THE DAILY EXAMINER.

SEPTEMBER 21, 1893.

SIR A. T. GALT.

Sir A. T. Gatt, whose death at Montreal is reported, was one of the fathers of the Canadian Confederation, — one of the statesmen of his generation. He was an authority in respect to finance, and he rendered Canada good service upon the Fishery commission at Halifax, and in the office of High Commissioner at London. In recent years he has done much towards the development of the coal areas of the Northwest.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND IN CANADA.

A union and consolidation of the Church of England in Canada has been consummated. The idea has been considered and discussed during several years past. It was first formally approved by the Provincial Synod assembled at Montreal. Afterwards a meeting of delegates was held in the city of Winnipeg. At this meeting a constitution was proposed. This constitution was subsequently laid before the Diocesan Synods throughout Canada. By most of these it was approved, though some amended it and one or two declined it. The Provincial Synod again considered the whole matter at the meeting of last year. And now, the General Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada, embracing every part of British North America, is in session at Toronto. The General Synod has been divided into two houses—the House of Bishops and the House of the Delegates of the Clergy and Laity. Latest despatches report that Bishop Machray, of Rupert's Land, has been elected Primate of Canada. It has been recommended, too, that the Metropolitan of each Province be designated Archbishop of his see. If this suggestion be adopted Canada will, ere long, have three Archbishops of the Anglican Church.

The general synod is made up of all the Bishops in Canada, and of clerical and lay delegates chosen by the several diocesan synods. Dioceses having fewer than twenty-five licensed clergymen have the right to send one delegate from each order; dioceses having twenty-five and fewer than fifty licensed clergymen, two of each order; dioceses having fifty and fewer than one hundred, three of each order; dioceses having one hundred licensed clergymen and upwards, four of each order. The General Synod, so constituted, has power to deal with all matters in any way affecting the general interests and well-being of the Church within its jurisdiction. But is is provided that no canons or resolutions of a coercive character, or involving penalties or disabilities, shall be operative in any ecclesiastical province, or in any diocese not included in an ecclesiastical province, until accepted by the Synod of such province or diocese, and that the jurisdiction of the General Synod shall not withdraw from the Provincial Synod the right of passing upon any subject falling within its jurisdiction. Among the subjects to be dealt with by the General Synod are (a) matters of doctrine, worship and discipline; (b) all agencies employed in the carrying on of the general work of the church; (c) the general missionary and educational work of the church; (d) the adjustment, with consent of the dioceses, of the relations between dioceses in respect to Clergy, Widows' and Orphans' and Superannuation Funds; (e) Regulations effecting the transfer of clergy from one diocese to another; (f) education and training of candidates for holy orders; (g) constitution and powers of an appellate tribunal; (h) the erection, division or rearrangement of provinces, with the consent of any existing provinces affected.

This is a wide range of subjects, and a great deal of wisdom will be needed in the exercise of the powers which have been conferred upon the General Synod. The best men of the Church must, necessarily, be selected as delegates. This being done, the Church of England in Canada, will, without doubt, be greatly strengthened by the constitution of a General Synod.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Halifax Chronicle says: "The proof of what the Liberal party will do in the Dominion is to note what they have done in the Provinces in which they have power." Well, they have done badly enough in the Provinces. Quebec and Nova Scotia, at least, are not soon likely to forget the reign of Mercier and Fielding. The results in the Provinces ought to be a warning against admitting them to power in respect to the Dominion.

—The Portage Review says of the recent Brandon election that it was the keenest ever witnessed in Western Manitoba and by long odds the most corrupt. Upon which the Montreal Gazette remarks that the latter fact would go a long way in accounting for Mr. Greenway winning it. There is a tremendous list of cases in the records of the Canadian courts which show that Liberals are strong in winning corrupt elections.

