

There are three conditions:
When the blood is poor;
When more flesh is needed;
When there is weakness of the throat or lungs.

There is one cure: that is Scott's Emulsion.
It contains the best cod-liver oil emulsified, or dis-gested, and combined with the hypophosphites and glycerine. It promises more prompt relief and more lasting benefit in these cases than can be obtained from the use of any other remedy.

For Business Men

Things come to him who hustles There is no time like the present for advertising.

Today's advertisement creates tomorrow's demand.

Business ideas are necessary to make advertising success.

One touch of good advertising makes the whole world interested.

Making an advertisement truthful is making an advertisement strong.

Success will come to those who put business judgment into buying and advertising their stock.

An advertiser may buy a whole page, fill it with rot, and get less returns from his investment than the advertiser on the next page gets from an inch announcement.

No day passes but has some opportunity for effective advertising. The merchant who makes the most of these opportunities enjoys the largest measure of prosperity.

Never cut the advertising expenditure to a point that prevents the dissemination of news of store excellence to those who use what you have in stock or could be interested in the stock.

This is the month of recreation, vacation and stagnation. The green scum which forms over business along toward dog days is not only disgusting to the business sense, but is harmful to the business health. Avoid it as much as possible.

A business man in business gets business. He don't wait for it to come.
He don't complain because it isn't there. He hustles—he gets it—he keeps it coming his way. He is not a business man because he has a store.
He is a business man because he gets business.

July is half over—the year is more than half gone. Pushing merchants have had a successful season. They have encroached upon the territory of the man who was "known to everybody and did not need to advertise." Now is the time when the pushing merchant looks back over a season of gradual advance—the slow and conservative man can see where he lost here and there from following a wrong policy.
The progressive man is still enthusiastic and while he has subsided during the hot weather, he is planning for greater things in the fall.

While it is undeniably and undoubtedly true that people should "patronize home industry," and while a merchant may feel that people really should deal with him because he is prominent in church, society or public affairs, or because he does or does not do some commendable or reprehensible things, the fact remains that the people are going to buy where they can get the goods that suit them, at a fair price.
And every man who makes use of any argument aside from a strictly business one, in his advertising, is making a mistake. If he has the goods and sells them right, that's what he wants to talk about. It weakens his advertising to make any other claim.—Advertising World.

Advertising grows out of business.
It must represent a business. Advertising doesn't exist by itself any more than a flower can exist without a stalk or a root. If your business is not right your advertising cannot be right. It may look all right. It may be the right kind of a story, but if the store doesn't back it up, the story is a lie, and lying is bad in advertising.

There is no such thing as first-class advertising independent of good business methods.—Walston Dixey.

To make a success to-day, a man must have some one thing in which he is especially proficient. The day

Marmalade.

We have just received a new kind of ORANGE MARMALADE, put up in glass pots, which we are now offering at the

Also just opened a case of Pineapple Marmalade which is of very fine flavor. The Pineapple and Ginger Marmalade has also given excellent satisfaction.

Those are all new goods and you should try them if you want something nice and tasty.

when the "Jack of all trades" was in demand seems to have passed as far as the individual is concerned. The man who makes it his business to become an expert in some one particular line usually makes a success and can usually do better work in his line than the man who does not give such constant study to the subject.—Chas. F. Jones.

Advertising is no more uncertain than any other business venture. It is subject to the same rules and conditions. It offers the same chances of success. No man can tell in undertaking any line of business just what it will pay. He believes that it will pay and tries to make it pay, and that is all he can do. It is the same in advertising. You can advertise and spend your money in the most intelligent way and wait for results.—C.
A. Bates.

Make a Will.

If I were a young married man, says Francis Evans in the Ladies' Home Journal, with only a thousand dollars saved up I should make a will in favor of my wife and children, if only to save her the trouble of court proceedings in the adjustment of her third. Some men are cowards about making a will and others procrastinate. The cowards are afraid that the mere act of drawing up a will might precipitate them into a premature grave, while the procrastinator puts off a recognized duty from day to day until it is too late.

WEAK AND... PUNY CHILDREN

Become Strong and Healthy by using Dr. A. W.
Chase's Nerve Food.

Children are frequently left weak and sickly as an after result of measles, scarlet fever, etc., and in this state are easy prey to nervous disorders, rickets, spinal disease, or consumption, diseases which do not affect robust, healthy children.

The blood is weak and watery and the nerves improperly nourished. Feed the blood and nerves with Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, and the pale, pinched faces will soon become rosy and plump, and tiredness and weakness will give way to strength and animation.

Mr. E. W. Day, 62 Close Avenue, Toronto, writes: "My eldest daughter, aged eight, became very much run down. Her fretful, nervous, sleepless condition greatly alarmed her parents. She was taken from school, and in spite of the best nursing, the thin, weakened, bloodless face grew painfully worse. Fortunately we used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. An improvement became apparent in a few days, it continued, and in a few weeks she returned to school built up anew, and greatly to our joy fully restored to health."

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Listowel, Ont., July 10.—Mr. Thomas Tamblyn of the firm of Tambly and Cline, grocers, was lately a recipient of a communication from a gentleman in Toronto who is gathering statistics as to cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Some three years ago Mr. Tamblyn was troubled with a weak back and severe pain in the kidneys. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills and his trouble was removed.
The Toronto enquirer asked if the cure had been satisfactory. Mr. Tamblyn took the letter and wrote on the bottom in a firm hand, "The cure was quite satisfactory."

With salves, suppositories and ointments and dreading a surgical operation, scores and piles. The first application brings relief from the terrible itching, and it is very seldom that more than one box is required to effect a permanent cure.

cause of rheumatism. One pill a dose, 25 cents
