

Boston Red Sox Rated 'Sleeper'

NEW YORK (AP)—The vastly improved Boston Red Sox, who finished higher last season than in any year since 1951, are rated a "sleeper" in this corner and the prediction here is that the Ted Williams-led crew will end New York Yankees' three-year rein and capture their first flag since 1946.

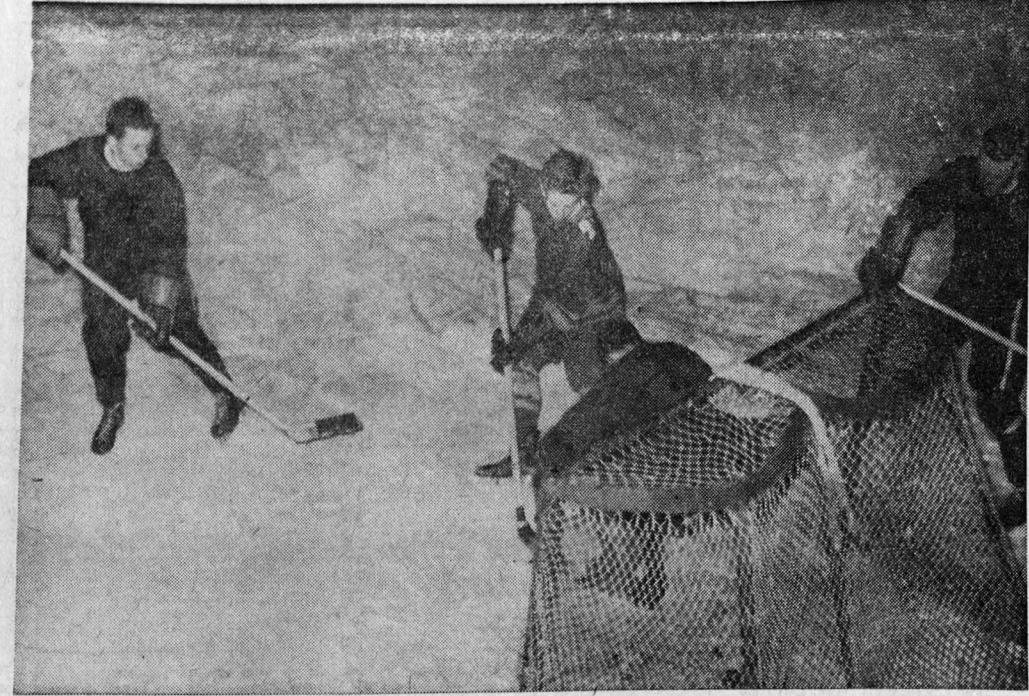

The Yankees haven't looked good this spring but, more than that — with the exception of Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald, Bill Skowron and one or two others — the players have gone about their work with an indifferent, almost lethargic air bordering on boredom.

CLYDE QUALIFIES FOR SOCCER FINAL

LONDON (Reuters) — Clyde, Scottish Cup winner in 1955, qualified for the cup final this Saturday when it edged Motherwell 3-2 Saturday at Celtic Park, Glasgow.
Clyde's opponents in the final at Hampden Park April 26 will be either Glasgow Rangers or Edinburgh Hibernians, who played a 2-2 tie in a thrill-packed game on the Hampden ground.
The teams will replay next Wednesday.

The puck slides in behind Charlottetown Midget goalie Frizzell from a shot triggered by David Weale (out of picture at left) but the Charlottetown boys went on to win the game 7 to 4, played at Civic Stadium Thursday evening. This gave the island midget championship to smart young hockeyists by two straight wins over the Summerside club who held an early 4 to 0 lead. In front of the cage is Donnie MacNeill who assisted on the goal. The two Charlottetown players are unidentified

MIDGETS PROVIDE ACTION

As things stand at present the North Sydney — Charlottetown Royals series is to be completed at the Sports Arena.
The Combines balking at making a second jaunt to Charlottetown decided Saturday they would go along with the series schedule as arranged by the M. A. H. A. Undoubtedly they weighed carefully the consequences of their failure to appear and came up with the only sensible answer.
Royals are hoping that fans will turn in large numbers tonight to help offset the large outlay of last week when they were away from Monday till Friday. The trip cost plenty and the boys are confident the fans will realize this and back them to the limit tonight and Tuesday should it go a seventh game.
Royals will be a much better outfit than the one that bowed three times in a row last week to the Northside team. At least they will have a chance to rest their players, something they couldn't do Thursday when they played most of the battle with five forwards. North Sydney will be here in full force and tonight you can bet they will leave nothing undone in an attempt to close out the series.

Cape Breton Fans Must be Overfed

Cape Breton fans must be overfed as far as hockey is concerned. Attendances at the games with the Royals were extremely poor, something unusually peculiar for that area.
In the three games the total attendance was in the vicinity of 1700, less than half the total present for the Sydney-Glace Bay semi-final.
And it came as a great disappointment to the Combines' officials and players who were figuring on a good "take".
"Perhaps you can get too much of anything."
Toe Blake has said that his Montreal Canadiens are not interested in any special styles of play no matter which they play in the Stanley Cup finals. That's not an unexpected utterance after the way the Montrealers have gone all season.
Says Blake, "We have only one style — to win. We'd be crazy to change our style now."
That's the under-statement of the year.

