A New Spring

pay special sudsing attention to the area covered by them. Often the metal leaves a slight discoloration which should be washed away.

Colored blouses and white ones should be washed separately, because the whites, particularly nylon, will pick up tints from other colors. Don't wring blouses made of miracle or combination fabrics. Instead, hang them to dry, but pad the hanger; or tuck a clean, folded washcloth inside each shoulder. Then finger-press pleats, ruffles, tucks and seams.

Drip Dry

Any blouse, even those that need ironing, will require less attention if finger pressed while wet and if allowed to drip dry. It is best to press them with a fairly hot iron, while they are still damp.

Iron first on the wrong side, then go over them quickly on the right side to give the fabric a luster. Cotton also requires a fairly hot iron, but jeweled linens and glazed or embossed cottons take a cooler iron. Press silks, acetates and rayon, while evenly damp, on the wrong side, with a warm iron. If a silk blouse has dried completely, don't sprinkle it or you will spot the fabric. Instead, dip it quickly in warm water and roll it in a towel until it is just damp.

In Memoriam

MURRAY BRUCE MacGREGOR

Widespread sorrow was felt throughout Kingsboro and surrounding districts when it became known that Murray Bruce, youngest child and only son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacGregor, had passed away in the P. E. I. Hospital on May 11, 1955, at the tender age of 19 months.

The little one had successfully undergone a major operation, but complications set in. His death came as a severe shock to his family. Everything possible was done for him that parental love and medical skill could do, but God, who never errs, willed it otherwise.

His innocent prattle and loving manner made him a joy to the hearts of his parents who feel their loss very keenly. He is also survived by two little sisters, Sharon and Carol Ann, who will cherish the memory of a baby brother.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from the home. The service was conducted by Rev. D. I. McClare who brought a message of consolation from II Sam. 12:15-23, assisted by Rev. H. R. Bell. Hymns sung were: "Jewels," "Jesus Loves Me," and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus."

Flower bearers were: Sheldon and Feston Rose, Eddie and Richard Ching, and Merton Bruce. Pallbearers, uncles of the baby, were: Norman Kermit, Emery Bruce, and Baswell Robertson. Interment was in the Kingsboro Cemetery.

There the buds from earth transplanted. For our coming watch and wait In the upper garden growing Just within the pearly gate. Tho' our hearts may break with sorrow By the grief so hard to bear We shall meet him, some bright morning In the upper garden there.

Floral tributes were as follows: Pillow Mom, Dad, and Sisters. Wreaths Grandma and Grandpa Bruce.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter MacDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stapleton and son, Ronnie, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jay on June 5.

Passing Of Mrs. Austin Fraser

"It was with profound shock and sorrow that the people of South Lake and vicinity heard on May 26th that Mrs. Austin Fraser (nee Fredea Dingwell) daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dingwell, South Lake had passed away following a very short illness in the P. E. I. Hospital.

Her passing at such a young age is when she will be greatly missed in the community, and especially in the home. The throng of people who came to pay their last respects was the evidence of the high esteem she enjoyed.

Her funeral was largely attended on May 21 at Kingsboro Baptist Church. Service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. I. McClare and; burial was in the Church cemetery. Wide spread sympathy goes out to her husband and little son, Donald, in the great loss of a loving wife and mother.

NOW... A SEDAN WITH Hardtop flair

Monarch Richelieu

FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

Sedan strength, four-door convenience... with that new low-to-the-ground silhouette

Presenting Canada's newest, slimmest, most distinctive four-door!

The completely new, entirely different and distinctive Monarch Richelieu Four-Door Sedan is the lowest, sleekest sedan in Monarch history—measuring only 58 1/2 inches from road to roof! This brilliantly beautiful car has been designed expressly for those who want the strength and rigidity of sedan construction and the convenience of four-door design with the low, slim, elegance of hardtop styling! The extra length of the streamlined top makes this unique car even handsomer than a regular hardtop, while its four-door design brings you all the advantages of limousine roominess and luxury.

When you drive this newest of Monarch models, you'll find that its performance matches its style distinction in every respect! You'll get a wholly new feeling of security and confidence when you discover the eager power that's instantly at your command—power from a great new overhead-valve V-8 engine (188-Hp. or 198-Hp.) by the world's most experienced V-8 builder. But try it for yourself—this is your invitation to see your Ford-Monarch Dealer and arrange to take the wheel of this lithe and lively Monarch Richelieu Four-Door Sedan.

See Hollywood Stars on Ford T.V. Theatre every Wednesday 9:00 to 9:30 P.M.
