That's The Way It Goes

From that far morn when man was born
And endowed with a name,
It's been his theme to plot and scheme
For someone else to blame.
He coined the joke to place the yoke
Of blame upon the wife - -
But now we know it's safe to throw
This practice out for life.

For we have found the proper ground
Whereon to place the blame - - -
It truly takes our own mistakes
Outside the pall of shame:
If fate steps in and bangs our chin
And drops us on the mat,
We rub our jaw and shout for law - - -
"The Government did that!"

If cows go dry and there's no rye
Ripening within our fields,
The Government Guys must subsidize
And promise better yields.
When spring has come we say how dumb
Our Government! How fretting
When roads of muck bog down our truck:
(Forget the rains we're getting).

For every ill we have a pill - -
"A Government subsidy",
Whate'er befalls out go the calls
Of gimme! gimme! gimme!
Whate'er we do, we can't eschew
The income tax return - - -
And so our ire adds to the fire
As tempers flare and burn.

If your abode is on a road
With a far-flung location
The T.C. branch must pass our ranch
Or we're in consternation!
Why do we think this heavy jink
Must flow whenever we
Demand in tones to rattle bones
Hey! gimme! gimme! gimme?
It's getting so it's hard to know
Just whither we are heading
When we're afraid and cry for aid
Because it's heavy sledding.
