

The Examiner.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 1, 1860.

THE ELECTIVE COUNCIL BILL ABANDONED.

The question having been asked the Government, several days ago, whether it was their intention to pass the Bill for electing the members of the Legislative Council...

Resolved, therefore, that if the Government were sincere in promising to re-enact the Bill of last Session, they had ample time to do so...

Resolved, That as the Legislative Council has but recently been reconstituted, this House do not now deem it expedient to go into the discussion of the Elective Council Bill...

It is needless to say that Col. Gray's resolution was carried by a large majority—every Government supporter recording his name in favour of it, and several of the Opposition being absent.

How true is the observation we often hear, that those who practise deceit in one instance very often resort to the same expedient in other instances to sustain an outward appearance of decency and consistency.

The Government had not the malice to say that there was no necessity for passing the Elective Bill—that they have given up that measure so long as they can command a majority in the upper House...

Our Barman, verily, has no need to publish their autobiographies. For the present, I remain truly, CONSERVATIVE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER. Sir—It may appear very extraordinary to many persons that, towards the close of the Session of the Legislature...

Our Barman, verily, has no need to publish their autobiographies. For the present, I remain truly, CONSERVATIVE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER. Sir—It may appear very extraordinary to many persons that, towards the close of the Session of the Legislature...

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER. Sir—It may appear very extraordinary to many persons that, towards the close of the Session of the Legislature...

The Lieut. Governor, shortly after transmitted, informed the Assembly, that in this proposal Lord Selkirk included all the arrears of rent. A very liberal offer of this description could hardly fail to command general approval...

We cordially approve of the Government's acceptance of Lord Selkirk's proposal. In fact, they could not help accepting it; and it now depends upon themselves to show, by their management of the property which is about to be entrusted to them...

It was very amusing to hear some of the Government party taking credit to themselves for Lord Selkirk's offer as the result of their talk—for there has been nothing else but talk upon the subject—concerning the Land Commission.

Resolved, therefore, that if the Government were sincere in promising to re-enact the Bill of last Session, they had ample time to do so—as its principles and details had been fully discussed and agreed to; but having failed to fulfill this promise, it should now be declared inexpedient to entertain, for the present, the proposal to make the Legislative Council elective.

Resolved, That as the Legislative Council has but recently been reconstituted, this House do not now deem it expedient to go into the discussion of the Elective Council Bill...

Resolved, therefore, that if the Government were sincere in promising to re-enact the Bill of last Session, they had ample time to do so—as its principles and details had been fully discussed and agreed to; but having failed to fulfill this promise, it should now be declared inexpedient to entertain, for the present, the proposal to make the Legislative Council elective.

Resolved, therefore, that if the Government were sincere in promising to re-enact the Bill of last Session, they had ample time to do so—as its principles and details had been fully discussed and agreed to; but having failed to fulfill this promise, it should now be declared inexpedient to entertain, for the present, the proposal to make the Legislative Council elective.

Resolved, therefore, that if the Government were sincere in promising to re-enact the Bill of last Session, they had ample time to do so—as its principles and details had been fully discussed and agreed to; but having failed to fulfill this promise, it should now be declared inexpedient to entertain, for the present, the proposal to make the Legislative Council elective.

Resolved, therefore, that if the Government were sincere in promising to re-enact the Bill of last Session, they had ample time to do so—as its principles and details had been fully discussed and agreed to; but having failed to fulfill this promise, it should now be declared inexpedient to entertain, for the present, the proposal to make the Legislative Council elective.

THE PARLIAMENT HOUSE NARROWLY BURNED DOWN AGAIN.—The Quebec correspondent of the Gazette writes that on Friday evening, while the galleries were crowded with listeners to the debate, a smell of smoke of paper and pine pervaded the building...

THE OFFICE before the Canadian Parliament to make the Office of Speaker of the Legislative Council elective. It is said the measure has a fair chance of success.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

THE subject of debate at last meeting was, as previously announced—“Was the recent addition to the Legislative Council of this Colony justifiable?” This question was decided in the negative by a majority of 11.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. To close consignments. Sugar! Sugar! Sugar! TO be sold by Public Auction, on Friday, the 4th day of May next, at 11 o'clock, at the Subscriber's 5th Room, Queen Street:

10 Hbls. SUGAR, 20 Bbls. SOAP, 5 Pbls. MOLASSES, 5 Doz. LEMONS, 1 Hbl. SUGAR, 5 Doz. BROOMS, 5 Chests TEA, 5 Kegs ISLAND, 5 Kegs SOLE LEATHER.

