ISLAND LADY DEAD. — The death of Mrs. Patrick Brophy occurred at the Boston City Hospital, on May 29th, after a short illness of blood poison. Mrs. Brophy was formerly Miss Katie Greenan, daughter of Mr. James Greenan, P.E.I. For a number of years she was a resident of Hyde Park. Only last summer she and her husband visited the Island, spending several weeks at her old home, looking the picture of health. Her funeral was held Thursday morning from her residence, 44 Water Street, at 8 o'clock, with a requiem high mass in the Church of the Most Precious Blood at 9 o'clock. May her soul rest in peace.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY. — A very pleasant time was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. White, South Milton, on Monday evening, May 1, the occasion being the celebration of their son Howard's twenty-first birthday. Music and dancing occupied the first part of the evening. Promptly at 12 o'clock the guests were summoned to the spacious dining-room where all sat down to a bountiful repast prepared by the hostess and her amiable daughters. After doing full justice to the good things provided for the inner man, dancing was again resumed and kept up until the first streaks of dawn were visible on the eastern horizon, when all repaired to their respective homes, after agreeing it was the best time ever, and hoping for another birthday party in the near future. The music was furnished by Messrs. Edward White and Redvers and Frederick Stewart.

MISS ELIZABETH McLAREN.

On Friday, April 21st, there passed her hands, a Presbyterian in religion, which is fairer than any, the soul of Elizabeth McLaren, an old and respected resident of Montague. Born in Brudenell on April 26, 1841 she was almost 81 years of age. Skilled in the art of needlework, she conducted a dress-making establishment in Montague for upwards of thirty years, employing at a time a dozen apprentices, and many a woman of today has made of herself a desired housewife, as a result of the training received at her hands. A Presbyterian in religion, she was a consistent member of that organization. Two brothers, Duncan in Cardigan, Josiah in the United States, and one sister, Mrs. Alexander McLaren, of East Boston, are left to cherish her memory. She was buried in the cemetery at Brudenell. Services were conducted by the Rev. J. D. McKenzie, assisted by the Rev. D. McVicar, of Cardigan. Thus another stone carved on earth has been taken to be placed in the temple on high by the Master Builder Himself.

MISS JULIA BURKE

HECTOR ROSS.

Seldom has death caused such profound sorrow and genuine sympathy as when the angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ross of Eton, and removed from their happy family circle their dearly beloved son, Hector, after an illness of three months, at the early age of 14 years, 9 months. Everything that was possible to do was done to retain him through the aid of medical skill and tender care, but God had called and the command of the divine Master to "Come up higher" was too clear and insistent for human efforts to combat, and on the 27th of March, while his loved ones watched beside him, mercifully hoping and fearing, as at times he seemed to rally, his pure spirit left the gentle breast and returned to the God Who gave it. Hector endeared himself to all who knew him by his mainly qualities, his cheerful disposition. He was loved by his school companions, in the school-room, where he was an earnest and diligent student, but it is in the home he will be missed most. His loved ones will often yearn for his companionship in the family circle, but trusting in divine goodness and believing that as he is now free from the sorrows and afflictions that attend this mortal life, he is happy in his Master's service enjoying eternal peace in that beautiful land of somewhere. He leaves to mourn, besides his parents, three sisters and two brothers, — Kathleen, attending college in Charlottetown; Mary, Eleanor, David and John, at the home, who will ever cherish the memory of a dutiful son and kind brother. The father was one of the largest seen for some time, many coming over roads almost impassable, to pay a last tribute of respect to one loved so well. His pastor, Rev. J. W. McKenzie, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Ewen, of Orwell, officiated at the home funeral. The pallbearers were cousins and school friends of his own, who tenderly and reverently laid the mortal remains of

MR. JOSEPH MacRAE.

On Friday, May 19th, the death occurred after a long illness of Joseph MacRae, at his home, Orwell Cove. Although his death had been expected for some time, yet it was a great shock to his family and friends. Mr. MacRae was a man of good qualities, honorable and charitable, and he will be sadly missed in the home, where his love and winning disposition made him a favorite. No one except those who were with him till the end can realize his sufferings, but his patience will be remembered by all. His funeral cortege, which was a very large one, took place to St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River, on Sunday. Rev. Father McGuigan, P.P., performed the services at the grave. The pallbearers were Hugh Gillis, John McLeod, D. R. McDonald, James Morrissey, William Morrissey and Lewis Gillis. Besides his sorrowing wife, eight children, three daughters and five sons are left to mourn their loss. Requisite in pace.

