

Dr. Hugh MacDonald, North Sydney, has bought a two-year-old by Abner T. Clegg 2.04% dam by Sampson Hal, from D. E. Coles, New Wiltshire. She is handsome and well developed and has a nice way of pacing. The Doctor has also purchased a young pacer by Calumet Budlong 2.02%, dam by Orola, by Dingola 2.06%, dam by Alf Carver, Pownal.

The largest crowd seen at an afternoon harness meet in Sydney for many years turned out for the holiday last Saturday. A program of twelve dashes brought some splendid finishes and was voted one of the best seen in years. The P. J. Cadejan stable of Glace Bay with Worrill Lewis handling the ribbons, won the largest amount of money, but the driving honors went to Joe MacDonald, who well known for his campaigns with Colossal Dan, Joe won five dashes, two with Mac Harvester, the fastest of which was in 2:15 1/2, two with Vella La Vella, in which he headed Scott Spencer, Wilkin, Cyclonic and Carl Frisco, in 2:10 2-5, 2:12 2-5. He also won a dash with Miss Bonnie Grattan in 2:21 1-5. Vella La Vella's victory was very popular with the large crowd and at the conclusion of the race she was crowned Queen of the Show in the first floral presentation ever made at the Sports Centre. It was in the form of a beautiful rose-carnation floral horseshoe, presented by Fieldberg Florists of Sydney and was placed about Vella's neck by Miss Fieldberg. The Cadejan stable's principal winner was Crusader Chief, who won dashes 6 and 12, each in 2:15 4-5. Another winner from the same stable was Arionway.

A deluge of rain prevented the carrying out of a first class program at the Montague track last Wednesday afternoon. The four heats raced developed close finishes with Tiny Budlong (T. Weir) classified the No. 1 in 2:14. She is owned by Linus Muligan, Kinkora. In the No. 2 Classified Trot, Feather Duster 2:14 by Abbe Worthy 2.05%, dam Dude Potemkin 2.07%, led from wire to wire—a perfect trot, driven by Lorne Kelly, who received quite an ovation. Lusia was a very close second. It may be mentioned that this mare was trained and driven last season by Charlie Wildis, Covehead, and was turned over by him to the Kelly Stable last Tuesday, so credit must be given to Charlie for doing a good job. Everyone is expecting great things from the Duster. She is owned by Lester Johnston, Fortune.

The No. 3 Classified was won by Velle Long (Lowery) by a nose from Lela Budlong (Collins) in 2:14 2-5. He is owned by Anneer and Lowery, Montague. But was the surprise of the afternoon was the winning of the No. 4 Classified by Lily Marlene, owned by Rhodes Warren, Charlottetown. This mare had been raced previously as a hopped pacer but driver Rollie Walker took off hoppers and boots and raced her with just the harness. She behaved perfectly and wormed her way through a ten-horse field to win from Bell Budlong, owned by Rannie MacDonald, Direct Volo (Weir) 3, Noreen Grattan (Pettigrew) 4. This little chestnut Grattan mare is only four years old and showed considerable class. The time was 2:18 1-5—a record for Lily Marlene, who had no record previously.

Moncton fared much better than Montague with their racing Wednesday, probably because it was a Twilight Meet. In the 2:28-2:30 class Nora Dale by Playdale, owned by J. C. Ryan, Sackville, N.S., won the first dash in 2:18 3-5. She had no record previously. The trotter Jennie Kalmuck is keeping up her winning streak by coping both dashes in the 2:24-2:27 class, and Carnation Lady shared honors with Miss Donna Mae, each winning a heat in the 2:21-2:23 class. The Letcher owned pacer A. G. Scott from Springhill, won the fastest heat of the afternoon in the Free For All, heading Lock Hanover, Eddie Scott, McKlyo Cash and All America in 2:09. In the next heat he was second to Lock Hanover.

Our old friend Thane Belyea is out and around and apparently as active as ever, judging by a letter received from him a few days ago enclosing a score card of the Woodstock, N.B., races held June 29th. A good crowd turned out and the Starting Gate proved popular with spectators and horsemen. The 2:19 class was a real race, according to Thane, with close finishes, Graham Hanover (Woodcock) winning the first heat in 2:12 4-5 from Bonnie H. (O. Jardine) in 2:12 4-5. Steve Hanover, owned and driven by Harold Pirie won the second heat in 2:14 3-5 from Graham Hanover.

Some smart young pacers showed up in the 2:28 Trot and Pace with Jo Jo Spencer, owned and driven by Wilson Coker, stepping the first heat in 2:15, Happy Bill second and Cedric Hanover third. Jo Jo Spencer was also second in the second heat, but the real interest centred in the three-year-old Jock Martin, a brown colt by Fleet Hanover, that had started a few times last year and had winnings of $240. Fourth the first heat, in the second heat he stepped to the quarter in 3:2 2-5, the half in 1:05 3-5 and won in 2:15—certainly nice parading for a three-year-old in the Maritimes. He is owned by George Carpenter, Woodstock, and was driven by Orin Jardine. Pleading news to Mrs. Sampson Grady, Summerside, will be the fact that Donald G. R., owned by Weldon Fleming, Juniper, N.B., and driven by Roy Barnett, was a straight heat winner in the 2:22 Trot and Pace. They were down to the half in the first heat in 1:05 and finished the mile in 2:12 3-5. The

With some of the rural baseball leagues in action now for the past week or two, others are swinging into action daily in many parts of the Province to make the Island baseball picture a general one. The two latest league developments are the King's County Baseball League and the Junior Farmers Baseball League.

