

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 22, 1882.

THE GENERAL RESULT.

Table showing election results for Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and P. E. Island.

Giving the Government a majority of fifty-four, with Kinney classed as independent, the result in Halifax disputed, and Manitoba and British Columbia elections still to be held...

The Patriot seems to be elated over the fact that this Province has returned four members to oppose the Government and but two to support it. We venture the opinion that, in their cooler moments, few will be found, even among the extreme Grits, to recede at the feeling that the Island has placed itself in antagonism with a friendly and generous Government...

In Queen's County, it will be seen by the returns, the Liberal Conservatives actually polled three hundred and eighty-eight more votes than the Oppositionists; while twenty-two men drawn from his support to that of Dr. Jenkins would have changed the triumph of Mr. L. H. Davies into a defeat, and ensured the election of both Government Candidates instead of only one.

The support obtained by Mr. Laird represents, in our opinion, the real solid strength of the Grit Party in Queen's County. That support, only, would Mr. Davies have obtained, but for the earnest gibbness with which he cajoled those who are susceptible to his arts and blandishments.

Mr. Davies has been elected to obtain for the Island a share of the Fishery Award. We shall see whether or not better success will attend his efforts than those of Messrs. Brecken, McDonald, Muttart, and Hackett. He will have a fair chance; for the Government is not more strongly opposed to the favorable consideration of the Island's claim, than the Opposition of which Mr. Davies is a member.

Not Enough of Ballot Papers. We have the best authority for stating that at several polling booths in Queen's County electors were deprived of their franchise for want of ballot papers. By some curious and very extraordinary coincidence the polling divisions in which the ballots were short, were strong holds of the Government. We may specially name Eldon, Belfast, where we are informed some fifty or sixty Liberal Conservative voters were deprived of their franchise because the Returning Officer had no Ballots to give them.

The Lawson-Stewart Case. Noticing last night a telegram in the Patriot purporting to give the decision of the General Assembly, in the appeal of the Presbytery of P. E. Island against the Synod in the Stewart-Lawson case; we enquired into the matter and found the facts to be as follows: The Synod had, we all know, decided to rebuke Mr. Lawson at its bar. The Presbytery thought that Mr. Lawson should be deposed, and consequently held that "rebuke" was altogether too light a sentence for Mr. Lawson. Hence the appeal. The General Assembly decided that rebuke was enough, and so ordered. Thus agreeing with the Synod in the nature of the sentence and setting aside the sentence of the Presbytery, Mr. Lawson returns home a Minister in good standing in the Presbyterian Church of Canada. Had the Presbytery got its way he would not be a Minister at all. The Assembly say they sustain the appeal, because otherwise they could not rebuke Mr. Lawson at their bar, but must send the case down to Synod and allow Mr. Lawson to lie under it for about eighteen months—Synod not meeting until Oct. 1883. The Synod's sentence in this case is sustained.

his sentence, a statement to the following effect, viz: that had he a new trial he would be able to show cause why the Assembly would modify its sentence, while at the same time he bows to what it has done.

More votes in 1882 than in 1878. 5,021

So falls to the ground the Grit statement that the electors have gone out of the Province in vast numbers. If our roads are, as Mr. Davies says, "lined with grass widows," there still remain a fine lot of good voters.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

SUMMARY OF PROCEEDINGS.

Rev. Mr. Laing, Dundas, presented the report of the Judicial Committee on the appeal of the Presbytery of P. E. Island from the decision of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces, in reference to the famous libel case of Rev. Mr. Lawson, publisher of the Presbyterian and Evangelical Union, recommending that the appeal be sustained, that the Assembly express strongly its sense of the injury done by Rev. Mr. Lawson's conduct, and that any repetition of the offence would incur more serious consequences. After some discussion as to whether it was wise to enter into details of the case, Mr. Laing made a brief statement of the facts. The adoption of the report was moved and in amendment Rev. Mr. Murray moved that the whole matter be referred to a commission to report to the next Assembly, it being seconded by Rev. Mr. Smith, Galt. At this juncture a complaint was made to the Moderator by a member that printed copies of statements of the case were being circulated in the House. The Moderator interfered and stopped the printed matter being circulated. Principal Caven spoke in favor of the report being accepted. The vote being taken the recommendation of the committee was sustained by a large majority. Rev. Mr. Smith, Galt, entered his dissent from the Assembly's finding. Rev. A. M. L. Sinclair read a statement from Mr. Lawson, in which he set forth, that while he believed that if he had a further trial his case would not incur such a severe penalty, yet at the same time he bowed with all humility to the verdict of the Assembly.

