

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there

Of Special Interest To Our Farmers

EARLY SPRAYING.

It may be doubted whether the old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine," will apply with much force to any other farm operation as it does to spraying, for with many of the fungous diseases of plants unless the spraying is done before the plants are attacked, it is a waste of time and materials. And with all of the pests for which we spray, either insect or fungus, prompt applications at the proper time are necessary if they are to be effective. Let every grower in the Maritime Provinces therefore, resolve that this coming season he will practise the most approved methods of spraying and then let him carry out that resolve.

The first two pests which claim our attention are the oyster-shell bark-lice and the bud moth. If your trees are infested with bark-lice or if they are covered with moss or old bark and look as though they needed a general clearing up, nothing will do them so much good as spraying with potash, either the rock potash, which can be bought for about 8c. per pound, or with the leachings from wood ashes. One who has never tried it will be surprised at the wonderful improvement this will make in the appearance and thriftiness of the trees. It cleans off all old bark or roughness of any kind, thereby removing countless bark-lice, insect eggs and fungous spores, and it makes the trees look almost as though they had been varnished. Try it and you will have all your neighbors stepping into ask how you did it. And the beauty of it all is that whatever material is applied in this way will eventually find its way into the soil, where it will make the best of fertilizers for the orchard. If you use the rock potash take one pound to 3 to 5 gallons of water, and if the leachings from ashes, that leached from a barrel should make a cask or more of excellent spraying material. But there are two precautions to be observed in applying this potash. 1st—It must be done when the trees are dormant, which means that if you are going to use it this year (and that is what you should do) it must be applied during the present month; and 2nd—Great care must be taken not to get any of it on the hands or any part of the person, as it is extremely caustic and is likely to produce serious results.

The bud-moth which seems to be very troublesome in parts of the Province is one of the most difficult of insects with which to deal. The eggs of this insect hatch in the late summer and the little worm produced feeds on the leaves of the apple until about half grown when it stops feeding and passes the winter in a half developed state in little cocoons or nests which may be found by careful investigation attached to the twigs of the trees. In the spring on the first signs of growth in the orchard, the little worm gnaws its way into the centre of the expanding bud and there plays havoc with the prospective crop of fruit by eating the young buds. Our object should be, therefore, to prevent the worm from getting into the bud, and to do this requires very careful spraying with Paris Green. I should advise spraying just as the buds are opened sufficiently to afford a lodgement for the Paris green among the points of the little leaves, and if the insect is very troublesome I should spray a second time a few days later when the buds are fairly well opened, using for both sprayings Bordeaux mixture with 1/4 lb of Paris green to the cask. The Bordeaux mixture will adhere to the buds better than pure water and thus increases the chance of keeping the poison where it will do the most good. This treatment may not effect the entire destruction of this pest, but I am confident it will greatly reduce its ravages. And we must remember that once the worm is inside the bud, he is beyond the reach of sprays of any kind.

For the past two years Nova Scotia has been blessed with an abundant apple crop, while the world's crop has been light and the result has been high prices for our fruit and "no questions asked." We cannot hope for this to continue indefinitely, but must be prepared the coming season to compete with at least an average crop from the other apple-growing districts. And the best way to prepare for this is to produce the best of fruit. The best fruit grown in Nova Scotia to-day can successfully compete with that grown in any other section, and what we must do is to make it all as good as the best. Growers can do this if they will make a united effort for better practices all through the season and nothing will help more to accomplish this object than through spraying. Will you do it?

An English paper says that Lord Roberts, in giving Rudyard Kipling a pass through all military lines, discharged a private, as well as a public, obligation. Probably any General would have signed that order in favor of Mr. Kipling, but "Bobs," in particular, must have felt a personal gratification in signing it for his own laureate.

Mr. Tim Healy raised a curious point in the House of Commons the other day. In the preamble of a money bill the ancient formula states that the supplies are cheerfully voted to Her Majesty. Mr. Healy moved to omit the word "cheerfully," as there was no cheer in his heart at voting Irish money to kill Dutch. The chairman ruled that the alteration was out of order, as the ancient formula could not be amended. In a subsequent division on the bill, Mr. Healy only took nine other members into the lobby with him, so that it is clear that a large majority of the members thought the ancient formula correctly represented their sentiments.

BRAIN FAG

Is the result of Overwork and an Exhausted Nervous System. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates New Brain and Nerve Tissue.

Business and professional men, accountants, stenographers, teachers, students and all brain workers know only too well what it means to have the brain so tired out that concentration of thought is almost impossible.

One-fifth of all the blood in the human body is found in the brain, and unless the blood is pure and rich the brain becomes exhausted for want of proper nourishment.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates new brain and nerve tissue, and produces rich red blood, "the vital fluid" of the body.

All brain workers quickly recognize the merits of this great food cure, and after a few doses enter on their work with new energy and ambition.

Brain fag is unknown to persons whose brain and nerve have been invigorated by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, which is for sale by all dealers at 50c. a box.