THE Subscriber has been requested by Mr. James Douglass, who is about making an alteration in his business, to dispose of by PUBLIC AUCTION, on SATURDAY the 5th day of May next, at 12 o'clock, at his Store, (Cameron's Buildings), Market Square, the whole stock of Groceries, Provisions, Household Furniture, &c., &c., consisting of:

OATMEAL, TEA, FLOUR, CANDLES, PORK, SALERATUS, HAMS, GINGER, FISH, PEPPER, SALMON, BUTTER.

With a great variety of other articles too numerous to mention. Terms Liberal. WILLIAM M'GILL, Auctioneer. May 1, 1860.

Flour, Tea, Molasses, Sugar, Soap, Buckets, &c., &c. TO be sold by AUCTION, on TUESDAY, the 8th May next, at 11 o'clock, at the Subscriber's 5th Room:

100 Bbls. FLOUR, 20 Bbls. SOAP, 5 Pbls. MOLASSES, 5 Doz. LEMONS, 1 Hbl. SUGAR, 5 Doz. BROOMS, 5 Chests TEA, 5 Kegs ISLAND, 5 Kegs SOLE LEATHER.

With a great variety of other articles too numerous to mention. Terms Liberal. WILLIAM M'GILL, Auctioneer. May 1, 1860.

ALEXANDER MCKINNON, AUCTIONEER. AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, WATER STREET, CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. ISLAND.

NOTICE. THE Subscriber, being about to make an alteration in his present business, notices all persons indebted to him by note or hand or book account, that their amounts due must be paid before the 10th of May next, otherwise proceedings will be taken to recover the same.

Leasehold Farm for Sale, CONSISTING of 50 acres of good Land, situated on the Whim Road, Lot 59, four acres of the land are fit for cultivation, and eight acres more are cleared for stumping.

Do you want a Farm? IF you do, I want to sell you one at Priest Pond, Lot 46, North side, consisting of 31 acres of excellent freehold land; part of it is fenced, and the remainder well covered with hard and softwood suitable for firewood, saw logs, scantling, rails, &c.

TO be Sold or Let, A T St. Eleanor's, nearly opposite the Episcopal Church, A frontage on the Main Road, 23 BUILDING LOTS, of which the following is a plan:

Table with columns for CHARLES POPE, Esq. and rows for lots 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150.

For further particulars please apply to the undersigned, JAMES CRASBIE, Esq., St. Eleanor's, April 24, 1860. 1m Freehold Property FOR SALE IN GEORGETOWN! THAT valuable Property owned by Patrick Nolan, situated in Georgetown, adjoining the grounds of the Catholic Chapel, consisting of three and a half TOWN LOTS, in a high state of cultivation.

Also—One improved Lot of Eight acres on Burnt Point, distant 14 miles from the above. Should this Property not be sold by private sale, before the 17th May next, it will then be sold by PUBLIC AUCTION, on that day at 11 o'clock, a.m.

For further particulars please apply to Wm. Sanderson, Esq., Georgetown, or on the premises to JOHN QUINN, Esq., Georgetown, April 24, 1860. 3w pd

The Celebrated Horse "SAM SLICK," IMPORTED by the Royal Agricultural Society, will travel through the following settlements during the season: Leaving the subscriber's stables on Monday, the 20th April, will proceed through Belega to Capa Traverses, where he will remain for the night; thence he will return by the Tryn Road to Scarlestown, where he will remain for a few hours; thence he will pass on to Frestown, stopping for a short time at Heavily's Cross Roads; thence to the Town Road, stopping at McNeill's; thence along the Town Road to Joseph Dillon's, where he will remain for the night; on Wednesday, the 2nd May, he will pass through the Mart to settlement to William Tuplin's, where he will remain for a short time; thence he will pass through Irishtown to James Doyle's, where he will remain for a few hours; thence he will pass by the Ponds to Darnley, where he will stop for the night; on Thursday, the 3rd, he will pass through Malpeque to the Shipyard, where he will stop all night; on Friday, the 4th, will pass through Indian River, Barbara White, New Annon, Traveller's Rest, and thence home, where he will remain every Saturday; on Monday, the 7th, he will proceed by Summerside to Saint Eleanor's, where he will remain for a few hours to serve Marce; he will then proceed through Miscouche to Fifteen Point, where he will remain for the night; Tuesday, the 8th, he will go to Egmont Bay, stopping at McNeill's for the night; Wednesday, the 9th, will pass through Quinquere to Lot 16, where he will remain all night; thence will pass through Lot 16 and St. Eleanor's, New Village, Traveller's Rest, and passing through Bluebank will return home. The above rounds will be travelled once a fortnight during the season.