a brother who has occupied the place both of minister and editor. The inferior Courts of the Church, as well as this Assembly, have found you guilty of covenant breaking, as also of writing and publishing certain articles of a bitter and unchristian character. The editor of a newspaper occupies a very arduous and responsible position. He may make himself and his paper a power of incalculable good to society, or he may make it an engine of very great evil. It is greatly to be regretted that you have acted in such a manner, and published certain articles deemed so unworthy of your profession and standing. I trust that standing as you now do at the bar of this venerable assembly, in a very solemn position, the rebuke which I now, in name of this Court pronounce upon you, may, under the blessing of God, be greatly sanctified to you, through all your future life, and prove that the discipline has not been in vain. At the finish of the Moderator's remarks, Mr. Lawson bowed and retired to his seat, on the way to which he was met by several of his friends who warmly shook him by the hand.

NEW YORK, June 18.

The steamer "Germanic," with Davitt and his secretary, Wm. Redmond, on board, arrived outside the bar at midnight. A small steamer with a party of friends attempted to get alongside the "Germanic," but the captain refused permission, and the party were compelled to return to the city. On the arrival of the "Germanic" at the dock this morning, Davitt was driven to his hotel. There was no demonstration whatever. Davitt stated that he intended to make a lecturing tour of twelve days, going as far west as Chicago. "In my speech at the Academy of Music," said he, "I shall deal with the present situation in Ireland and give the details of the new departure, new schemes, and explain away the rumours of a rupture between Parnell and myself. We are in perfect accord, and consider affairs in Ireland were never in so hopeful a condition. My Liverpool speech, of which only garbled fragments have been published here, and used to misrepresent me, was not intended to controvert the old programme, but was a reply to the challenge of the press. I defy any one who reads the speech to say it is communistic. It is simply an explanation of the cry, "The land for the people," and to show how it affects Parnell and myself. Parnell advocated peasant proprietorship, I favored the land becoming the property of Ireland. If peasant proprietorship is conceded I am satisfied. Believing this inevitable from the growing poverty of Irish agriculture I am almost indifferent whether Parnell's or my own plan is adopted. No new departure is meant or split against what has been endorsed by Parnell, and the plan will probably be adopted. It differs only in this, that instead of requiring the tenant farmer to pay the purchase money for the fee simple of the land it would call upon the farmers to pay a land tax equivalent to about half the rent now paid to landlords. I mean it should be for principal possession of the land. If landlords are waiting for a difference between Parnell and myself they might wait till the twentieth century. They might as well charge me with being a cannibal as a communist." Davitt thought the people of Ireland viewed the new Coercion Bill with indifference. Of course the petty annoyances of the Bill would arouse the people to outrage. He again condemned the Dublin assassination, and considered Mr. Gladstone's position critical. Speaking of Minister Lowell and the American suspects, he said that the blame rested not so much on Lowell as the Government in Washington. He says he will not enter Parliament again. Landlordism as a system, he says, is broken and demoralized, and the question of self-government will follow in the wake of the Land League movement, as politically landlords are now a myth. The last speech the agitator will make in this country will be in Albany just before his departure. An address of welcome was presented to Davitt this afternoon by Prof. Brophy on behalf of the reception committee, to which he responded.

BOSTON, June 20.

Michael Davitt arrived in this city this evening, and addressed a large audience in Mechanic's Fair building. Referring to the Land Question he said: "My plan of settlement is this: Let the Government issue bonds or raise a public loan of the amount of 140 million pounds, bearing three per cent interest; let this sum be a competition to landlords for land which their creditors seized from the people of Ireland without any compensation whatever being rendered; let a land tax of 10 per cent be levied upon the land; let the landlords for rent, to be substituted for such rent, and to be paid to the State for loss of liberal revenue; let Ireland have the right of self-government, and let the land and Ireland be administered by an Irish Parliament. This is what I advocated in Liverpool, and this is my explanation of what I mean by giving land to the people, and this is what I say here to-night."
