THE FISHING BOUNTY.

(From the Commons Hansard.)

Mr. McINTYRE—I wish to say a few words with regard to the distribution of the fishing bounty. There has been a good deal of dissatisfaction expressed by those receiving the bounty, at the manner in which it has been distributed; I speak more especially of my own country. I am well aware that the bounty which was granted in 1882 was only distributed last fall, and that a large portion has not yet been distributed. I was approached by several fishermen shortly before I left home, who declared to me that they had sent in applications, and had never received any bounty whatever, and they said that several others who had sent forms application had received their bounty. I think there is something wrong in regard to the distribution. I may say that it has not been the same even in all the counties of Prince Edward Island. Although the distribution took place last fall, in Prince County it took place early last spring. At that time there was an election going on for the Local Legislature, and immediately before the election took place a distribution took place for that county. I think it is wrong that the fishing bounty which was to have been used for the benefit of the fishermen should have been used to make votes either one way or the other. Another point to which I direct the attention of the Minister is that when these fishermen make application for the bounty there are no forms to be had. I remember last summer and fall that the fishermen came to the sub-collector in the village where I live, and the usual reply was made that he had run out of forms. Another point is that the sub-collector in my own village carries on a mercantile business; and I understand that according to the regulations of the Fisheries Department he should not do so. I do not bring this to the attention of the Ministry from any personal feeling, but this gentleman, who is in every way capable of acting as sub-collector, is in the habit of selling goods, and the first thing which is kept out of the fishermen's bounty is the bills which they owe to this gentleman. I do not think that should be the case.

Mr. McLELLAN—What is his name?

Mr. McINTYRE—Michael Collic.

Mr. BOWELL—That is at Souris?

Mr. McINTYRE—By Order-in-Council last fall the fishermen were directed to send in their claims before the end of 1883. The fishermen complied with that direction, as far as they possibly could; but when they applied for grants, the same objection was made—there were no forms; and up to this time there are dozens of fishermen in that section of the country who have not received their forms, although the time for receiving them has expired. There ought to be a more simple method, it appears to me, of distributing this bounty than the method now pursued. It places too much power in the hands of these local boards or sub-collectors. A man who has taken the proper amount of fish required, may claim the bounty, and he is to be put off on one pretext or another. I know some cases myself of men having been induced to send in reports in order to get the bounty when they had really no right to receive it, not having taken the full quantity of fish required. So far as I can learn, I know of one case in my section of the country, perhaps in the whole county, of a fisherman not having taken a sufficient quantity of fish to entitle him to the bounty. Another matter that bears very heavily on the fishermen of Prince Edward Island is the regulation in regard to the length of the boat which declares that the length must not be less than fourteen feet keel. This is a very great hardship to our fishermen. There is a large section of our coast along which there is no harbor, and the fishermen are consequently obliged to haul their boats every night and every morning, so that they find the boats under fourteen feet keel the most convenient.

It appears to me that the essential ground for this bounty is the quantity of fish caught; it does not matter whether they are taken in a long boat, or in a short boat, or in any other way. It would be a great misfortune to our fishermen if they were obliged to use boats so large and bulky that they could not handle them. There are not many regular fishermen on that coast; most of them till the soil as well as fish. There is another point to which I wish to direct the attention of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries—a point which affects many other counties as well as my own. Certificates have been rejected sometimes for no other reason than I know of, except some informality in filling them. I know of several instances of hardship which have resulted from errors of this kind. I know of one case in which two men were fishing in a boat which was supposed to return 25 cwt. of fish, and they put that quantity down for the boat, when it was really the quantity caught by each. I believe several cases of this kind have occurred. I think it would be an act of generosity on the part of the Minister to inquire into the cases of these people, as most of them are poor; and, if possible, to grant the bounty to those who, from ignorance or the want of some informality in filling up the forms, have forfeited it.