The former is a six-team loop with a 30-game schedule, comprised of teams from Souris, Morell, St. Peter's, Georgetown, Cardigan and Peake's Station. Each team will play five home games and five away for a total of 10 games per team. The Junior Farmers League is a four-team circuit comprised of Morell, Tracadie, Johnston's River and Port Augustus. The latter schedule will get under way tomorrow when Tracadie will play host to Johnston's River and Morell Rear to Port Augustus. All four teams will see action twice a week, Wednesday and Saturday, in a 12-game schedule, six at home and the same abroad.

These boys, who take their ball seriously, have been coming up with some smart play during the past few seasons, and reports from the various club officials, indicate that they are expecting another successful season of close, competitive play, and that by the time playoff time rolls around, there is going to be some stout battles before championships are declared and the winners move on to meet other county winners in their respective divisions.

There must be a lot of promising material to be found among these groups, and it might well pay some of the coaches of senior teams in the larger centres, such as Charlottetown and Summerside, to take a gander at some of their clasher's sometime, particularly if they are looking for material to bolster their own clubs.

How much do you know about double plays? If you were the base umpire could you call this one right? It is a tricky one and needs some thought, so see if you would make the same ruling on the play as laid down by Billy Evans, a man who has been umpiring "Big League" ball for 22 years.

"Runners were on first and third with one out. The batter hit a sinking line drive to the centre fielder, who came in fast for a spectacular shoestring catch. The runner on third went back and tagged up believing he could score regardless of what happened. The runner on first was certain the ball would fall safe and ran wild. When the centre fielder made the shoestring catch, the runner originally on first was almost to third. It was apparent that he could easily be doubled to retire the side."

"The centre fielder, after making the catch, threw the ball to the second baseman, who was standing on the bag. Since the runner had to retouch second on his way back to first, he looked a cinch out. He was 20 feet from second on his way back when the second baseman received the throw from the outfielder while standing on the bag. The second baseman, feeling he had doubled the runner by standing on the bag with the ball for the third out of the inning, rolled the ball in the direction of the pitcher's box."

"The team in the field began to leave their positions and return to the bench. The runner, however, thought otherwise about the situation, because he continued on his way back to first and reached it safely without being touched. Realizing something must be wrong, the catcher of the team in the field ran out to the mound and recovered the ball just as the runner had returned safely to first. Had the double play been properly made to retire the side?"

"It had not been so made. Only two were out. The second baseman had not retired the runner by merely holding the ball on that base, which the runner had to touch on his way back to first. On such a play the only way the runner could be retired was to be touched by the ball in the hand of the fielder or the ball held on the base occupied by the runner when the fly ball was hit—and in this case it was first base. Touching second did not complete the out. Did you get it?"

McCloskey In 10-Round Decision Over Whyntott; Lund Retains Title

Cobey McCloskey (155) of Charlottetown and Dartmouth, N. S., scored a 10-round unanimous decision over Roger Whyntott (153) of Mahone Bay, N. S., in a non-title, middleweight bout at the Charlottetown Forum last night before a crowd of some 950 fans. It was the feature attraction to an action-packed 4-bout card.

McCloskey, Island heavyweight boxing champion, turned in a really smart performance to definitely outpoint his more experienced opponent in a scrap that was fast and rugged all the way and gave attending fans plenty of action.

Buddy Lund (133), aggressive and hard punching Island lightweight champion scored a five-round T.K.O. over Carl "Beau Jack" MacDonald, (132) in a bristling semi-final six-round title bout to retain his championship.

Other bouts on the card saw Austin Connelly (125) of Charlottetown score a four-round decision over Billy Rix (125) also from the City in the leading preliminary, while two local 70 pounders, fighting under the names of "Jack Dempsey" and "Billy Conn", battled it out to a really crowd-pleasing four-round draw decision in the curtain raiser to the four-bout card.

In the main event, McCloskey, using a very effective right hand, both straight and jabbing, piled up points in the first four rounds with some smart boxing to hold a definite advantage over Whyntott, who although moving ahead all the time, was losing out on the exchanges against the shifting style of McCloskey.