TERMS—15s. for the season; 20s. to insure a Pair; and 5s. for the leap, to be paid at the time of service. If remaining till the Fall 7s. 6d. Should any MANE insured be sold or exchanged, the man owning him at time of service will be held accountable. Farmers will do well to avail themselves of this opportunity, as his stock is second to none on the Island. JOHN WILSON, Groom. Belega, April 24, 1860.

GREAT BARGAINS In the Harness and Saddlery Line! IF you want to lay out money to advantage in the above articles, call at the Subscriber's Establishment, where he keeps on hand a large assortment of all kinds of Saddlery and Harness.

Also, Trunks, Valises, Whips, Spurs, &c. Purchasers by wholesale will be allowed a liberal discount on all articles in this line. Gigs and Waggon trimmed with neatness and dispatch. Also on hand a few neat and substantial Waggon, cheap, one single and one double-seated. JOHN KENNEDY, Kent Street, near Dr. Johnson's, April 24, 1860. 3m

CHEAP GROCERIES! North Side Queen Square, opposite the Market House. IMPORTATION from Halifax and United States:—Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware, Wooden and Earthenware, Fancy Goods, Upper and Sole Leather, Buckets, Brooms, Washboards, Clothes-pins, &c.; Soap, Candles, Tobacco, Cigars, MOLASSES, SUGAR, TEA, Rice, Coffee, Raisins, Currants, Confectionary, Apples, Onions, Nuts, Peas, Beans, Crackers, Licenses, Pepper, Mustard, Coffee, Ginger, Starch, Blacking, Candle-wick, Shoefinding, &c. Upper and Sole Leather cut to order; and other articles too numerous to mention. Fresh Fruit—Oranges, Apples, Nuts, &c., just arrived from Boston, a stock of which will be kept up during the Summer. STEPHEN O'MARA, Ch. Town, April 24, 1860.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP. WE the undersigned have this day, by mutual consent, agreed to dissolve PARTNERSHIP. The business for the future will be carried on by Patrick Hickey, who is empowered to collect in all debts and pay all demands against the said firm. PATRICK HICKEY, GARRETT GILLESPIE, Charlottetown, April 17, 1860. 1d 3w

NOTICE. THE Public are hereby notified that the Notice of the dissolution of the Partnership existing between Mr. Patrick Hickey and the undersigned, was published without my consent; and that I have given Mr. Hickey no authority to collect the debts belonging to the firm of HICKEY & GILLESPIE. Debtors and others dealing with the said firm are hereby cautioned against making any payments or settlements which may prejudice my claims as a Partner. GARRETT GILLESPIE, Ch. Town, April 24, 1860. 1d 3w

NOTICE. TAKEN out of the files in Richmond Bay on the 6th inst. a small FLAT. The owner can have the same by proving property and paying expenses, by applying to the subscriber. DANIEL LYLE, Lot 16, April 24, 1860. 3i learned and accomplished gentlemen to be School Inspectors, they show their gratitude to him for his former services, and pointing out the evils of incompetence in his grave and elegant style, and illustrating them by narrating events in his own wonderful career, as well as for his distinguished efforts in promoting brotherly love and Christian forbearance amongst the tenantry of this Island.

Regarding the expediency of those who at present hold the posts of honor and emolument, will be of different opinions. What a glorious spectacle will not our Executive present, when the Hon. Highness the Prince of Wales and suite visit us during the ensuing summer? Behold one of them, the Hon. Little Grand Turk, on being presented to the heir of Royalty, exclaim with the dignity of a Sultan and the polish of a courtier:—"Your Highness has a great many honours on your breast whatever." Another of the Executive, being presented to the same august personage, will be distinguished by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as "Coles's Gray horse," will commend him thus:—"He be a fine hannumal your Highness, he brled right away from that other party, and now helps us to grind down them tenantry whatever." But what great conceptions of Colonial wisdom will the Prince and British gentlemen not have, when they see the tenantry, as they are called, by the Little Grand Turk, who will have to act as interpreter, and after introducing him as