Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

WOMAN'S CHAT.

The value of exercise, if properly indulged in, cannot be overestimated. It is a tonic to the system, and a purifier of the blood. It is especially good for women of indolent or dyspeptic tendencies, and will do much toward strengthening the nervous system who is always irritable and tired.

The pale woman should eat a good quantity of rare beef and drink milk as much as she can. Red wines, claret, etc. are also good for her. The fishy, red-faced woman, on the other hand, should eat sparingly of such things, and indulge in much vegetable food and a large amount of fruit.

The beauty of the skin depends in a great measure upon cleanliness. If the pores are clogged with foreign matter and the excretory process cannot go on properly black heads and kindred skin disfigurements appear, and the skin becomes dull and unhealthy in appearance.

In order to clear the complexion the unhealthy secretions must be cleared from the pores, and gentle massage is best for this purpose, and after the process some emollient should be carefully applied and rubbed in.

After this process some astringent wash to act as a tonic on the skin which will strengthen it. Benzoin is the most excellent thing for the purpose, and should be used in most cases daily, and not over strong.

Buttermilk as a face wash, possesses more medicinal virtue than almost any other liquid used for the complexion. Taken internally, it is also very fine—especially for the rheumatic troubles of any sort—and as a means of purifying the blood is unequalled; for this reason it is so good to drink in hot weather, when the system is apt to become overheated. It should, therefore, be particularly taken when the face is inclined to be blotchy and full of spots.

Wrinkles are best treated by application of some fatty emollient which will act as a food to the pores. The condition of the mind has much to do with wrinkles, and though it is absurd to say, "Don't worry," it is a good plan, at least once a day, to relax the nerves, and rest for an hour or so.

The juice of one lemon to eight ounces of water makes an excellent lotion for sunburnt faces; rub in a little of it while the face is still wet.

To have bright, glossy hair one must spend a certain amount of time on the care. A good brushing for ten minutes twice a day is most beneficial, and every woman who wishes to appear well groomed should practice it.

All sorts of hair brushes are recommended, the latest being of whalebone. These are especially good for the scalp, making it feel as though it were being massaged. Used at night, and drawn slowly through the hair, the effect is very soothing and often cures headaches, especially nervous ones.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.—m. w. f. wky—1 y

DOESN'T LIKE HER.

And Gives Twenty-one Alleged Reasons for His Attitude.
A correspondent, whose sex, says the Westminster Gazette, we decline to divulge, sends us the following 21 alleged reasons for the above question, "Why a Hero Woman?"

1—Because she stabs me in the eye with her parasol, offers no apology and looks as if I did it.
2—Because she pushes for a place in trains and omnibuses, and being 1, never makes any room for other people.

3—Because, in public, her prattle is so audible and unceasing, it includes the biographies and characteristics of all her friends by name.
4—Because she discusses frocks with her sister opposite, and describes fabrics and fixings as if at her dress-maker's.

5—Because she climbs to the top of omnibuses, and descends from which demands grace and decency.
6—Because she thinks the only way to make an omnibus stop is to prod the driver if she cannot reach the conductor.

7—Because, being of the class for which omnibuses are not, she spoils her coachman and ruins her horses by her ignorant or inconsiderate use of them.
8—Because, being of any class, she loves a "remnant day" and dotes on bargains.

9—Because she mislays her bag, loses her handkerchief, and carries her purse in her hand.
10—Because she recites, plays violins and rides on bicycles.

11—Because she reads accounts of weddings and lists of presents in ladies' newspapers.
12—Because she walks three in a row upon the pavement, and expects every one else to make way for her.

13—Because she worships priests and deacons, as well as illustrious persons and high officials.
14—Because she is "fluent but not logical," and more concerned about the number of her facts than the truth of them.

15—Because, in nine cases out of ten, she can neither sew, read aloud, nor make tea.
16—Because she is always writing letters, and wanting me and others, to answer them.

17—Because she is the slave of fashion; and that, not only in clothes, but in art, music, manners, religion, flowers, jewelry, language and furniture.
18—Because she does not value anything simply because it is "good" (following a fashion set in the days before woman existed), but because it is "new," "orn," or "done," or even "talked about."

19—Because if she is "nice" she is sure to be conventional, and if she is not conventional she is generally not "nice."
20—Because if you tell her a secret, she passes it on to other friends—"I don't mind telling you, dear, but it isn't my further."
21—Because she is often careless as to food, and thinks cheapness the finest requisite in wine.

