CHEAP AND SAFE LIGHT!
NEWELL'S PATENT
Safety Lamp & Lamp Feeder
WARRANTED to prevent all accidents from the use of BURNING FLUID, PATENT OIL, ROBIN OIL, CAMPHENE,
And all other explosive compounds used for production of light.
THIS INVENTION is applied to common Fluid, Solar and Camphene Lamps, Lamp Feeders, Fluid-Holders, Lanterns, &c. &c.
We respectfully invite the attention of the public to NEWELL'S IMPROVED SOLAR FLUID LAMP, which gives a steady, brilliant flame nearest to Gas that has ever been produced. The cost of burning being only ONE CENT AN HOUR! All lamps are put up and prepared for Churches, Hotels, Factories, Stores and parlors. Oil Solar can be altered, using any safe fluid. Common Fluid Lamps can be changed to any safe Fluid Lamp.

PORTER'S Patent Burning Fluid and Camphene,
As cheap and good as can be bought in the market. Also, Stokers, Glass, Glass, Glass, Entry Hall Lanterns, Fluid Chandeliers, &c.
For Sale, Wholesale & Retail, by
Newell, Willard & Co.,
No. 28 Bromfield Street, Boston.

N. B.—A large declaration will be made from the former prices of NEWELL'S LAMPS, &c.
The following certificates are a sufficient guarantee of the entire safety and efficiency of the Safety Lamp.
We have had an opportunity to test the Patent Safety Lamp and Lamp Feeder of Mr. John Newell, of this city, in regard to the measure of protection their construction affords. In the trials to which we subjected them, we endeavored, without effect, to produce explosions in the vapor of the fluid mixed with air, and to burst them by the pressure of the vapor alone. The principle adopted by Mr. Newell in this city is regarded to be the most perfect of any combined parts, that we are satisfied that all risk of explosion is entirely removed.
In witness whereof, we have signed these certificates, at the City of AUG. A. HAYES, M. D.,
Assayer to the State of Massachusetts.

Nov. 20, 1852.
Mr. John Newell, of Boston, has exhibited to me a Lamp, and also containing vessels, furnished with wire gauze protectors, upon the principle of Davy's Safety Lamp, and also containing vessels, furnished with instruments before me with inflammable fluids, and in both, when set on fire, the flame was arrested by the wire gauze protectors, and the flames extinguished. The instruments are faithfully constructed, and carefully attended to, so that the wire gauze does not suffer in any manner from the heat of the flame, and in opinion on that the protection will prove efficient against any explosion. Nothing short of this conviction would induce me to give my certificate, and my opinion is confirmed by the fact that the instruments are constructed by ignorance and carelessness. In every case, glass lamps should be given up; and those of metal substituted, on account of the danger of explosion.
B. SILLMAN, Senior.
New Haven, Oct. 16, 1853.
I have examined Newell's Safety Lamp and Lamp Feeder. They are constructed upon strictly philosophical principles, having a safe & sufficient cover, and a sufficient margin of safety. If well made, they cannot fail to insure protection against those dangerous explosions to which the vapors of burning fluid are so liable, when mixed with air. Their general introduction, I have no doubt, would prevent many distressing and fatal accidents.
