Three New Farm Groups Recently Organized Here

With the organization of the growers of processing crops completed last Friday evening total for the last year of new groups is now three.

The beef producers operated with a committee for some six months and then in the late fall had their organization meeting and officially got underway.

The tobacco growers through the summer and fall held a number of meetings and in mid-November decided to set up a tobacco board as a means of furthering their interests. In all cases the three groups have worked closely with the Federation of Agriculture and been assisted by it in a clerical way in the arranging of meetings, in the gathering of material, and the drafting of constitutions, etc.

The setting up of these commodity groups appears to be well justified, there is much that they can do to improve conditions under which they operate. A danger which needs to be guarded against is the one of losing sight of the over-all problems of agriculture and of the necessity of working with other groups in the forming of general policy.

HOG PREMIUMS

The announcement made by the Hon. Alvin Hamilton that hog premiums will be restored to their former level of $3 will be welcomed by the industry. Farm organizations and the CFA in particular have been bringing this matter to the attention of the Minister on all convenient occasions. The writer was present with two committees that discussed this matter with the Hon. Alvin Hamilton and had his assurance that the premium would be restored when circumstances warranted it.

DAIRY CONFERENCE

Yesterday and today sees underway Canada's first National Dairy Conference, a gathering bringing together representatives of organizations connected with the dairy industry, governments, etc. Something less than one hundred persons are involved in this closed conference where it is hoped that some real, lively frank discussion will point to some of the paths which the dairy industry should follow in its own interests.

THE FARMER

Many persons have a certain mental picture of the farmer. Pictures which may be very accurate in some cases but very distorted in others. We were rather struck with a description by Mrs. Doris West in the Missouri Farm Journal and which we reprinted from the Maritime Co-operator.

"Farmers are found in fields-plowing up, seeding down, rotating from, planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting if.

"Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agriculture Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, salesmen detain them, meals wait for them, weather can delay them, but it takes Heaven to stop them.

"When your car stalls along the way, a farmer is a considerate, courteous, inexpensive road service. When a farmer's wife suggests he buy a new suit, he can quote from memory every expense involved in operating the farm last year plus the added expenses he is certain will crop up this year. Or else he assumes the role of the indignant shopper, impressing upon everyone within earshot the pounds of pork he must produce in order to pay for a suit at today's prices.

"A farmer is a paradox-he is an overalled executive with his home his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, aminos and antibiotics; a production expert faced with surplus, and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze.

"He likes sunshine, good food, State Fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbors, Saturday nights in town, his shirt collar unbuttoned and, above all, a good soaking rain in August.

"He is not much for droughts, ditches, throughways, experts, weeds, the eight-hour day, helping with house-work, or grasshoppers.

"Nobody else is so far from the telephone or so close to God. Nobody else gets so much satisfaction out of modern plumbing, good weather and homemade ice cream. Nobody else has in his pockets at one time a three-bladed knife, check book, a billfold, a pair of pliers, and a combination memo book and general farm guide.

"Nobody else can remove these things from his pockets and, on washday, have overlooked: Five "steeples," one rotter key, a rusty spike, three grains of corn, the stub end of a lead pencil, a square top, a $4.98 pocket watch and a cupful of chaff in each trouser cuff.

"A farmer is both Faith and Fatalist - he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever present possibility that an act of God (a late spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drought) can bring his business to a standstill. You can reduce his acreage but you can't restrain his ambition.

"Might as well put up with him-he is your friend, your competitor, your customer, your source of food, fibre, and self-reliant young citizens to help replenish your cities. He is your countryman - a denim-dressed, business-wise, fast-growing statesman of stature. And when he comes in at noon having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew and the magic words: 'The market's up!' "

Racial Gap Seen Large In Canada

TORONTO (CP) — The gap between French and English-speaking Canada is the widest in Canada's peacetime history, says Pierre de Bellefeuille, editor of le Magazine Maclean.

This is one of the two crises facing Canada today, he said following a debate in Hart House, University of Toronto. The other is that Canada is not being governed.

"The handling of the Cuban crisis," he said, "is just one illustration of a government that is not prepared to govern but just to go through the motions.

"It took 48 hours for Canada's cabinet to give President Kennedy an answer on whether we would support his action in Cuba."

Speaking of the division he said existed between French and English - speaking Canada, Mr. Bellefeuille said he used to think separatism "was just a straw in the wind."

"But now I have to admit that it isn't just blowing away. It is becoming a more serious factor in Quebec and is gaining more members."

"First we want a new deal in the federal civil service," he said. "Then a better break in operating those businesses which operate in Quebec.

"Finally there should be a governmental fiscal reform," including re - examination of the financial arrangements between the provinces and the federal government.

TOURED ON HORSE

WANTS LUMBER CURB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional backing for a tight limit on imports of Canadian softwood lumber was sought Thursday by Republican Representative Walt Horan of Washington. In letters to more than 100 members of the United States Congress from lumber-producing states, Horan asked support for a resolution calling on the president to impose a quota on softwood imports.

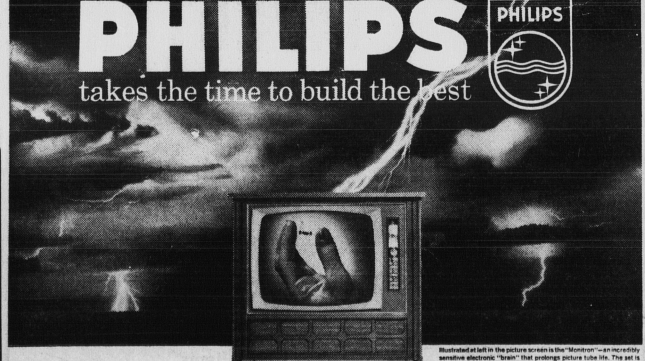
takes the time to build the best



Illustrated at left in the picture screen is the "Monitron"—an incredibly sensitive electronic "brain" that prolongs picture tube life. The set is Philips new ALDERWOOD 237 Console with a furniture crafted hand-rubbed wood and veneer cabinet.

Philips conquers high voltage burnout with Monitron Television to bring you Canada's first

2-year picture tube guarantee!

The picture tube is the hardest working part of your television set. And it is the most expensive. Many picture tubes burn out prematurely, weakened by high voltage surges caused when household current fluctuates.

Now Philips engineers have found a way to stop excess voltage reaching the picture tube. They have developed a tiny electronic "brain" called Monitron which controls the voltage reaching the picture tube and keeps it at a safe level.

Philips new Monitron circuit offers such exceptional protection that the picture tube is now guaranteed for 2 full years.

The idea for Monitron came from the giant Thyrite Arrestors that protect expensive powerline transformers against lightning. Working with new materials, Philips engineers developed a tiny device about the size of a headache capsule. Monitron senses voltage changes and acts immediately to protect the picture tube.

See your Philips Franchised dealer soon. We picked him for his courtesy, his integrity, his ability and his willingness to provide you with responsible follow through service. Ask him to show you the new Monitron TV with the 2-year picture tube guarantee.
