MRS. WILLIAM MacKENZIE

The death of Margaret Anna Affleck, beloved wife of William MacKenzie occurred at the Prince Edward Hospital on Sunday, August 20, 1939.

Mrs. MacKenzie was not enjoying good health for the past months and entered the hospital on July 19 for treatment. On July 24 she underwent a serious operation and her condition gradually weakened and she passed away on the above mentioned date.

She was born sixty years ago at Cherry Hill, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Affleck where she resided until her marriage when she with her husband took up residence at St. Andrew's, later moving to Mt. Stewart where she lived until her death.

The late Mrs. MacKenzie was of a bright and happy disposition and proved herself to be an admirable Mother, a true wife and Christian citizen.

There are left to mourn besides her sorrowing husband two daughters, Marion, Mrs. Arthur MacLauchlan, Head of Hillsborough; Ruth, Mrs. Douglas Coffin of Charlottetown, and the following sisters and brothers, Jennie, Mrs. Garland of Revere, Mass.; Joseph of Lawrence, Mass.; Alfred of Charlottetown; Robert of Fort Worth, Florida; Miss Elizabeth of Malden, Mass.; Priscilla, Mrs. Frederick Jardine of Head of Hillsborough.

After a brief service at the home where the hymn, "Abide With Me" was sung and prayer by Rev. John Sterling the regular funeral service was held at the United Church, Mt. Stewart and was very largely attended. In the absence of the Pastor Rev. S. J. Joyce these services were conducted by Rev. John Sterling of the United Church, Georgetown, assisted by Rev. John McDonald of the Presbyterian Church, Mt. Stewart and also conducted the service at the grave.

A favorite hymn of the deceased "When the Saints Have Rolled in" was effectively rendered by the members of the United and Presbyterian Churches. The hymns were: "The Lord's My Shepherd", "The Sands of Time are Sinking", "Nearer My God to Thee".

The funeral tributes were beautiful. The following acted as pall bearers: Messrs John A. McAulay, L. L. McDonald, William Douglas and W. L. McLeod.

Interment was made in the Peoples Cemetery, Mt. Stewart.

Card Of Thanks

Mr. William MacKenzie and family wish to thank the Nurses and Doctors of the F. Island Hospital, neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness to them during the illness and death of their beloved wife and mother. Also those who sent messages and cards of sympathy.

Teachers' Convention At Charlottetown

The annual meeting of the local teachers' convention was held at Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown on September 7th. The meeting was brought to order by the President, Mr. D. J. MacArthur.

The Secretary, Miss Georgie Harper, read the minutes of last year's meeting and these were approved as read. The following committees were then appointed: President, Miss Dorothy Toombs and Miss Gladys MacCordle.

Resolutions - Messrs Angus Gilmore and Gordon Rice, Miss Marjorie Lowther.

Nominations - Mr. Millar MacFadyen, Misses Elizabeth MacKay and Mary MacLennan.

Question-box - Mr. Athol Roberts, Miss Edith MacEwen.

The president in the course of his remarks told us that a committee had interviewed the government about injustices to teachers chiefly re teachers' salaries and he said that the members of our profession may look forward to a revision of the School Act in 1940. Mr. MacArthur stressed 100% activity membership in the Teachers' Federation and asked all of help attain a high standard.

Supervisor MacPhail made some remarks concerning School Fairs.

As usual, Mr. MacPhail saw there was a lot of work which no meeting had received and he urged the teachers of those schools to investigate this matter. He then distributed and explained the new Nature Study Course.

Supervisor Woolner mentioned substitute policy for School Fairs namely, a School Field Day which in all probability would be held on the thirtieth of June in the afternoon of the program, namely, the advisability of appointing a General Secretary in the Prince Edward Island Teachers' Federation. It was moved and seconded that this meeting go on record as favoring the appointment of a General Secretary. This motion was unanimously carried.

The question-box queries were answered by the Superintendent and Supervisors. The following resolutions were brought in by the Resolutions committee and adopted by the meeting:

1. Be it resolved that the thanks of this convention be extended to the teachers the Inspectors, the Superintendent and all those who helped to make this convention a success.
2. Whereas the teachers assembled at the annual convention held in April constitute too unwieldy a body for the individual teacher to get any good results and whereas as the present world crisis will this year probably make great difference in interests in the manner of living, be it resolved that this convention recommend to the Executive that they consider remodelling the coming convention with a view to overcoming these difficulties.
3. Be it resolved that this convention go on record as favoring the larger unit of administration as suggested by Mr. Woolner and at previous conventions, and that the incoming executive be empowered to take active steps in co-operating with the Supervisors and Government in bringing about something definite and concrete during the next year.
4. Whereas the School Fairs of the past have outlined their usefulness and are now practically a dead issue, be it resolved that this convention go on record as favoring the School Field Day as outlined this morning, and that such be held in place of the annual examination.
5. Whereas this convention was informed that the School Act is to be revised in 1940, and whereas such changes will effect the teaching body as a whole, be it resolved that the executive take active steps towards selecting a committee of teachers to co-operate with the government in suggesting such changes as might be made.

Dr. H. H. Shaw spoke on changes in the Course of Study, particularly with regard to Reader and History.

The report of the nominations committee was given and the following officers were appointed for the ensuing year:

President: Mr. D. J. MacArthur (re-elected), Vice-President: Mr. Athol Roberts, Secretary: Miss Mildred Auld.