Mr. MACDONALD (Kings, P. E. I.)—I do not altogether agree with my hon. colleague that there should be a simpler method of granting this bounty. On the contrary, I think we ought to restrict the method, because I believe instances have occurred in which people secured the bounty by going to their next neighbor, who might be a justice of the peace, and getting him to give them a certificate. I think every fisherman should be obliged to go to some sub-collector or officer under his jurisdiction, and make a proper affirmation before he gets the bounty. If that were done, it would prevent a great deal of the fraud which now takes place. It is proper that the fishermen who fish should get the bounty. But it should be seen that those who are not entitled to it should not get it. With respect to the length of boat, I agree, to some extent, with what the hon. gentleman has said. Our fishermen pursue their work on a coast where there are few harbors, and they have to haul their boats night and morning. Although their boats are small, they carry on deep sea fishing. I know of several cases of hardship in which fishermen have been shut off from the bounty, because their boats were only twelve or thirteen feet keel. An hon. member has referred to the sub-collector of Souris; but I venture to say that the Minister of Customs has not a more efficient or faithful officer in his service in any of the Provinces; and, if the sub-collector has a small business besides, it is a legitimate one, and does not interfere with his duties as collector. I am satisfied that any returns made under him have been properly carried out, and that he has seen that men making returns for fishery bounties have made a proper affirmation. Now, I wish to impress upon the Minister the absolute necessity of more strictness in regard to the granting of these bounties. I would suggest that some person in each locality—either the collector of Customs or some one else—should receive a small fee for seeing that the regulations are properly carried out. If that were done, it would prevent much of the fraud that takes place. I have never heard any complaints of blanks running out, and if they did, the sub-collector could easily write forms suitable for the purpose.

Victoria Notes.

Our merchants are cleaning up, preparing for the spring trade. The stores of Messrs. D. W. Palmer, Angus Brien, J. W. Sturdy and D. Lawson are, as usual, well patronized, and present a neat and tidy appearance, and the owners attentive and obliging.

J. H. McDonald's clothing store is a scene of industry. It is generally admitted that he excels others, of more pretensions, in good fits and workmanship.

John McKenna and Alex. McQuarrie, blacksmiths, can be heard from the rising until the setting of the sun.

J. W. Sturdy has a large schooner in frame. It is allowed by those competent to judge that the frame and model is all right. Sturdy deserves credit for his enterprise. He is, no doubt, one of our best men, and gives employment to a great many hands. He believes it is better to wear out than rust out. We wish him every success.

There is quite an improvement in the mail arrangement. Our mutual friend, A. Collett, Esq., seems determined to work this route up to the same efficiency and name it had when conducted by such energetic men as Solomon J. B. Leard, Esq., and the McFarlane Bros.

The store belonging to Charles M. Leard, Tryon, is being put in thorough repair. It is rented by Wright & Beas, of Summerside. We heartily welcome them to our village and wish them every success. We understand they intend to keep a dry goods and grocery store. With their reputation for attention, politeness, and fair dealing, we expect to see a rush to their store when opened, that will surpass the natives. To insure success they had better advertise in THE EXAMINER, as THE EXAMINER has the largest circulation of any newspaper in this part of the Island.

The Victoria Bridge has been repaired, and the work nicely done in proper time. The repairs were such that it would be imprudent to let it by contract, and our highly esteemed and efficient, and ever faithful representative, the Hon. W. Campbell, as usual, did what was, we considered, right in the matter, employed good and faithful men to do the work, and they did the work diligently and faithfully, which no body will nor dare deny. It is a credit to them, also to the Commissioner of Public Works. He is in every way more popular than he ever was in this end of the district. Any person saying to the contrary will find he is barking up the wrong tree, and time, we have no doubt, will prove it. We would advise Aldr. Brig from Hampton to attend to his birchen rod and mind his own business, and his associate who looks like a New York Alderman run to seed, or a member of the swell mob disguised as a countryman to attend to his Cape Breton change on the lime kiln brow. Their puny attempts at detraction will have no effect, but only a tendency to show the forethought of Mr. Campbell over his would-be detractors.

J. S. McQuarrie and Jabez Hudson are building a large store and warehouse. Capt. Stuart is building a dwelling house. D. W. Palmer is going to build quite largely this summer. James Johnston is enlarging his lobster business. Robert Logan has his tin shop nicely fitted up; he being attentive, sober, industrious and obliging, and a first-class workman, we feel sure of his future success.

Mrs. W. Furlong has moved away from the village, and as herself and family have always been noted for kindness and everything that was as it ought to be, they will be very much missed. They carry with them the good wishes of the whole neighborhood, and if good wishes will insure their success, they will be sure to succeed wherever they may reside in future.

With all the energetic men we have engaged in their several different occupations, we expect to see a good business done this season.

ADMIRABLE RESULTS IN FEVERS.

Dr. J. J. Ryan, St. Louis, Mo., says: "I invariably prescribe it in fevers; also in convalescence from wasting and debilitating diseases, with admirable results. I also find it a tonic to an enfeebled condition of the genital organs."
