

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

AUGUST 21, 1895.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Opposition are just now angling for the railway vote of Moncton. But if they were in power the railway men would judge by their actions in this Province and Nova Scotia, have no vote.

The Canadian Gazette strongly urges the Canadian Artillery Corps to arrange to compete at the Sh. eburness meeting of 1896, as the Canadian riflemen do at the meeting of the National Rifle Association at Bisley.

Escaping Mail: Mr. Laurier's bold announcement that he prefers an American dollar to a British shilling, need surprise nobody. The "American" dollar has long been the "object" to which the Brits have looked for victory.

Thomas Wright, an Oxford county farmer, deeded his farm to his son Albert, and afterwards wanted it back, whereupon his son endeavored to put him in an insane asylum. The old man is now looking for damages. In view of the usual experience of people who in their old age give their property to their families, the old gentleman does not much deserve to be considered different from what his son claimed.

Honesty is the bulwark of permanent prosperity. Kingdoms not founded upon it are swept away by adversity. Enterprises which seek to avoid its stringent provisions are forced into dissolution. The nation whose currency lacks the element of honesty is doomed to commercial and monetary misfortune and disaster through the entire period during which that lack continues. Dishonest currency is the hotbed of poisonous sedition, revolution and bloodshed.

In view of the sensational discoveries that are being made in the Province of Ontario, now in gaol in Philadelphia, it is interesting to call attention to the statement just published by the Rev. G. P. Merrick, chaplain of Holloway gaol, in England, to the effect that he had murdered no less than thirty women in the United States. Dr. Cream, it may be remembered, was executed two years ago in London for the murder in England of five women by means of strychnine capsules.

The Toronto Globe says that the only town in the Maritime Provinces that is making any progress is New Glasgow, Nova Scotia. Upon this the St. John Sun remarks that leaving out the larger cities we have the idea that there are signs of advance in Amherst, Parrsboro, Truro, Windsor, Digby, Yarmouth, Lunenburg, Sackville, St. Stephen, St. Andrew's, Campbellton, Woodstock, Marysville and several towns in Prince Edward Island. Let the Globe ask its Grit friends in some of these towns, say Amherst or Yarmouth, whether their community has made any advance in the last ten years and see what they will say.

There are really five kinds of peers—Peers of England, peers of Scotland, peers of Great Britain, peers of Ireland, and peers of the United Kingdom. The mistake of speaking of British peers—whether peers of Great Britain or of the United Kingdom—as British peers, is a defect on some 300 noblemen, dignity to which they have no right. The only noblemen who have a right to be styled peers of England or English peers are those peers of English nationality whose titles were conferred before 1707, when the crown surrendered its right to create more peers of England or of Scotland. And as these noblemen, even in 1707, numbered only about 180, they now number only about 100.

Halifax Herald: The New York Sun, on the strength of a report received at the state department from the United States consul at Victoria, B. C., announces that the seal fishery of Behring sea had been destroyed. We do not see the substance in the announcement, but if it were true we could not regard the fact as an unmixed evil. Nor do we see that the United States should regard the passing of the fur seal as a great loss, for while the few speculators constituting the Alaska Commercial Company have no doubt made a good thing out of their monopoly, to the people of the United States at large the fur seal has been merely a bill of exchange. If the fur seal had ceased to be there would be no less cause of international dispute, and perhaps of domestic infelicity.

A correspondent of the Charlotteville Patriot, refers to the "hordes of railway men" who are "voted as 'grits'" by the "bosses." "Eternal shame," says this Grit newspaper correspondent, "upon the Government that attempts to drive men to vote under the whip of the Moncton losses." But the Moncton Times declares that there is no vote in Moncton given free from the influence of losses or employers than the railway vote. There is absolutely no attempt made by officials or bosses to unduly influence it. The Conservative majority is usually smaller among railway men than among other classes of citizens in Moncton. The comments of the Grit newspapers are an indication, perhaps, of the way railway men would be regarded if the grits themselves were in power.

Wanamaker's big department store made four millions dollars of profit last year. An exchange says that all was due to advertising, and another exchange says, not exactly. It is true that the department store spends annually from a quarter to half a million dollars in advertising. But if he did not put brains into the advertising, the money would not ensure success. Further, if he did not put brains into the general management of the business, neither money nor the advertising would ensure success. Advertising is a very good thing, the very best thing for many lines of business—if it be gone into intelligently. But in this situation, exertion is usually made among retail details of business management. Wanamaker plans the scope and extent of his advertising, appropriates plenty of money to it, and is said to sometimes pay the experts who look after it a salary up to $10,000 a year. Thus he puts himself in the way of getting proper value for his big advertising outlay.

The Montreal Journal of Commerce calls attention to the fact that the recent attacks on Canada in the London Economist were not the journal's own articles, but letters from Ottawa. If Sir Richard Cartwright had not explicitly denied their authorship, they read so much like his effusions as to be easily mistaken for his work. As it is, we must give credit to his denial, and admit that there is at least another man in Ottawa who can slander Canada quite so vigorously as the Blue River Knight. The Halifax Herald says it may be worth nothing in this connection and is usually for denouncing these shameful attacks on our common country, and describing them "as the work of an enemy of Canada" that certain Halifax grits got mad at Sir James Grant in a recent occasion in this city. This goes to show that the Halifax Grits have Special Correspondence of The Examiner.

PASSAGERS via the Northumberland on Monday were, going, 40; returning, 26.

PERSONAL.—Rev. G. M. Campbell, Charlottetown, was a passenger in the Northumberland on Monday night, returning from Moncton. Mr. L. Chaisson, Tignish, passed through here on Monday on his way to Charlottetown.

Miss Mary Ashley, Charlottetown, who has been visiting friends here for the past few weeks, left by the express on Monday night for home.