MRS. PETER DEAGLE.

Died, at her home at Bear River, on April 17, after a brief illness, Mrs. Peter Deagle, aged 83 years. She had always enjoyed good health until six weeks previous to her death, when her health began to fail, and despite all that medical skill and tender nursing could do, God willed otherwise. Her spirit passed to its eternal reward, fortified by the last rites of the Holy Catholic church. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Helen McMillan, was a daughter of the late Donald and Euphemia McCormack McMillan, of St. Peter's Bay, and was the last surviving member of a large family. She was married fifty-two years ago and came to Bear River, where she resided until her death. The late dear Hector Ross in its last resting place in the beautiful Belfast cemetery. We feel sure that the heartfelt sympathy of everyone will go out to the bereaved family at this time of extreme sorrow, but as we all looked upon the serene and peaceful form for the last time and realizing that for him all earthly trouble was over, and believing that he is now enjoying the inheritance of eternal bliss, none could wish him back.

MISS JULIA BURKE

It is with deep regret we are called upon to chronicle the death of Julia Burke, which sad event took place at her home in Georgetown, on May 21st. The deceased had been ailing a short time, but every hope of her recovery was cherished, when her illness became more acute. She was deeply interested in all the little details pertaining to the comfort of her home everything that loving hearts and hands could do for her was done, but it was God's call, the tired heart ceased to beat and peacefully she entered into the rest beyond. Besides her sorrowing mother and father, she leaves to mourn one brother, Michael, also five sisters. The sisters are Josie in Halifax; Mary, Sophia, Cassie and Louise at home. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family in their sudden and sad affliction. May her soul rest in peace. A.

She was married fifty-two years ago and came to Bear River, where she resided until her death. The late Mrs. Deagle was an estimable Christian woman, of a cheerful disposition, kind and charitable to all. Her foremost thoughts were to be able to help someone. As a neighbor she will be remembered, and her death will be mourned. She was noted for her fidelity in attending all church duties and left to her children a lasting example of faith and purity. Her funeral took place on Wednesday morning, at St. Alexis Church, and was largely attended. Requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. Walker, P.P., thence to the beautiful cemetery, where all that was mortal of a kind and loving mother was laid to rest. Besides her aged husband, there are left to mourn three sons and two daughters, — S. Baill and Jimmie, Mrs. John P. Chlassen at Bear River, Augustine, Seattle, Wash., Joseph P. and Miss Georgie at home. Her eldest son, Daniel, died in Nelson, B.C., 23 years ago. The pallbearers were Joseph McTasac, John McMillan, James McCormack, John McKinnon, Charles McKinnon, Andrew McDonald, Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord. May her soul rest in peace.

PATRICK McCARDEL.

By the death of Mr. Patrick McCardel, at the advanced age of 88 years, on March 17, 1922, at his home in Emyvale, another link was broken in the associations and doings of the early pioneers of that district. Born in Quebec on the 12th day of July, 1834, where his parents landed from County Monaghan, Ireland. After remaining a short time in Quebec, the family moved to Miramichi, N.B., which at that time was the centre of a great lumbering business, where they remained until the year 1850, the deceased being then about 16 years of age, when he with his parents and other members of the family, moved to P. E. Island, and took up land in Emyvale, which at that time was an almost unbroken forest, without church or school or hard work cleared the forest and made a comfortable home. In the year 1855 he married Miss Rose Duffy, niece of the late Rev. James Duffy of Pious memory. To the union was born one son, James D. who died only one year ago in the prime of manhood which was a severe blow to the aged father. Mr. McCardel always enjoyed excellent health up to within one week of his death, when he was attacked with pneumonia, although attended by a skillful physician and gently nursed by a dutiful daughter-in-law, death had marked him, and after being fortified by the last rites of the Catholic church, he yielded his soul into the hands of his Creator. On the afternoon of Sunday, March 19, interment took place in St. Ann's cemetery, followed by a large funeral procession. May his soul rest in peace. The following were the pallbearers: — Peter McQuaid, Jas. P. McCloskey, William Costlow, Mich Coudry, John McQuaid, Peter Callaghan.

Sulphur Is Best To Clear Up Ugly Skin

Irritation and Breaking Out Often Healed over Night. Says Skin Specialist

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.