—Montreal Gazette: Mr. McCarthy, in a published interview is reported as saying that his party was still in the field in opposition to the Government, and that he still adhered to his old principles. These old principles, as set forth in his Stayner speech and subsequent letters, are that Sir John Thompson had no business to form a Government without consulting the member for North Simcoe. They affect principally, if not solely, Mr. Dalton McCarthy.

GENERAL NEWS.

Thirty-eight dollers and a half per head is the average price paid for 5,000 to 6,000 head of cattle bought in Southern Alberta by Messrs. Gordon & Ironsides, of Manitoba. Some ranchers think this too low and are holding for higher figures. The Calgary Herald hears that Mr. Ironsides would buy some 5,000 head more this fall if the ranchers will make prices to suit.

The cranberry harvest is now in course of progress at Cape Cod, Mass. The pickers, to the number of several thousand, have assembled in the bog country, and consist of men, women and children. The usual demands for higher wages being made, but as the Cape Cod cranberry growers have a strong association the demands will probably be fruitless. The crop this year promises to be much the largest of any previous year, estimates varying from 150,000 to 175,000 barrels as against about 125,000 barrels last year.

An Ontario provincial minister spoke the other day of Mr Laurier as a young man who gave promise of a useful career. Mr. Laurier is certainly not an old man but as the St. John Sun remarks he is old enough to have acquired a set of political opinions. He is three years older than the premier of Canada, six years older than the finance minister and fourteen years older than Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. Mr. Laurier is two years the senior of Sir Adolph Caron, seven years older than the minister of public works and eleven years older than the minister of the interior.

KING'S COUNTY EXHIBITION.

Unfavorable Weather — But Fairly Large Attendance.

Splendid Products of the County on Exhibition.

(Special by telephone to The Examiner.)

Georgetown, Sept. 21.

King's County Exhibition, 1893, was opened at 12 o'clock to-day, the Hon. Daniel Gordon, President of the Exhibition Company introducing the Premier, who declared the exhibition open. Among the visitors were Senator McDonald, John McLean, Esq., M. P., Souris, Dr. J. T. Jenkins, Hon. J. R. McLean, R. Hunt, C. C. Gardner, Hon. D. Laird, James Currie, Cyrus Shaw, F. Morrow, Dr. Creamer, of New York, and P. McCourt, of the Watchman.

The attendance altogether was good, considering the unfavorable weather. In the Drill Shed the exhibition was not so good as in former years, but many of the samples shown were of superior quality. There were over eight hundred entries, and all the prize list was taken up, except two second prize tickets.

The show of fancy and woolen goods was not so large as that of last year, but the articles displayed showed excellent taste on the part of the ladies of King's County. Mr. D. McKinnon, of Montague Bridge, has a fine exhibit of furniture, and there is a good exhibit of K. D. C.

The show of butter is small and rather disappointing for a county which takes so much interest in dairying.

There cheese factories are exhibiting, and Mr. T. J. Dillon, who acted as judge in this class, was unable to decide whether that of New Perth or Murray Harbor North was best. That of the Sailors' Hope Cheese Factory was also very fine.

There is a splendid exhibit of flowers, the exhibition being held so early.

In roots and vegetables, though not quite so extensive as last year, the samples shown are highly creditable. Especially so are the enormous squashes of Mr. J. Robertson, of Inkerman Farm, and Mr. William Hobbs, of Georgetown.

A goodly number of samples of potatoes were shown. The turnips on exhibition were not large, but fully up to the average in size and quality.

Of horses there were a larger number of entries than ever before in a King's County Exhibition and the quality of the animals was highly commended by good judges from Queen's and Prince Counties.

As usual, Mr. Bovyer, of Georgetown Royalty, has a large number of entries of cattle and sheep. But many other farmers from Lower Montague, Murray Harbor, New Perth and Dundas, have also creditable exhibits.

The show of fish is small.

Mr. G. F. Owen, Secretary, and his efficient assistants, Messrs. Andrew Lavers and H. W. Wickwire, are entitled to The Examiner's thanks for courtesies extended.