Science Triumphant at Last.
ORLEANS, Feb. 10th, 1894.
EMANSON, BATES & CO.
Gentlemen,—About three or four weeks ago I had an attack of Iching Piles. I tried two or three different remedies recommended by druggists as the "best and only cure," etc., but got no relief. About the time I was beginning to despair of finding any relief, with some slight misgivings I bought a box of your pile cure, which I am pleased to say gave me almost instant relief and permanent cure. I consider your Dr. Chase's Ointment a God-send.

A Chicago man has invented a steel spring tire, which he believes will succeed the pneumatic tire. This great achievement was in response to a demand for a contrivance which cannot be punctured.

THE MANITOBA HARVEST.
The Farmers of the Northwest Will Have Plenty of Money to Spend.
WINNIPEG, (Special) Oct. 7.—The prospects of a good year for the Manitoba farmers are now assured, thanks to the abundant harvest. One of the causes for the sickness prevalent last year will now be obviated, as the farmers will have money to spare for the purchase of the necessities of life. One of the straws which shows which way the wind is blowing is the fact that druggists are ordering the well-known remedy, Dr. King's Kidney Pills, in unusually large quantities. The inhabitants of the province are well aware of the value of the medicine, and only the financial stringency has prevented its universal use.

Lilies of the valley in France are called "virgin's tears," and are said to have sprung up on the road between Calvary and Jerusalem during the night following the crucifixion.

In Norway and Sweden, before any couple can be legally married, certificates must be produced showing that both bride and bridegroom have been duly vaccinated.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Dr. Mary Walker has bought 135 acres of land near Oswego, N. Y., for the purpose of forming an Adulterous Eden in the shape of a colony of women who will till the soil, ride astride and bind themselves to wear bloomers for life.

Two Neglects and the Result.
Neglect cold in the head and you will surely have catarrh. Neglect nasal catarrh and you will as surely induce pulmonary diseases or catarrh of the stomach, with its disgusting attendants, foul breath, hawking, spitting, bloating, etc. Stop it all by using Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, 25 cents a box cures.

Lord Calogian, who is an enthusiastic cyclist, has made no public appearance in Ireland as yet on a bicycle. Perhaps court etiquette—which is rigidly observed at Dublin Castle, and by special royal command—may interfere between a lord-lieutenant and his "bike."

MANDATORY FEATURES.
Sometimes unsightly blotches, pimples or rashes upon the skin, destroy the attractiveness of handsome features. In all such cases Scott's Emulsion will build up the system, and impart freshness and beauty.

The Earl of Dunmore has purchased a farm near Johannesburg, South Africa, for $35,000, and proposes building a large hotel and taking up his residence there. Lord Henry Paulet is engaged to a nobleman who has succumbed to the attractions of South Africa.

Head the Warning.
The common and ever-present warning of kidney trouble, back ache and weakness in back are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Pills. The original and only 25 cent Kidney-Liver Pills. When all other remedies fail they cure.

A silk worker scored inscribed "This is the work of Queen Anne was presented to the Right Honorable Richard Hill, Ambassador to the court of Turin, 1703," came under the hammer in Shrewsbury at the sale of the effects of the bankrupt Viscount Hill, fetching $430.

I find the people around here prefer Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to any other I have in stock. They are a wonderful pill. Send 3 dozen at once, I am nearly out. P. S.—Send by post to J. W. Ireland, Gourkook.

A Caution: A Warning!
If, on blowing the nose in the morning, lumps and flakes are discharged, the air with blood, especially on one side, lose no time in applying a remedy. Catarrh of the very worst kind has become seated, the walls are sore and full of small ulcers, and if not soon cured will be hard to cure and eradicate. "A stitch in time saves nine." Use Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Another poor fellow who finds himself rich by Kaffir speculation in London is Florence O. Driscoll, a once penniless engineer, who came over to this country as a delegate to our World's Exhibition. He has since figured conspicuously in the mining boom, and Hans Frederik says he could retire to-day with a fortune of $2,000,000.

Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the outcome of the latest scientific researches. There was always a prejudice against taking Cod Liver Oil on account of its disagreeable taste, but Miller's Emulsion is agreeable to the palate, and that is one reason why it has become so popular with the medical fraternity, the hospitals of the country and the households wherever consumption or lung troubles prevail. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colic, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

The two sides of the human face are never alike. In two cases of five the eyes are out of line; one eye is stronger than the other in three cases out of ten, and the right ear is generally higher than the left.

