Crops in the Northwest.

The Toronto Globe has been enabled, by means of the C. P. R, to send a correspondent into the heart of the great Northwest. This correspondent writes (Sept. 21):

"I have now completed the circuit of the principal wheat-producing districts of Manitoba and some points in Assiniboia, N. W. T. I have found that the stories of the great harvest of the West were not exaggerated. No language could be too strong to describe the marvellous growth of this year's crop. This harvest has demonstratsd more clearly than ever the extraordinary fertility and magnificent capabilities of the Cananian Northwest as a wheat-producing country. In numbers of cases I have seen crops harvested which would stagger eastern farmers by their luxuriance—crops which, by ordinary rules of farming, could never be expected to grow, sown from poor seed, scattered carelessly over land which already had grown two crops without ploughing, scratched over once with harrows, and left to take chances. Many settlers have reaped unmerited success. In sharp contrast to the growth of these crops comes the question of their ripening and the danger of frost, which at present is the most serious drawback to the development of the country. Farmers contend that one good crop compensates them for their loss and yields good profit for every two lost. With that established it is easy to see what enormous profits farmers would reap if the danger of frost was overcome. The question, therefore, is of paramount importance and must receive attention before all others. The frost in Manitoba this year was year was not so severe as in others, but was sufficient to cause very considerable loss to country. The full extent is not yet definitely known. The story of the harvest will be told in threshing. Until then any estimate is liable to be wrong. At the worst, I personally do not expect there will be more than very little unmarketable, while fully 30 per cent should be magnificent sample No. 1 hard. A great majority of the remainder will be good for milling purposes. Regarding the yield, so far all returns are very encouraging, wheat running from 35 bushels to as high as 42. Yields like that will go far to compensate any loss from frost.

Canadian Fog Signals.

Professor Tyndall and the Elder Brethren of the Trinity House, who were on board a yacht off the South Foreland when many experiments were entered upon, were surprised at the deviation and loss of sound. One day in fine, clear weather, the noisy siren on the Foreland was scarcely distinguishable. Professor Tyndall and other talented men attribute this distraction to acoustic clouds which are not perceptible to vision. Experiments made in the Baltic supported the same idea in distant signals. The Canadian government appointed a staff of naval officers and meteorologists to determine whether, in foggy weather, these is any defect in the system of fog signals on the coast, and if so, the cause. After a long series of trials and inspections, the specialists have made a report which bears out previous tests; and the conclusions arrived at by that examining committee have induced the Canadian Government to issue a warning to ship masters, in which it is mentioned that no dependence must be placed on fog signals, as they are no guides to distance, but only to locality. Complaints had been made that the fog signals in the Gulf of St. Lawrence were negligently worked, and could not be discerned; in other words, the fog signals were declared to be misleading. The Minister of Marine met these protests by a thorough and exhaustive enquiry. The committee of experts were requested to ascertain the merits of horns against whistles, and guns against bombs. The experts have discovered that even under the most favorable conditions, that is, when placed on high, outlying points, with nothing to interfere with the passage of the sound, all fog signals are unreliable. Two reports of guns, fired under apparently similar circumstances, gave very different results, and a weak signal has been heard further than a stronger one. Shallow water, again, by causing unequal heating of the atmosphere lessens the value of the signals. Save as regards cost, the whistle is held to be superior to the horn, and either is better than powder, but it is only in comparatively few places that the cost and inconvenience of a steam signal would be warranted. The minor lighthouses in Canada will be supplied with bombs. The Government is to be credited with a desire to make the coast lights and fog signals as effective as possible.

Prescntation to Rev. F. X. Gallant.

On Wednesday evening last the parishioners of Hope River presented the Rev. F. Gallant, the esteemed priest who has been in charge of the Church at that place for several years past, with a well-filled purse and the following oddress on the occasion of his leaving to take charge of the church at Bloomfield:—

ADDRESS

To the Rev. F. X. Gallant:—

REV. AND DEAR SIR,—In behalf of the parishioners of Hope River, we tender you this address, together with the accompanying purse, on the occasion of your approaching departure from us.

It speaks for itself, but it reflects, we can assure you, very imperfectly the deep feelings of respect and veneration entertained for you. For the short time you have been amongst us, you have been always foremost in good works of charity, in the care of the children, the sick and the poor. You leave us a noble example of generosity and kindness.

Whilst you remained with us we can never forget the arduous duties which devolved upon you, and the sincerity with which those duties were performed, the words of wisdom which fell from your lips, the unvarying good example which you leave us, and the untiring devotion with which you guided our erring footsteps.

In conclusion, Dear Father, we humbly request you to remember us in your prayers, and rest assured you will ever hold a warm place in our affections.

P. REID
CLEMENT MCELMEEL.
THOMAS MURPHY.
JOSEPH DOYLE.
W. H. HOGAN.
MAURICE PETERS.
ANTHONY DOIRON.

Father Gallant made the following

REPLY:

To P. Reid, Clement McElmeel, Thomas Murphy, Maurice Peters, Joseph Doyle, Anthony Doiron, W. H. Hogan.

MY DEAR FRIENDS,—Your very kind and flattering address fills me with thoughts that words cannot express. You remind me forcibly, but feelingly, this evening, the eve of my departure from amongst you, that the relations which bind pastor and flock are about to be severed. For three years have I labored among you and you have always shown me kindness; perfect harmony, concord, and undisturbed peace have always reigned. You were ever obedient to my voice, docile to my counsels and ready to my call, so if I have not achieved more during my ministration the fault is mine not yours. And now obeying the voice of my Bishop I must take leave of you to assume the pastoral charge of Bloomfield parish. I must then say farewell to my parish, I must say adieu to the good people of Hope River. No wonder then that my heart is filled with sorrow. But departing one thought consoles me—the assurance that I carry with me the good wishes, the affection of all my parishioners Accept dear friends, my heartfelt thanks for the kind sentiments to which you have given expression in your touching address. Allow me to thank you also for the accompanying purse, and rest assured that I shall rejoice at whatever success you will achieve.

F. X. GALLANT.

News Notes.

The rain-makers in Texas have failed to induce showers in the El Paso district of Texas.

Milton W. Young, of Picton, Ont., took from an acre and one-third 13,500 quarts of strawberries this season.

Ralph B. Stanley was killed at a baseball game in Carson, Nevada, on Sunday, by being struck on the neck by a ball.

A. P. Bradley, secretary to the railway department, has been suspended, pending further inquiry into the matter of payment of salary as clerk to his son while the young man was absent at college. Secretary Bradley, who certified to the amounts, has testified that the young man had leave of absence from the late minister, but the department does not appear to be as yet satisfied on this point.

The death of Mr. Raikes, British Postmaster-General, discloses an incident of interest to us all He was on the point of recommending Imperial ocean penny postage to the treasury, and had given Mr. Henniker Heaton, M. P., an assurance that a favorable decision would soon be made public. A delay in making the announcement is due to the reference of the matter to the authorities of India. A successor to Mr. Raikes has just been appointed, in the person of Sir James Ferguson. Now that a decision has been reached as to who the new minister is to be, there will not be much delay in announcing the new project, and it is quite evident that we are within measurable distance of ocean penny postage.

ON THE WRONG TACK.—A man named Otto Kramer sat on a tack while travelling in a traction car at Philadelphia about a month ago. A day or two ago he entered suit in the Court of Common Pleas for $2,000, that being the figure at which he places his dignity, for he was with his best girl at the time, and to his person, for the wound inflicted kept him for a week in the hospital.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winsloe's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winsloe's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.