MADE A BIG HAUL.

Road Robbery at the Little Johney Mine near Leadville, Col.

(Special Despatch to the Boston Herald.)

Leadville, Col., Sept. 18.—One of the most daring robberies ever perpetrated in the camp occurred about three o'clock this morning, at the Little Johnny Mine, about four miles from this place. The men who committed the crime had carefully laid their plans. The telephone wires leading to the Little Johnny and Midnight Mines, were both cut by the robbers, so that communication with the city was impossible. The night watchman, John Warren, was called to the door and overpowered by two masked men who were shortly joined by two more masked companions. Warren was bound with the cut telephone wires and removed some 30 yards away, where one of the robbers stood guard over him. Three of the fellows then returned to the shaft house and broke open the store room door and carried 20 sacks of rich gold mineral and placed them on a waggon near at hand. Their booty they estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000 a ton. The 20 sacks weighed from 1,800 to 2,000 pounds.

After securing their plunder, the robbers left the man, taking the guard with them about two miles, when they released him.

The alarm was soon given by Warren, but the intruders had disappeared, and up to this evening had not been captured. John Campion, manager of the mine, although unable to state the value of the stuff stolen, declares that the robbers are not correct in the estimate of their booty. Mr. Campion, it is unnecessary to state, is well known here.

BONSHAW NOTES.

Our industrious farmers have long since finished harvesting. The crop has been unexpectedly good, considering the summer's drouth. It will, no doubt, make amends for the shortage of hay. The potatoe is expected to be fairly good. The bug put in a bold appearance early in the season, but was met at every point by men, armed, not with swords, but with sprinkling-cans—far better weapons.

One of our prominent residents, Charles A. Campbell, of Viewfield, left some time since for Truro to claim "the blushing bride." After the knot was tied the happy pair started on a wedding tour to the United States. We join in congratulations.

The genial miller, Heath E. Crosby, of Bonshaw Mills, is on a visit to the World's Fair. We hope the trip will prove enjoyable.

Our merchants, J. A. Robertson and S. Beaton, are doing a rushing business.

J. Beecher Crosby has his handsome mansion almost completed. It will add much to the beauty of the scenery.

The Baptist Church here is also almost completed. It is not only beautiful, but substantial and attests much to the skill of the contractors, Messrs. Locke and McPhail.

Though our churches are pastorless, meetings are held very regularly, there being four meetings during the week.

Mr. Holmes, a home missionary, preached here some time since. He is a very fluent speaker, and his sermon was very pithy.

Many of our young people who live with Uncle Sam, have been home for the summer, but are now returning.

The school is in a flourishing condition under the management of Mr. James McNeill.

The young ladies who tried the last entrance examination, but failed, do not intend to give up, but to try again. Another of the pupils intends to try the next examination. We hope they will be as successful as they deserve.

Our public hall is rapidly approaching completion. The magnitude of the work evidently does not discourage the contractor, Mr. Donald Stewart.

The state of the public roads is disgraceful, a fitting emblem of the Liberal Government, disgraceful all through. Several carriages have been broken while passing over a certain bridge on West River road, which is in an unfinished condition, and has been so for over six months.

Mr. John Currie, who has for many years made his home in the far West, is expected soon to visit his native country.

LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA.

Dear Examiner—Believing that a letter from the Far West would be interesting to many of your readers, I take the liberty of addressing one to you.

California and particularly San Franscisco, is at present the home of thousands of unemployed, who see very little in the coming winter for them but cold and hunger. This state of affairs is caused principally by the finincials depression that has settled down upon this country, and by the overplus of laborers who flock to the cities in search of work as the winter approaches. The "agitator" is now busy, and procession through the principal street of the western metropolis are of frequent occurence. To accomodate the large number who congregate on the Governments sand lot, on Seventh and Mission streets an additional camp has been erected, and since that time the sleeping quarters are less crowded than heretofore. Many have obtained employment on the mid winter Fair building at Golden Gate Park, others have been engaged by the Southern Pacific Company at one dollar per day and board, while a few have succeeded in securing situations through employment agencies; but there are yet many unable to obtain employment of any kind, and must content themselves, for a time at least, with the two free meals a day and a place to sleep at night, furnished by the city.

