Eskimos by starvation in the homeland of one of the Arctic's most remote tribes. A ninth Eskimo, caretaker of a government food warehouse which was destroyed by fire, was found frozen to death in the same Garry Lake district, 40 miles south of the Arctic Circle. First reports of the deaths were received Tuesday through R. L. Kennedy, northern affairs officer here. The reports indicated that when food stores were lost in the warehouse fire, the caretaker died from cold and the other Eskimos starved. A senior northern affairs official in Ottawa said the food situation in the area where the nomadic native hunters get most of their food and clothing from Caribou has been deteriorating.

The Pampered Darling Wins Drama Festival At S'Side

"The Pampered Darling" presented by the Summerside Group of the P.E.I. Presbyterian Young Peoples, was adjudged the winning play in the three plays were entered in the competition, "The Master Key" by the Zion Y.P.S. of Charlottetown, "Home To Mother" by the Kensington Group and the winning play by the Summerside Young Peoples. The winning play was directed by Miss Jean MacFadden and brought high praise from the adjudicator, Mr. Norman MacDonald, C.D.A., who said that this entry had a very well balanced cast and that the players in it had stayed in character throughout. Miss Gail Hancock, as Connie Gibbons, in "The Pampered Darling", took top honors as the best actress of the evening while Mr. Clair Smith as Freddie Fosdyke in the Charlottetown play was adjudged the best male actor. The Hon. B. Earle MacDonald trophy, to be presented to the best entry, was accepted by Mr. Lorne Moase of the Summerside group, on behalf of his cast. In his summing up the adjudicator, Mr. MacDonald said that the Charlottetown group which presented "The Master Key" had a play which was a quiet play and that while they had handled the refined comedy well they did not point up the mystery element sufficiently. He pointed out that an adjudicator must at all times try to overlook the audience appeal on a play and to judge it on the merits of the way in which it was presented. In a most impressive manner he pointed out the defects as well as the good points of all players who had taken part and his criticisms were most helpful to the young people.

Eugene Cullen, Provincial Minister of Agriculture Wednesday afternoon addressed the twelve dairy employees from various points on P.E.I., who are attending a three-day cheese making course at Amalgamated Dairies in Summerside, at which J. Mr. Cullen stated he was most grateful to Mr. Bain for his expert instruction in cheese making, to the Ontario Department of Agriculture for consenting to let Mr. Bain come to Summerside and to Amalgamated Dairies for providing their modern facilities for the course. The minister stated his department puts forth a great deal of effort and a large expenditure of monies each year toward the development of the dairy industry on P.E.I. and consequently dairy products must be marketed to the very best advantage. Mr. Cullen said his department has plans for other dairy courses of the same type, such as butter making, at some future time.

West Prince Fishermen Make Good Start As Season Opens

Fine weather yesterday enabled fishermen along the North Shore in Western Prince County to run almost one half of their traps and for most the job will be completed today. Unlike last year there is no shortage of herring for bait. Altogether fishermen from Alberton to North Cape fish about 65,000 traps. There are 62 boats operating from Jude's Point, Tignish, 19 at Myricks Shore, 21 at Jerry Buote's, Sea Cow Pond and one at North Cape. 27 boats operate from Alberton harbour with an estimated 13,000 traps. As far as can be learned the largest gear is owned by Henry Doucette, Tignish, with 950 traps. The lone North Cape fisherman is Claude Leonard, who fishes alone. First lobsters are expected to be landed today, giving some indication of the season's prospects.

Fine Comedy Drama Staged In Kensington High School

The comedy drama staged in Kensington High School Auditorium last night proved to be exceptionally good entertainment and the capacity audience was highly pleased with the performance. Hilda Ramsay in the star role gave perhaps her best performance in a long line of triumphs, and was well supported by the other members of the cast. The cast of characters was well chosen and each performer played a large part in the success of the entertainment. The touching scene interspersed with comedy and humor told a story which kept the audience enthralled to the dramatic end of a play which was especially difficult to produce and ran to five scenes. Mr. Elmer Power, who directed the play, the Community Club, which presented it, the cast of characters and those who assisted with well-received specialties, all deserve credit for a very satisfying evening's entertainment. The three-act play will be presented again tonight.

Musical Comedy My Fair Lady Wows London Audience

LONDON (Reuters) — The hit musical comedy My Fair Lady burst on London Wednesday night and wowed the celebrity-packed first night audience. The boucny blend of George Bernard Shaw and Tin Pan Alley was staged at Old Drury Lane Theatre—a bouquet - throw from the setting of Shaw's original play. For a while it looked like the most badly hooded show ever to hit London might flop. Applause at first reflected no more than politeness and propriety. But by the time Cockney flower girl Eliza Doolittle mastered the upper-crust phonetics forced on her by Professor Henry Higgins the audience relaxed. The Fritz Lowe music and Alan Jay Lerner lyrics and stars Julie Andrews and Rex Harrison warmed the audience. From then till the nine final curtain calls the show could do no wrong. MOST GLAMOROUS NIGHT Reporters tag the whole event as the "most glamorous night in the theatre since the war" and the "most scintillating diamond-flashing premiere of the century." But the critics who made the early Thursday editions qualify comment by saying too much probably was expected of the production because of its advance buildup. The Daily Mail's Cecil Wilson writes: "The plain truth is that, despite

Blood Donor Objective Is Exceeded At RCAF Station

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic held at the R.C.A.F. Station yesterday morning exceeded the objective of 150 by 10. The Clinic was organized under the leadership of P.O. G. L. Bushen who was assisted by a group of enthusiastic helpers drawn from the different sections on the Station. This was the best result achieved at the R.C.A.F. Station in some time and reflects great credit on the organizers as well as on the personnel who responded so well to the appeal for donors. With the outstanding results obtained at Charlottetown on Monday and Tuesday, and at Summerside yesterday afternoon and evening plus those at the R.C.A.F. Station, the Province's score is now 1,610 donors registered.

298 Blood Donors Visit Clinic In S'Side Yesterday; 253 More Needed Today

In a Summerside - Charlottetown inter-city challenge competition to produce blood donors, the clinic at Summerside yesterday slightly exceeded its first days quota, but needs at least 253 donors today to reach its minimum objective. Yesterday afternoon 100 donors visited the clinic, and 198 last evening, ending the first day with a total of 298 donors. Today the clinics are again scheduled from 3 to 5, and from 7 to 9 p.m., and the free transportation provided yesterday will be available for anyone wishing to make this most valuable of all contributions. Summerside citizens are responding with real interest to an appeal made to them by Mayor W. A. Currie who issued the challenge to Charlottetown for this competition, based on the donor percentage of population. Only the response of Summerside citizens in attending today's clinics will determine which town has made the greater contribution to these Red Cross blood donor clinics, on this basis. Organization of the Summerside effort in this respect has been under the chairmanship of Leo Blaquiere who stated yesterday that his committee was hopeful that upwards of 800 donors would attend the Summerside clinics in response to the town-wide canvass conducted by the Canadian Legion and Summerside service clubs.