The meeting was then adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION

At 1:30 the meeting re-convened and the minutes of the morning session were read and adopted.

Miss Agnes Clements gave a brief outline of devices to teach Reading to all learning nations impartially. Mr. Roosevelt put the arms ban into effect by proclamation on Tuesday, in addition to its repeal he wants legislation requiring that belligerents pay cash for their purchases here and take title to them before they are shipped.

In actual effect, all agree, such a system would throw United States markets wide open to Great Britain and her allies, almost exclusively. The British fleet, already blockading Germany, would, it is predicted, see to it that the Reich made few if any purchases here.

Roosevelt Seeks Revamping Of Neutrality Act

By Richard L. Turry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt has been sounding out congressional leaders of both parties on the possibility of calling the United States Congress into special session to revamp the Neutrality Act, but the White House said today that no decision had been reached.

Although opposed to the embargo on the ground that true neutrality involves opening American markets to all warring nations impartially, Mr. Roosevelt put the arms ban into effect by proclamation on Tuesday, in addition to its repeal he wants legislation requiring that belligerents pay cash for their purchases here and take title to them before they are shipped.

In actual effect, all agree, such a system would throw United States markets wide open to Great Britain and her allies, almost exclusively. The British fleet, already blockading Germany, would, it is predicted, see to it that the Reich made few if any purchases here.

CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPERS THE BACKBONE OF BOVRIL ADVERTISING!

A quality product, plus continuous advertising over a period of fifty years, have made Bovril a household word throughout Canada and, in fact, the World. Here is what Mr. W. J. King, Vice-President, Bovril (Canada) Limited says about advertising:

"We say without hesitation that the daily newspaper has been and still is the backbone and mainstay of all Bovril advertising campaigns."

"In our opinion, the daily newspaper provides the best medium for telling the consumer not only about our name and trademark but also the reasons why Bovril is good for people and the many ways in which it can be used."

"For these reasons we consider the daily newspaper practically indispensable; in fact, we would not consider any campaign complete unless the daily newspaper formed the major part of it."

This conclusion is shared by many other successful national advertisers of long and wide experience who find that for building sales through advertising, nothing takes the place of the daily newspaper.

Good-Bye Hipp! Embattled Hall Has Passed Out

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (CP)—Oldtimers along Sixth Avenue saloons drop a tear in their beers as the wreckers haul the Hippodrome away from the Hippodrome a day when whiskey sours were two for a quarter and the Hippodrome "THE PLACE."

The razing of the Hipp merely puts the final seal on its demise. In reality, the Hippodrome that was dealt the cruelest blow. Or perhaps it was a "must" as far back as 1923, when, with its conversion into a vaudeville house, decline set in.

The night of April 12, 1905, when the Hippodrome opened its doors, has been an indelible memory for the hundreds of persons who paid from $2 to $20 for the initial performance of the big show and for the hundreds milling around outside the police mob lines.

All the socially elite attended -- Stanford White, Vanderbilts, Whitneys, Chances, Depews and a representation of the proletariat were on hand when the curtain of the largest theater in the world rang up on a gigantic spectacle called "A Yankee Circus on Mars."

Livid attendants were on every hand, ushering the crowd through the foyer, in which there was a real hundred "Marsians" paraded in the course of the four-hour revue. The orchestra was said to be the largest noisiest, if not the best, New York had ever seen.

Here Was Action

But it was the second portion on which really set the audience back on its heels. After it was over the largest audience ever to fill a New York theater went out into Sixth Avenue still pop-eyed.

The Hippodrome was built by Frederick Thompson and Elmer Dundy who had staged the famous "Trip to the Moon" at the Buffalo Exposition in 1901. Construction ran up to $2,000,000 but it was an immediate financial success. One of the backers was John (Bet-A-Million) Gates.

Thompson and Dundy lost control of "the Hipp" within a year, however, and it was taken over by Lee and J. J. Shubert and it was under the management of these renowned impresarios it achieved its great fame.

One of the most spectacular presentations under the Shubert regime took place in 1911 when a completely rigged British frigate was floated in the Hippodrome tank as the background for an elaborate production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore."

War Casually

Somewhat or other "the Hipp" was never the same after the war. Perhaps it was the pseudo-sophistication of the jazz and gin age which dealt the cruelest blow. Or perhaps the spectacle of the great conflict in Europe had overshadowed any mere stage fantasy.

The Hippodrome was taken over by B. F. Keith and converted into a two-a-day vaudeville house. When the last curtain fell on "Boiler Times" on April 29, 1923, an era in entertainment had come to an end. In 1923 there was a brief resurgence when popular-price opera was introduced. After another season opera lapsed and Billy Rose moved in with his giant agglomerate "Jumbo" which strove to recapture the Hippodrome's glory and did achieve a minor spiritual if not financial triumph.

When "Jumbo" closed in 1936 Mike Jacobs converted the Hippodrome into a sport arena. Joe Louis fought there in the only fight which drew a capacity crowd. In the final days the Hipp was just a sounding box for Uncle Mike's sock saloon outfit.

The first Kensington Girl Guides opened their season's activities with a corn roast on Monday night. Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Tuplin the gas saw mill, a stone fireplace was quickly built and a huge fire was lit. As the flames leapt high into the dark sky camp-fire songs were sung. Later the corn was cooked, some boiled and some roasted. The roasted being voted the more delicious. As their hostesses left the party the girls gave three hearty cheers for the National Anthem and then ended a most happy evening.