One of the youngest and grandest organizations of this country is the Young Men's Institute, a Catholic fraternal society that hadits inception in San Francisco, ten years ago. Its growth has been almost phenomenal. From a handful of young men attending the Sunday School Society of St. Joseph's Church, it has grown until now it has over 10,000 members, distributed throughout the United States and Canada. The Pacific jurisdiction includes California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Montana and British Columbia and numbers among its members some of the brightest intellects on the Coast. Faith, fatherland and fraternity are the principles upon which is reared the superstructure of the Young Men's Institute, and upon its banners are inscribed the legend; Pro Deo, Pro Patria, For God and For Country.

The ninth grand council convened at the city of Marysville, Cal., on September 4th to 7th, and was attended by one hundred and fifty delegates, representing nearly eighty institutes from along the shores of the broad Pacific Ocean. Representatives from the sunny south, the land of the orange and the lemon—Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, and from the coal fields of far-off British Columbia as well as those from a lesser distance, assembled on that occasion to legislate for the common good of the Y. M. I.

The presence of His Lordship Bishop Manogue, of Sacramento, Hon. John J. McDade, High Sheriff of San Francisco, founder of the order, and about fifteen priests, during the deliberation of the Grand Council, added much to its success. Nor was Prince Edward Island unrepresented. No less than seven sons of that fair province had the honor of being elected to represent the respective councils of which they were members, and of being entitled to seats in the Grand Council. Your readers, and especially those in King's County, will remember the names of Rev. W. D. McKinnon, formerly of Melrose, now of Rio Vesta, Cal.; B. D. McDonald, Orwell, now of Eureka, Cal.; D. McDougall, Victoria, B. C.; R. C. McDonald, New Westminster, B. C.; Ronald McNeil, Nanaimo, B. C.; P. C. McCormick, Fairhaven, Wash., and M. A. McInnis, of Summerside, now of Oakland, Cal.

The election of Grand Officers was keenly contested, and the highest in the gift of the Grand Council conferred upon one of California's gifted sons—Hon. Frank J. Murasky, M. A. McInnis was elected a member of the board of eleven Grand Directors, for which twenty candidates were nominated.

At the banquet tendered the delegates on the last evening of the Convention, some eloquent speeches were made in response to the several toasts, but none was more heartily received than that of Pope Leo XIII, responded to by Father McKinnon. When he had finished, the large assemblage rose to their feet and cheered loud and long. He is a polished orator and an honor to his native Province.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Sir,—The question of the political rights of women is becoming a live issue in American politics. The strongest ground upon which equal suffrage can be defended is that of justice. Women are citizens, interested in the administration of the government, affected by its laws, injured by oppression and wrong, and it is not just to deny them the right to express their opinion by means of the ballot. If all governments derive their just rights from the consent of the governed, then a government is unjust in so far as it withholds from women the right to express their assent or dissent in respect to the enactment of laws. Women ought to have an equal chance with men in all trades and professions, and in all matters pertaining to government. The history of the oppression of women is the testimony of the centuries to the barbarity of men, and now the opposition to giving women the right to vote looks like a sort of cowardice—as though men were afraid of the competition of women in public affairs. Hand in hand with the suffrage question comes the great labor question, and the laboring man has done more for the elevation of woman than any other class of the people. They have not only opened their workshops but they have shared their wages with us, and we need your help to-day to lift our cause still higher. I have met with women in this United States who kept the table going by finishing shirts at 25 cents per dozen, and these poor wage-earners, for all the rights the government allows them, can raise neither voice nor hand in their own behalf. I noticed one week in a New York paper, the probating of Jay Gould's will, and in the next column the suicide of a young man who, for three months had been unable to obtain work. On another page was an account of Queen Victoria's drawing room, attended by swell American ladies bedecked and bejewelled, while that very night a wretched tenement house owned by one of these women, collapsed, and a whole family was wiped out of existence.

