Exclusive College Is Fuming After Army Rifle Collection

OTTAWA (CP) — Exclusive Ashbury College for boys in suburban Rockcliffe is fuming after a weekend visit from the army to collect cadet corps rifles.

With fixed bayonets, the army unit swooped down on Ashbury at 12:30 a.m. Saturday to carry out Defence Minister Paul Hellyer's order removing small arms from militia establishments in "sensitive areas" because of raids on three Quebec armories.

The school said that among weapons removed were 130 bolt-less First World War rifles which hadn't been fired since 1918.

Quivering with indignation, Commodore W. G. Ross, chairman of the board of governors of Ashbury, said in an interview:

"It's a pretty ridiculous piece of work to come into a private school in the middle of the night and disturb the school and its boarders.

"The ammunition seized is the same kind of target practice ammunition that can be purchased in any sporting goods store.

"It seems totally unnecessary for these soldiers to march through Ashbury with fixed bayonets and loaded rifles. We'll take this matter up with the army and the minister of national defence.

"How are we expected to train a cadet corps without any equipment?"

FREDERICTON (CP) — A quantity of small arms, rifles and ammunition was removed Monday from the armory here by a detachment from the Chatham, N.B., RCAF station.

The arms, taken by a three-man armed guard, were mostly training rifles without firing pins and target rifles. They were used by the 333 Lord Beaverbrook air cadet squadron for training purposes.

MONTREAL (CP)—The army has begun the job of removing arms and ammunition from about 130 under-guarded armories in Quebec to assure they won't fall into the hands of terrorists.

"We're taking the cookies out of the jar before any more can be taken," an army spokesman said Monday.

Army trucks escorted by armed soldiers began moving weapons to Montreal arsenals during the weekend from such Eastern Township centres as Granby, Cowansville and Farnham.

Crop Insurance Pays Claims

Agriculture Minister Andrew B. MacRae, revealed in the Legislature that during the 1962-63 crop year the government paid out, through the Group Insurance Board, $13,513.28 on claims for potato and grain damage.

Premiums collected during the same period, amounted to $2,015.05, which broken down consisted of 48 potato policies with a premium value of $1,652.55 and 27 for grain totalling $362.50

Mr. MacRae was replying to written question submitted by Opposition Leader A.W. Matheson.

LIVESTOCK

MONTREAL (CP) Prices were steady in slow trading on Montreal's east - end livestock market Wednesday.

Receipts: 47 cattle, three calves, 64 hogs and no sheep or lambs.

Common cows 13, canners and cutters 11-12.50.

Grade A hogs 26-27.05, Sows 17 to 17.80 for bulk.

Calf sales were insufficient to set a price.

There were no sales of sheep or lambs.

MALARIA INCIDENCE

A 1938 survey indicated about 1,000,000 people in India died annually from malaria, while a 1952 survey estimated the total as 800,000.

Conservative MP Makes Plea For $1 Billion For ADB

OTTAWA (CP)—The Atlantic Development Board should have $1,000,000,000 so that it can assist projects that will have a profound effect on the area's economy, Robert C. Coates (PC—Cumberland) said in the Commons.

He said the $100,000,000 allocated to the board last year is inadequate.

If it didn't get more, it would be bankrupt by the end of 1964, "just like the hopes of the people of the Maritime provinces will be bankrupt."

Mr. Coates said the board's present fund isn't adequate to finance projects that will have a major impact on the area.

He also urged federal action on power development of Bay of Fundy tides in connection with the proposal for a Chignecto canal across the isthmus linking Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

ARE HESITANT

The tidal proposal had been found to be feasible and reasonable. It had been recommended by New Brunswick Premier Robichaud. Yet the federal government had shown great hesitancy over the minimum expenditure of $325,000,000.

Mr. Coates said there must be government action to allow the people of the Maritimes to move forward with the rest of Canada.

Yet the government had dropped the navy's frigate construction program and mothballed 33 navy ships, most of which were based at Halifax.

The government had delayed adopting a feed grain policy for eastern farmers even though one had been prepared under the former Conservative government.

Mr. Coates urged federal support of a centennial year project adopted by Amherst, N.S., to build a library and museum to honor four fathers of Confederation from Cumberland County. He said no other country in Canada could match that achievement. The four were Sir Charles Tupper, Robert Dickey, Edward B. Chandler and Jonathan McCully.

Modification Is Forecast, Of Some Anti-Dumping Laws

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Sharp's discussions in London this week may lead to some modification of Canada's anti-dumping laws, as they apply especially to British goods.

However, observers here do not believe that any special arrangements — if indeed they emerge at all—will go much further than taking care of proven cases where the Canadian laws discriminate against British imports.

The Canadian government has not accepted the oft-stated British contention that the anti-dumping laws have been a prime factor in the steady decline of British sales in this market.

Ottawa believes the British simply have not tried hard enough to exploit an apparent "Buy British" attitude of the Canadian consumer; that in fact the British sales throughout North America have been slipping because they were aimed chiefly at Europe.

UNDERESTIMATE MARKET

There is a feeling here that the British exporters have underestimated the growing wealth and sophistication of the Canadian market, and have not produced the marketing techniques and service needed to compete effectively against Canadian and United States competition.

Mr. Sharp, who leaves for London tonight, is expected to reinforce these views in discussions with Edward Heath, president of the board of trade, and with some members of the Federation of British Industries.

The minister also has scheduled a speech Thursday to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London and plans meetings with some members of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, as well as British economic journalists.

BRITISH SALES DROPS

Statistics show that while Canada's exports to the United Kingdom last year advanced by 10.3 per cent to $1,014,900,000—highest level since 1944—British sales in this market continued to fall and closed the year at $927,500,000, down 6.3 per cent from 1962.

Result was a $487,400,000 surplus in Canada's favor.

The British, who get Commonwealth preferential tariff treatment on entering the Canadian market, have taken aim at Canada's anti - dumping laws which apply to all countries.

The laws work to prevent the sale of foreign goods in Canada at a price less than the goods fetch in the exporter's home market.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3♦	3♥	Pass	4♥

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

This hand occurred in a pair championship. The final contract at every table but one was four hearts, and at each of these tables the contract went down one. Three notrump played by North could not be defeated, but no pair reached that contract.

West led the queen of diamonds against four hearts. Not unreasonably, each declarer ducked the diamond in dummy, hoping that East had an eighth card suit, in which case the second diamond loser might be saved by discarding it later on dummy's clubs.

However, this idea didn't work well because East played the deuce on the queen, requesting West to shift to another suit (which West had to do in the actual case anyhow).

At one table, the North- South pair had a partnership misunderstanding and arrived at five clubs on the following sequence:

East	South	West	North
3♦	3♥	Pass	4♣
Pass	5♣

North was under the impression that the three heart bid was artificial and that he was being requested to show his best suit. (Some players use a convention, in combatting preemptive bids, whereby naming the suit immediately above the preemptive bid is equivalent to a takeout double.)

When North bid four clubs, South raised him to five, and that became the contract. East, on lead, opened the ace of diamonds and continued with a diamond, which West ruffed.

West returned the king of spades, but declarer had no trouble making the rest of the tricks, scoring five clubs, five hearts and the ace of spades to bring home the contract. So as a result of the misunderstanding, North-South were the only ones to make a game with their cards and got themselves a top score!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