Young Athletes Lost a Real Backer

Young athletes lost a real backer with the death last week of Gordon Rice in Summerside.
We know little of Gordon's activities since he moved to the western capital but we have many memories of his association with minor league hockey and baseball teams while he resided in Charlottetown. He gave most generously of his time to these young players and followed their activity closely even after they had graduated from the minor bracket.
To his wife, children, mother, brothers and sisters SPORTS FRONT extends sincerest sympathy.

From Riches to Rags is the Story of Dusty Rhodes

From riches to rags is the story of Dusty Rhodes, a World Series hero in 1954.
We mentioned in this column last week that Dusty seemed a sure bet for the minors and that came to pass over the weekend. "But I'll be back before June 15," a disappointed Rhodes exclaimed when he learned of his transfer to the AAA Phoenix club of the Pacific Coast League.
It certainly could not have been any surprise to the 30-year-old outfielder. In his last two seasons he hit .217 and .205 and had only two singles in 11 times at bat during the current spring training. He also has been plagued with severe headaches which were diagnosed as stemming from an enlarged scalp artery.
Rhodes came to the Giants in 1952 and hit .341 in 1954, mostly as a pinch hitter. It was his home run in the tenth inning of the first game with Cleveland that gave the Polo Grounders the start needed to go on to win the World Series in four straight games. Dusty hit safely as a pinch hitter in the next two games to set a World Series record.

Joe Cronin, General Manager of the Boston Red Sox, States his American League Club is Satisfied to Remain at its Present Location — Fenway Park.

Earlier plans for a 100,000,000 sports centre in Norwood to include a 60,000 capacity stadium were announced. Construction would be contingent on the Red Sox using it.

Close to Getting a Crack at the Maritime Title

It seemed too bad that Wayne MacDonald somehow got overlooked at registration time. By the time it was brought to the attention of this columnist, who happens to be M. A. H. A. vice-president for this area, it was far too late to have anything done about it. We contacted Hanson Dowell, M. A. H. A. secretary-registrar, on the matter and he informed us that there was absolutely nothing he could do.
Wayne was granted permission to play in the junior series by producing nothing more than a birth certificate. Every possible effort was made in this series to see to it that each province had available all its best hockeyists who had not passed the junior age limit. This was all done with a view to having the strongest possible Maritime team compete in the games with Upper Canada. Whether you agree with this idea or not makes little difference now. That was the law for this year and we feel sure for this year only.
Wayne certainly would have been a great help to the Juveniles and it is most unfortunate that his card was not registered with those of the other players.

Curling Bonspiel At Summerside

The Maritime mixed curling bonspiel, which has attracted wide interest in curling circles since its inception four years ago, is slated to get underway next Tuesday at the Summerside Curling Rink, with entries so far received from Moncton, Sackville, Hampton, N. B., Westville, N.S., R. C. A. F. Station, Charlottetown, Alberton and Montague along with several Summerside rinks.
Trophies up for competition are the Smallman trophy on Tuesday, the Willard MacDonald Trophy on Wednesday, and Thursday the M. F. Schurman trophy goes on the line and Friday the Curran and Briggs trophy will be up for competition.
After this phase of the bonspiel is completed, the winners and runners-up of the first four days will compete for the Mappo trophy on Saturday, which represents the championship of the annual mixed bonspiel.
About $2,500 in prizes will be won by the winning rinks.

Cambridge Trims Oxford

LONDON (Reuters) — A favored Cambridge University crew Saturday beat Oxford of the 58th time in the 104-year-old Thames River rowing classic.
The Cantabs, stroking steadily in orthodox style, ran away with the 4 1/4-mile grind through the heart of London to win by 3 1/2 lengths.
Oxford's American-style short stroke and American-type shell never overcame the light blue's advantage as Cambridge won the toss for the more favorable starting position.

Winning the Maritime Title

Parkdale Beaten

WINDSOR, N. S. (CP) — Windsor Maple Leafs won the Maritime Intermediate hockey crown here Saturday night, edging Charlottetown Parkdale Flyers 5-4.
The Nova Scotia champs swept the best-of-three series in straight games. They won the first contest 12-7 at Windsor Friday night.
Bill Foley and Clare Weir collected a pair of goals each for the winners, with a single going to Don Lockhart. Parkdale scorers were J. Arsenault, Simmons, MacLean and Gillis.
The Leafs' outshot Parkdale 35-25. Referees called 16 penalties.

Abbie Juveniles came mighty

Team by any means but they possess the three ingredients necessary to win.

They have good pitching, sufficient power and, for the first time in years, a formidable infield and bench.
Now they have the best third baseman in the league in Frank Malzone, shortstop Don Buddin who has shown great promise and they figure to be strengthened at second whether the job goes to Billy Conso or Ken Aspromonte.
DEPENDS ON WILLIAMS
The outfield of Williams in left, Jimmy Piersall in centre and Jackie Jensen in right is generally regarded as the best in the league.
Williams, naturally, must have another good year in his system. The 39-year-old star, who hit .388 last season, has been retarded by injuries. While he hasn't played in a single exhibition game, the big fellow insists he will be ready by opening day.
The Yankees will be a threat throughout. Any team that boasts of such stars as Mantle, McDougald, Skowron, Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer and young Tony Kubek must be regarded highly.
An abundance of good front-line pitching should keep the White Sox in the thick of the race. The pitchers, however, figure to tire from the physical and mental strain placed upon them by the lack of any power hitters.