These are but straws, but the day is fast approaching when there will be no extremely rich nor yet so very poor people. Take, for instance, in this country, where there are 4,000,000 working women, and think what a great deal more would be accomplished with their aid at the polls. The Supreme Court declares women to be citizens, yet the Government considers her by far inferior to men by not granting her suffrages, while in districts, men who were blind, halt and maimed, were driven or brought to the polling booth, many of whom can only make their mark while intelligent, educated women, were forbidden by the statues of of the nation. One great objection raised, I know, is that they are not capable, from an intellectual point of view; but whatever science teaches concerning the mental capacity of men and women there can be no question that women are not so deficient that it would be unwise to allow them to vote. All men who vote are not Solons. But if women are to be excluded on the ground of supposed mental weakness, then justice demands that political rights should be apportioned among men according to their mental strength, the wise man having greater power or rights than the man of less intellect.

Women as human beings and as citizens ought to have the right to express their opinion concerning what should be done in its government, and the day is not far hence when women will take their place at the polling booth—and the right of women to vote be extended to both sexes alike.

Father and Baby.

A Montreal lady writing to the Wells & Richardson Co says: "You have two preparations which commend themselves to the public of Canada: I refer to Paine's Celery Compound and Lactate Food. The former saved my husband, and the latter saved my baby of six months. My husband had suffered from dyspepsia and nervousness for three years, and spent large sums of money with physicians and their medicines without getting cured. This summer my baby was almost dying from summer complaint. I heard of Lactated Food and used it with wonderful success. My dear baby has perfectly recovered, and is in splendid condition. I strongly and heartily endorse both the Paine's Celery Compound and Lactated Food.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

"Shorter" Pastry and "Shorter" Bills.

We are talking about a "shortening" which will not cause indigestion. Those who "know a thing or two" about Cooking (Marion Harland among a host of others) are using instead of lard. Not but the purest, healthiest and cleanest ingredients go to make up Cottolene. Lard isn't healthy, and is not always clean. Those who use Cottolene will be healthier and wealthier than those who use lard—Healthier because they will get "shorter" bread; wealthier because they will get "shorter" grocery bills—for Cottolene costs no more than lard and goes twice as far—so is but half as expensive.

Halifax, Nova Scotia,

The Lessee takes great pleasure in announcing that the rates are:

Upper Floors, two in room, $1.50 per day.
Single Rooms, $1.75, $2.00 and $2.50 per day, according to location.

This great reduction in rates will not in any way impair the present efficiency of the Hotel either as regards the service or cuisine. A single trial will convince any one of the fact.

A. B. SHERATON,

TO-DAY the first annual Tournament of the Chicago Fly Casting Club takes place at the Walton House, on the North Lagoon in Jackson Park. The events arranged for the contests are of two classes, expert and amateur, The first is open to all. All casting shall be single handed, and rods over eleven feet long are barred. Only single gut leaders nine feet long or less are allowed.

We do not confine ourselves to one single leader. We have many leaders, and don't you forget it. They are bonanzas. Our range in the different lines is most complete, and would repay anyone whose business would allow the time to spend an hour with us viewing our splendid stock, which we are exhibiting ihis fall. Wa don't want to bore the public, but you must and shall be told that we can do better for you than anyone in our line in the city. You don't believe it? Have you been in to see? Perchance you may be amongst the few who reserved your order until later on, to see if you can do better. FACTS SPEAK! Our order book is evidence that no one can do as well as "The Star Tailor." You don't care to know how we do it. If we choose to work gratuitously all our life, all the better for you. Save your money, you may need it to buy something at "The Star Tailor's.
