A Cambridge Woman's Mistake.

HER HUSBAND DESERTS HER AFTER TWO DAYS OF WEDDED LIFE.

A strange story of an unhappy marriage is told of a woman who lives in Cambribge, Mass. The story is in brief that the lady in question went to Littleton, N. H., for the summer, and there met a man who said he was a doctor. A gray-haired woman who was with him was introduced as his sister, a widow and an invalid, who was traveling in search of health. The Cambridge woman, whose age was 45 years, just the age of the doctor, was wooed and won by that individual. He proposed a speedy match, but she did not favor that, because when she stopped to think of it she remember how little she knew of the doctor's history. He was dignfied, handsome, and smooth talking, and told a sad story of his sister's suffering. He said he was an Australian and was immensely rich. The lady wanted the marriage postponed a year but the doctor protested. When she returned to Cambridge about Sept. 1st the doctor and his supposed sister came with her. Soon he induced her to draw $6,000 of her money from the bank, and he himself secured a part of it. Then he finally induced her to marry him, the sister having something to do with the case, and the couple and the sister went to Saratoga for the honeymoon. On Thursday last the sister went off ostensibly to see some friends, and an hour or so later a message came with word that she had been taken ill and wanted the doctor to come to her. He went off taking his wife's money and clothes, kissing her good-bye and promising to meet her in Boston. Since then his wife has not seen either the doctor the sister. She saw she had been duped, and, settled her hotel bill came back to Cambridge $6,000 out of pocket. It is not believed that the man gave his right name or that the woman is his sister. They have been heard from in Montreal. The police are investigating the case. Boston Post.

The Red Lines.

A visitor who has lately been staying at Bad Ems tells a characteristic story of the German Emperor. A great packet of journals arrives every day for the Emperor's reading. In order to make the reading as little burdensome as possible, a high court official is charged with the duty of looking through the entire heap of newspapers and marking with red ink the passages which the Kaiser's private secretary is to read aloud to his august master. The Emperor one day took up one of the journals, and asked the meaning of the red lines with which it was profusely scored. Upon the secretary explaining the significance of these red strokes, the venerable monarch said with a hearty laugh: "Then, my dear fellow, let me beg you, for once in a way, to read me everything in this journal which has not a red line underneath it."

Consumption Can be Cured.

Not by any secret remedy, but by proper healthful exercise, and the judicious use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites, containing the healing and strength-giving virtues of these two valuable specifics in their fullest form. Prescribed universally by physicians. Take no other.

Impudence may win in a trial heat, but when the bona fide race is run ability is pretty certain to pocket the gate money.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quite sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winsloe's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. feb4 eod wk

A small Lake Michigan steamer, the Gracie Barker, is reported lost with one hundred persons aboard.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most powerful restorative tonic, combines the most valuable nervine properties; especially adapted to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion; inflammation or aloeration, or from nervousness or neuralgic pains.
