

50 YEARS OF PROGRESS

On display at the Armed Forces Exhibit at the CNE, a replica of the Silver Dart, first powered flight aircraft flown in the British Empire, and a model of the AVRO Arrow, left, combine to illustrate progress in Canadian aviation during 50 years of powered flight in Canada. During a visit to the exhibit, AVRO test pilot Jan Zurakowski, left, chats with Leading Aircraftman Lionel McCaffery, of Calgary, Alta., one of the builders of the replica. Listening in from the cockpit of the vintage "kite" is RCAF test pilot Flight Lieutenant J. F. (Jack) Woodman, of Saskatoon, Sask. This model is "a perfect replica" according to J.A.D. McCurdy, who flew the original Silver Dart at Baddeck, N. S., in February, 1909. (RCAF Photo)

Steel Industry Making Steady Recovery In U.S.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The steel industry, bolstered by construction demand, is making steady progress toward year-end recovery, reports Steel magazine.
Building requirements are at a seasonal peak and helping to offset the unexpected slowness in steel buying by the automotive industry, the publication said Saturday.
July sales of fabricated structural steel reached the highest level in 14 months, and the metalworking weekly reports. Fabricators booked orders for 330,890 tons compared with a monthly average of 214,000 tons last year.
"July was significant in another respect," Steel says. "Bookings for fabricated steel exceeded shipments for the first time this year. As their backlogs grow, fabricators will abandon hand-to-mouth buying policies and build inventories of structural shapes."
Steel operations last week declined half a point to 63 per cent of rated capacity. It was the first drop in eight weeks. Production totalled 1,700,000 tons.
The tone of the steelmaking scrap market was reported easier, with mills generally holding back orders pending clarification of the business outlook. The magazine's composite on scrap prices rose on dollar a ton to $42.67.

N.Y. Stocks Set '58 High

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market entered its post-Labor Day phase last week by setting a high for 1958 and making the biggest weekly gain since July 26.
The four-day trading week produced a daily trading average of 2,950,071 shares, the fastest trading rate in four weeks.
Substantial rises by some of the blue chips pushed the Associated Press average to 1958 peaks but for the week as a whole, advances outnumbered declines 682 to 523.
In pushing ahead despite profit-taking the market ignored the crisis headlines about the Formosa Strait. The same indifference was displayed by commodity markets.
Exports declined by $6,000,000 to $249,500,000 and the seven-month total was $1,618,400,000, down by $28,200,000. The resulting trade deficit so far in 1958 of $491,500,000 is a little less than half the corresponding 1957 total.

INFLUENCED BY RUMORS

Prospects of further credit tightening moves by the U.S. federal reserve board had a somewhat dampening effect on trading for a couple of sessions. The boost in the discount rate spread to more federal reserve banks and there was further evidence of credit tightening by the federal reserve system.
The stock market, however, took this pretty much in stride so far as stock buying was concerned. Interest continued in lower-priced, more speculative issues.
The AP 60-stock average rose $2.20 to $106.90, putting it at its highest level since July 26, 1957, when it stood at $107.10.

Trade Deficit Is Pared To One-Third Of Last Year's

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada continued to trim purchases abroad during July, reducing its excess of imports over exports for the first seven months of the year to a third of the comparable total a year ago.
It also recorded a drop of six per cent in exports during July, 1957, but a slim export gain over seven months.
As of July 31, Canada had imported $203,700,000 more than she exported over the year but this was down sharply from $604,300,000 at the same date a year earlier.
Continuing reaction to the recession is credited with the trend toward decreased imports, unbroken since last autumn.
The latest figures were released Friday by the bureau of statistics as estimates. These invariably run close to the final statistics.
U.S. DEFICIT DOWN
The figures, showing an overall reduced American trade deficit and an increased trade advantage with the United Kingdom, appeared in line with expectations that import spending will remain under check pretty well throughout 1958, if not longer.
Imports dropped 10 per cent on those of July, 1957, down $46,000,000 at $432,500,000. Exports, for the third month so far this year, also dropped, by six per cent, standing at $421,700,000 as against $449,200,000 for July, 1957.
For the January-July period this year, imports totalled $3,066,700,000 as against $3,384,000,000 in 1957. Exports for the same periods were valued at $2,803,000,000 and $2,779,700,000.
Canada during July purchased $289,200,000 worth of United States goods, down $41,500,000 on the previous July. The seven-month total this year is $2,109,900,000 as against $2,466,700,000.
Exports declined by $6,000,000 to $249,500,000 and the seven-month total was $1,618,400,000, down by $28,200,000. The resulting trade deficit so far in 1958 of $491,500,000 is a little less than half the corresponding 1957 total.

U.K. EXPORTS RISE

A continued trade advantage existed with the U.K., with July imports and exports both rising. The advantage for the month was $25,900,000—up by $2,000,000 on 1957—and the cumulative total for seven months.

DON'T MENTION RAINY WEATHER

SUTTON, England (Reuters)—Don't mention Britain's rainy weather to Roy Garside.
Each time he tried to dial a friend's telephone number during a cloudburst Wednesday night, he got the automatic weather forecast announcing "more rain is on the way."
Engineers investigated his trouble. They said it was caused by rain water in the telephone cable.
