READ TESTIMONIALS:

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, 1st June 1883.

DEAR SIR,—The eye-glasses and spectacles purchased from you in December last have given me comfort and satisfaction, and I never experience any strain upon my eyes after using them.

I remain, Dear Sir, your obedient servant,

T. HEATH HAVILAND.

Lieutenant Governor.

MR. B. LAURANCE.

I have been wearing a pair of eye-glasses purchased of Mr. Laurance four months since, and I can remark with truth that I see perfectly the smallest print, with ease and comfort, by artificial light.

DAVID STERLING.

I purchased, in December last, a pair of Mr. B. Laurance's eye-glasses, and have much pleasure in stating that I have never had glasses that suited my eyes so well—in reading the smallest print without any strain on the eye.

W. E. DAWSON.

This is to certify that I have purchased from Mr. B. Laurance two pairs of eye-glasses, one for my wife and the other for myself, and we are both very much pleased with our purchase.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"Is this a Mistake?"

MY DEAR SIR,—I have, in my possession, a letter signed "Clanranald," which, I opine, that the writer had a good right so to sign, for I agree with Fergus MacIvor, Vich Ian Vohr, that "the lineal chief of a clan is superior in rank to any Earl."

But, in your issue of Tuesday evening, I read a despatch from Ottawa, signed, in your paper, "De Winton."

Is this a mistake of the Press?

Or, if not, under what Foreign Potentate, having "no jurisdiction in this Realm of England,"* is the Peerage claimed by Lieutenant Colonel DeWinton, Secretary to His Excellency the Governor General, and Commander-in-Chief, (see Chappelle's Almanac.) I remain, my dear sir,

Yours very truly,

ROBERT BRUCE STEWART,

Earl of Ewaldale and Strathgarny, under King James the Third, and his son, King Charles the Third, of Great Britain, Ireland and France.

* See the 37th Article of the Protestant Church of England.

North River Takes the Lead.

SIR,—A North River Boy* has felt the reproach respecting the statements that have been published concerning the den of thieves, as formerly called, that are continually molesting the honest farmers of North River and the adjacent settlements. The "North River Boy" ought to remember that we only reproach a gang that is known by a majority of the inhabitants of P. E. Island to be a public nuisance. The "North River Boy" has stated that Cornwall harbors thieves more competent to rob churches and church yards than the thieves of his own settlement; but that is clearly known by the public to be an impossibility. Cornwall, like almost all settlements, may sometimes harbor a few thieves that occasionally commit trifling thefts, but North River appears to take the lead in thefts that are causing the people for miles around to feel alarmed.

Your's,

A CORNWALL SUPPORTER.

The License Act.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS AND THE PEOPLE.

"Has received very general endorsement."

—Central Canadian.

"An improvement on the Crooks Act in many respects."—Oshawa Vindicator.

"More beneficial in its results than the Provincial Act."—Strathroy Despatch.

"A measure that will meet with the approbation of even the most sanguine Grits."—Pembroke Standard.

"Under it not one of the abuses incident to the Crooks Act in Ontario will have a chance to creep in."—Picton Standard.

"It is a practical solution of the problem of liquor legislation, which has puzzled the wisest statesmen of the Old World for the last three centuries."—Chatham Planet.

"It has been received with universal favor by the temperance people as a great step in advance, while the restrictions are not such as to interfere with the reasonable and legitimate sale of liquor, where the people may not have decided to adopt prohibition."—Perth Expositor.

"It will give support to the temperance movement and encouragement to temperance habits. Mr. Blake and his friends, who childishly refused to act on the committee to prepare the bill, evidently feel that they made a mistake—so far as working any political capital out of the matter is concerned."—Fredericton (N. B.) Capital.

An editorial writer in the Globe the other day announced that Sir John Macdonald had fixed the licensing bill to meet the wishes of the licensed victuallers. The same writer, who also contributes to a weekly Grit paper called the Tribune, states that Sir John has made the restrictions and restraints upon licensed victuallers under the new law "galling," and that the victuallers "asked for a fish and they got a serpent." This is wearing two faces under one hat with a vengeance.—Toronto Mail.

Mr. Desnoyers, a member of the Montreal Licensing Board, is much pleased with the new license law. In an interview with a Montreal Witness reporter he stated that under the new Provincial statute the commissioners were obliged to grant every application for a license, provided the applicant did not bear a bad character. Thus there was no limit placed upon the number of licenses issued. Under the new law the number of licenses to be issued bears a fixed proportion to the population, and of course the issue of licenses is limited. This is a good feature of the law, but the reformers who also pretend to be of a temperance turn of mind do not appreciate it.

The poet has informed us that "the man that lays his hand upon a woman, save in the way of kindness, is a wretch," and in such a light Mrs. Welsh, of Pittsburg, viewed her husband Thomas. He attempted to playfully pound her; but she resented, and seizing a red-hot bayonet which had been used as a poker, thrust him through the lungs, inflicting fatal injuries. It is true that Tom was a brute and a coward, but at the same time to prod him with a red-hot bayonet seems kind of sudden and severe.

At a Conservative demonstration on Wednesday the Marquis of Salisbury delivered an address, in which he denounced to Government's policy in Egypt and Africa, and urged the discontinuance of bitter party antagonisms.

The Princess Louise has donated a handsome collection of sponges and corals from the West Indies to the Geological Museum at Ottawa.

Death of a Noted Canadian.

The following brief notice has been made of the death of Mr. Isbister, whose name must occupy a prominent place in Canadian history.

Alexander Kennedy Isbister, M. A., LL. B., whose death is announced in a despatch from London, was chiefly known for the part he took in wresting what was once known as the Red River Colony from the control of the Hudson Bay Company. He was a native of Canada
