

- Environment Week (May 18 - May 24) -

The Natural History Society is planning to be very active during Environment Week. We have prepared five television ads which will be shown throughout the week on Channel 13. Watch for commercials on the trillium, moving sand dunes, hungarian partridge, muskrats and red foxes. We also plan to publish natural history articles daily in the Guardian, Journal-Pioneer, Eastern Graphic and Queen's County Telecaster. For those who profess more than just an armchair interest in what's happening outside, we have an extensive series of walks, canoe and bicycle excursions during the early morning, afternoons or evenings. The Bonshaw Hills and Trail Club, the P.E.I. Outdoor Recreation Association and ourselves have cooperated in scheduling the following events for Environment Week.