Fortune-tellers have become so numerous in Paris that the police have adopted more rigorous measures to suppress this sort of swindle. Evidently, latterday culture does not restrain the charlatan, who is given to the mystic every year. Not content with this, the City Council is now considering a proposition to make a cash allowance of one hundred francs (16 dollars) for each one of these waifs, involving an expenditure of 2,011,944 cents annually.

L'Independence Belge says that in time of peace Russia has a standing army of 588,000 men; next comes Germany, with 580,000, and then France with 512,000. In case of war, Russia reserves 600,000 men, the total 1,188,000 men, against the 7,700,000 soldiers of the three countries forming the Triple Alliance—Germany, Austria and Italy. In time of peace the maintenance of the standing armies of the above powers costs $1,000,000,000 annually.

Tables of superstition from Darkest Europe are more plentiful than black cats. The latest is from the Bukovina, a dependence of Austria. A soldier of the reserve died lately at Bojane, and the military authorities requested his parents to send back his military passport. In reply came the information that the order of the passport had been put in the coffin, "that the dead man might have the less difficulty in entering into heaven."

L'Independence Belge vouches for the fact that tattooing is growing in favor among the English aristocracy. A soldier of the reserve has an artistic design on his right arm. A member of the House of Lords had himself tattooed with his full name and title, and the late Duke of Devonshire had his wife and children are marked for life in a similar manner. And the Belgian papers sneer at this "relapse into barbarism."

The cat-o-nine-tails still cuts its bloody way in Russia. The poor peasants are often whipped unmercifully for petty offenses. Lately the legislative body of the Government of Tschernoff petitioned the Czar to prohibit the use of the cat-o-nine-tails in the punishment of offenders who have gone through the full course of the public school. The petitioners stated that, in many instances intelligent peasants have preferred suicide to the ignominy of corporal punishment. The petition was answered negatively.

There were 167 prisoners confined in the county goal at Peterborough, Ont., during the year. The cost of maintenance was six cents per head per day.

ODD HAPPENINGS.

A Record of Queer Things and Rare Events Chronicled in European Exchange.
English noblemen are the only ones in Europe who ever wear coronets on their heads, and the sole occasion when they do so is at the coronation of the Sovereign.

According to the Gotthardström, the station of Schwyz, in Great Switzerland is the land of adulation, pat excursions, intoxicating drink being on sale in every ninth house in that canton.

The Frankfurter Zeitung says that Finland, a dependency of Russia, boasts several fire engine companies composed entirely of women, and that these have already won glory at several great contractions.

The Congregation of Bishops and Religious Orders at Rome has decided to reject the introduction of the telephonic nunneries, with the provision that no elderly nuns must be present at every telephonic conversation.

A statistician reports in the Journal des Debats that 12,000,000 newspapers are printed annually on this little planet of ours. The total number of paper mills is 3,958.

The Neue Blatt informs us that the term "honeymoon" was not suggested by the sweetness of that period of time, but originated through a custom of the Germans of old, which compelled the newly wedded to drink nothing but mead made of honey during the thirty days following the marriage.

A shepherd at Chambery, Savoy, employs a horse instead of a dog to keep the herd together. The horse understands the orders given him, and carries them out as intelligently as the best trained dog.

Bicycle accidents are very rare in St. Petersburg, Russia, for the simple reason that the authorities do not allow the use of the bicycle in public except by riders who have a satisfactory proof of proficiency before a severe board of examiners.

The Russian Government has decided to run church cars on the Siberian Railway. The Paris Libre Presse cynically observes that this offers a chance to make one's devotions by steam and send up one's prayers by express.

A European authority asserts that by rubbing vaseline over a ball to be fired from a rifle or a gun, the fire can follow the progress of the missile through the whole distance of its flight. Its course is shown by a thread of smoke, and leads to the combustion of the vaseline.

At Bilbao, Spain, a beggar died lately of cholera on a donkey. The man said to be quite a number of centenarians in the land of the Hidalgos, and the beggar's death would hardly have seemed a deemed worthy of public notice if the autopsy of a body had not disclosed the very extraordinary fact that the deceased Lazarus was a consumptive for certainly not less than half a century.

A private belonging to a regiment of Highlanders lately rode through the streets of Glasgow on a donkey. He was arrested and fined £3 or one month's imprisonment, for attaching ridicule to the Queen's uniform.

Heretofore the children of poor widows in Paris, when attending school, received free soup for dinner, and were given one pair of wooden shoes every year. Not content with this, the City Council is now considering a proposition to make a cash allowance of one hundred francs (16 dollars) for each one of these waifs, involving an expenditure of 2,011,944 cents annually.