Mr. E. W. Manson, of this town, who has been spending a few holidays in Charlottetown and Amherst, returned home last night, looking well.

His Grace Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax, accompanied by His Secretary, Rev. E. F. Murphy, arrived here via the Northumberland on Monday evening.

Mr. J. B. Russ, of the Hotel Russ, left Tuesday morning for a short visit to Westmoreland County.

The Council.—At the adjourned meeting last night the Chairman and all the councillors, except J. E. LeGuey were present. Policeman Peters' resignation was read and accepted. Mr. Patrick Daly was appointed night watchman for the present.

TEA.—The tea at Fifteen Point yesterday was a splendid success. About 2,000 people were present, and everyone was enjoying themselves. We have not learned the exact amount, but we are informed that it is in the vicinity of $800.

Last Friday afternoon Mr. R. V. Hunt gave a number of his friends a very pleasant sail on the Frank C. Batt. The object was to make an examination of the oyster beds which have been some years ago by Mr. Hunt. These beds are doing very well, producing good, healthy oysters. The beds give every indication of being a success.

DEAR SIR.—Your full and winter term is about beginning, I feel it is only justice to your institution, and those who may be contemplating a commercial course, to heartily recommend the Charlottetown Business College.

Last year, as you are aware, I took the full studies of the College, and I must state that your methods and system are splendidly suited to impart business knowledge, being practical and theoretical, but practical particularly.

A course at the College is imperative for any one who expects ever to enter commercial life or indeed make out an invoice or pen a business letter.

I wish you hearty success, in keeping with the College's honorable past and present claims on the public.

Yours truly,
S. G. Clow.

A DESERTED VILLAGE.
According to a despatch from Wichita, Kan., J. M. Davis, a member of the Legislature from Kiowa county, gives a dismal account of the condition in his section of Kansas, and especially of his own town. Five years ago Greensburg had 2,500 inhabitants, now there are 123. There is a bonded debt on the municipality of $45,000, and practically no valuation with which to pay it.

The few people now there decline to pay their taxes, and lots and buildings are being sold by the county treasurer. Farmers come into town and buy tax certificates for little or nothing. These they desire for the buildings, which they remove, caring nothing for the lots. Five years ago a flouring mill was erected at a cost of $7,000, the city giving $3,000 in cash. Recently this building was purchased for a few dollars and removed to Colorado. Owners of the $45,000 bonds will be looking for someone to pay interest and principal when due.

DRIVING PARK ASSOCIATION.
DEAR SIR.—Yesterday a friend asked me if it were the case that horse races were to be held here today and tomorrow, to which I replied in a rather surprised tone, "Yes, have you not seen them advertised?"

Never was I more surprised to note that your yesterday's and Monday's issues had not a single local paragraph to draw attention to these races. We trust we may be agreeably surprised with the result of this meeting.

Just fancy a six-inch advertisement for insertion twice a week on the last page of a daily being considered sufficient to draw a goodly crowd! Surely 'tis time we were awakened from slumber.

THE LIFE OF MAN.
What a wonderful fact it is—this eager, restless human life. Always unsatisfied, always reaching out for something beyond its reach. Tearing itself out in the headlong race for place or power, or the acquisition of some vexed problem, wearing itself out. Why should this result be hastened by disregard of health. There is no reason save man's proverbial disregard of natural laws. The individual whose health has been broken down by over-exertion in any line of human activity should seek at once the aid of Hawker's Nerve and Stomach Tonic, the greatest health restorer of the age. It cures indigestion, builds up the wasted tissues, and gives renewed energy to nerves and brain. A course of this great remedy rapidly restores a man to his full vigor and strength. It is sold by all druggists and dealers, at 50cts. per bottle, or six bottles for $2.50 and is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co. (Ltd.) St. John, N. B., and New York City.

WHAT WORRIED HER.
It was the night before the wedding, and he was bidding her good night, and softly whispered, "Tomorrow eve, darling, we begin our journey as bride and bridegroom, pilgrims of life together; hand in hand we will journey adown life's rugged road. We shall want to set out with a glorious equipment of faith, hope, and courage, that neither of us may faint and fall by the wayside before the journey is ended; will we not, darling?"

"Oh, yes, to be sure, only I really am so worried about the train of my dress. It didn't hang one bit nice to-day when I tried the dress on, and I'd die with mortification if it hung so at the wedding to-morrow. Go on with what you were saying, dear!"

JAMAICA, L. I., August 19.—Miss Dora Remsen, daughter of Isaac P. Remsen, a prominent man here, was sent to Bloomingdale asylum yesterday a raving maniac. Miss Remsen was a stout, young woman, and a few months ago commenced taking a flesh reducer. In a short while the compound affected her mind. She was removed to the Amityville home, and in a short while grew worse. She was then brought to her father's house here. A few days ago Miss Remsen tried to assault her mother. Then it was decided to remove the unfortunate girl to an insane asylum.

LADIES, clean your kid gloves with Josephine Glove Cleaner. It is not a liquid, leaves no odor, and can be used while the glove is on the hand. For sale only at A. W. Reddin's drugstore.

IN HALIFAX.—The Chronicle says: A new wholesale wine and liquor firm, that of H. Stanway & Co., has opened business at the Italian warehouse 245 Hollis and 48 Upper Water Street.

NEW WAY OF SNEGGING.—A new way of smuggling was recently unearthed in Bristol, Conn. A clerk employed in a wholesale house there had a bale of hay consigned to him, sent from Nova Scotia. On examining the bale, a roll of expensive broadcloth was found in the centre of it.

Remnants in white cottons, prints, grey cottons, gingham, flannel, dress goods, etc., are the great attraction at Moore & McLeod's to-day.