Whyntott started to get to McCloskey more from the fifth round on to land some good solid punches at times with both hands, but McCloskey made him miss frequently to come in with effective counter-punching to hold the advantage. Whyntott had his best rounds in the eighth and ninth when he swapped punch for punch with McCloskey in some really close-in, rugged fighting, that was very even and smart to watch. McCloskey was the master again

The Crow Contest has entered on its last lap... one week to go. Feet will be accepted at the office of the Royal Packing Company up to and including July 17th. Feet received through the mails postmarked July 17th will also be accepted. The Executive of the Provincial Fish and Game Association will meet on July 22nd to check the returns and the winners will be announced on Monday, July 24th. Incidentally the count will be made from the original receipts obtained at the bounty office. No feet will be accepted by the Executive. Be sure to get your feet turned in, or mailed, no later than July 17th. I hope you have all joined the Game Association before this date as no prizes will be awarded to non-members. It is not necessary to turn in the receipts for crows' feet that you received when you mailed, or turned them in in person, as they are made out in duplicate and the original copies are held at the Royal Packing Company office. All you have to do is sit back and await the returns.

Just how many feet will be turned in is anybody's guess, as the bounty office employees and Manager are keeping strictly mum on the subject. This is only fair as no one has any right to keep tabs on the contestants. For instance: if X knew that a certain contestant was leading in the field and only ten or fifteen crows ahead of him he'd most certainly put on an extra drive to make up the deficit. I have an idea that most of the top-notch crow hunters will hold back till the last possible minute before showing their hand.

From information gleaned on drives throughout the Province it is evident that the Crow Contest has met with an enthusiastic response from sportsmen and others interested in the welfare of our waterfowl and other forms of feathered life. How many crows they have shot or trapped is, of course, a matter of personal estimate, and maybe I'm sticking my neck out at that, but the total kill will exceed two thousand crows. I have nothing in the way of inside dope to base my compilations on, but am making my guess on the general interest shown in the contest.

I have had a few express sympathies for the crow and point out his qualities as a grub destroyer, including cutworms. Yes, I'm willing to admit that the crow consumes large quantities of harmful grubs, etc., but he also preys upon other birds that include cutworms in their diet, and chief among those is the robin. The crow and the common house cat are two arch enemies of the robin. The house cat dines on the birds themselves but the fledgling young and immature birds, just trying out their wings, constitute the bulk of the victims. The crow preys on fledglings and eggs.

In my opinion the robin rates higher than the crow as a cutworm exterminator. Just this week I talked to a nature lover and observer who related an experience he had quite a few years ago. Cutworms had wiped out the bulk of a two acre turnip patch and he resorted to the remedy of poisoned bran which he liberally sprinkled over the field. The following morning he picked up dead robins but he almost wept but no crows were included in the casualties although they were feeding on the same field. He came to the conclusion that the crows were too cute to eat either the poisoned bran or the dead cutworms which covered the ground. He did see them dig

Vics Edge Knights 7-6 In Junior League Game

Ralph Pineau's steal of home in the top half of the ninth inning, after the Vics had put on a four run rally, gave Mac MacInnis proteges a 7-6 win over the Knights in a junior league fixture played on Memorial Field diamond last night. The game, played before a large crowd of fans gave the Vics undisputed leadership in the Junior League standings.

The Knights had taken a four-to-nothing lead at the end of the sixth frame but the Vics came back in the seventh to score two runs. The Knights, however, added another brace of tallies in the eighth to go into the last inning with a 6-2 lead.

But here came the break of the game. Cliff Ready, the first Vic batter, grounded out. Willis Hennessey singled to right field and went to second on a passed ball. Art Hughes walked and Gus Flynn was hit by a pitched ball to load the bases. McCallum then sent a blooping single into right field with two runs scoring and Flynn taking third and McCallum going to second on the throw in. Eddie Lund grounded out to the shortstop with Flynn scoring. Pineau then smashed a single to short scoring McCallum. Pineau went to second and third on a wild pitch and a passed ball. With Charlie Ready at bat Pineau stole home when an attempted pitch out failed to click. Ready continued the batting spree as he cracked out a double to left centre but Cleo Gillis the next batter up grounded out to the second baseman to end the rally.

In the Knights' home half of the last inning the first two batters went out in quick measure. Murphy, however, smashed a double to centre but was caught going into third on a relay from the centre fielder to the pitcher to the third baseman.

Cliff Ready and Phil Murphy were the pitchers both going the route in the slugfest. Ready was touched for thirteen hits while walking two and whiffing five. Murphy gave up eleven hits, walking two, hitting one and striking out eleven Vic batters. The win gave Ready his second victory over the Knights in league play this year.

Bill Leonard was the leading batsman of the game as he walked a double and two singles in

Night Racing Program At Charlottetown Tonight

Tonight is racing time at the Exhibition Track again, when a large list of leading trotting and pacing entries from Island and Maritime stables will come up behind the starting gate in a promising program of harness horse racing entertainment.

Commencing at 8:30, the program will consist of ten, one-mile dash events that is expected to produce probably the keenest card of racing under lights this season. Every race is packed with top-notch entries and will see a total of seventy horses take the word from the official starter in their battles for top honors over the mile distance. The program gives every indication of presenting enthusiastic rail fans with a banner evening of thrilling action.
