THE KING'S COUNTY ELECTION CASE

THE EVIDENCE.

"THERE IS A LITTLE DROP IN THE WAGON"—ONLY A TREAT FOR OLD FRIENDS.

STEPHEN MCEACHERN, called on behalf of the petitioner, sworn, and examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I live at Lot 46. I know the candidates at the last Dominion Elections. I know James R. McLean. He and Mr. Andrew Whelan came to my house the day before the Election. I was at my own house. McLean did not ask me personally to vote, but he said there was going to be a change this Dominion Election in both the Dominion and Local Governments. There were only the three of us present, McLean, Whelan, and myself. I did not know until that day that McLean had left the McDonald party. I had not been at any of the public meetings. I made the remark to him that I was surprised that the Government had not done something for him, and he said the same to me, and that I had always stuck to the party. He said there would be a great change, and if there would be a change my brother Bennett would be looked after, and that I would not be forgotten, as he was in the Local House. He said Dr. McIntyre would be likely to be returned and would be sure to be returned. He was canvassing for him. He mentioned several districts, and said they were all the one way. What I understood McLean was that there would be a change in the Dominion Government. I didn't expect anything. I did not think myself fit for an office. When he said I would be looked after, I thought he meant an office. My brother Bennett has an office under the Dominion Government McLean said he was a moderate man, and if there was a change he would be better looked after. This was outside. McLean said there was a little drop in the wagon, and asked if I would have a taste. Mr. Whelan handed the bottle out of the wagon and put it back again. I took a drop. McLean did not take any. Whelan turned the wagon to leave, and just at that time Hugh McEachern came up. I did not hear the conversation, but I saw Hugh getting a drink out of the bottle given to him by Mr Whelan. McLean was not in the wagon. He was three or four yards from the wagon. I am an elector for King's County. Hugh McEachern is an elector also, I think. McLean, as far as I could understand, was canvassing for Dr. McIntyre and Dr. Robertson. McLean is not this few years back in the habit of coming to my place. He comes sometimes in Election times.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davies.—He said he supposed that there would be a change. It is not as customary as it formerly was to see a bottle in the wagon when travelling about the country. Hugh was not there when the conversations I mentioned took place. I did not intend to bribe McLean when I said to him I thought he had not been well treated. We both belonged to the McDonald party in 1878. He also said that my brother had not been well treated. I didn't think there was any bribery about it one way or the other Mr McLean had all the talk to himself, I did not say many words about it After coming out from voting I gave them to understand that I had voted for McDonald and Muttart. I don't think I spoke to any body after coming out. I did not work for McDonald or Muttart after coming out.

DANIEL MCEACHERN, called on behalf of Petitioner, sworn. Examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I live at Baltic, Lot 46. I am an elector for this County, and was in June last. I know some of the candidates at the last Election. I know James R McLean. I saw him the day before the Election. Andrew Whelan was with him. I saw them at Wm. Holland's I was working there that day. It was about 11 o'clock. I was ploughing at Wm Holland's that day and I was sitting at the table taking my dinner, and I looked out the window and saw a wagon coming up the lane. It was James R. McLean, and Whelan was with him. I went out to help to untackle the horse. Holland and Mr. Whelan went to find the place for the horse. All of us went into the house after the horse was put up, and Holland sent after my woman to cook something for them to eat. McLean asked me who I was going to support this time. He asked me if I wouldn't vote for McIntyre and Robertson. I told him I always voted on the Tory side, and that it wasn't worth my while to change now. When I came back from my own place, where I was sent by Mr. Holland for my wife, there was a bottle of whiskey on the table. When I came in Whelan took the battle and said it was a drop he had to treat his old friend Mr. Holland. Whelan asked me to have some. I did not hear Mr. Holland asked for his vote. They were talking about the elections. Politics was all the discourse. They were there I suppose an hour and a half The bottle was finished. They were talking to Mr. Holland. I did not hear them asking Mr. Holland to vote for any person. Holland asked McLean which he thought was the right party to support, and he said McIntyre and Robertson. I never saw McLean at Holland's before.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davies.—It appears to me there was very little taken out of the bottle when I went into the house. The glass did not make me change my colors. I told them I was a McDonald supporter and I remained a McDonald supporter. They remained there just long enough to have dinner Holland used to work at Souris for McLean.

JOHANNA MCEACHERN called on behalf of the petitionor, sworn and examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I am a daughter of Mr. Holland and the wife of the last witness. I remember McLean and Whelan being at my father's house the day before the election. I was at my own house, that is next to my father's, and went over to my father's house to cook for them. When I got there I found McLean and Whelan and my father there. My husband came in shortly afterwards I seen a bottle of liquor on the table. When I went in it was nearly full, about a glass or two was out of it. Mr. Whelan said he brought it there. They were talking about the election. McLean and father were talking. They were talking about which side of politics was the best. They spoke in favor of McIntyre and Robertson. I did not hear all that McLean said to my father Mr. Whelan treated them all round with the liquor. From the time I went in until I left the bottle was finished. McLean was at my father's house about twelve or fourteen years ago.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davies—I did not bother about politics. Whelan treated me, my mother, my husband and Holland, and McLean and Whelan both took a drink. I know that my father used to work for Mr. McLean. I do not live home. Left home six years ago. It is less than ten years since my father worked for McLean. My father gave them their dinner, and they treated us all round.

Havoc and Ruin.

RAVAGES OF THE STORM IN THE BRITISH ISLES HURRICANES OF WIND AND RAIN—BUILDINGS DEMOLISHED AND LANDS INUNDATED. —GREAT LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

(Via French Atlantic Cable to the N. Y. Evening Telegram.)

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The gale which commenced an Thursday night has continued except for short intervals, and to-day it rages as fiercely as ever. In this city the weather was very fine during the early part of yesterday; but as the day wore on the wind increased in violence, and when night fell it was accompanied by rain, which continued, though not heavily, during the night. To-day the rain has ceased, but the wind continues very high.

LOSSES BY WIND AND WATER.

Considerable damage has been done by the rainfall, which in the provinces was excessive, and great loss has been caused, not only by the gale, but by the floods. A number of shipwrecks have been reported and some loss of life. Owing to the high winds prevailing the policemen on duty at the new Law Courts warn foot passengers against the danger of going under the clock at the main tower on account of its insecurity.

TIDINGS OF DISASTER FROM ALL POINTS.

The gale has been felt severely in many parts of the country. At Salisbury the wind was accompanied by violent rain and there was much damage to property. The gale has continued with great violence throughout the east and north. At York on Saturday the temperature during the day and night was excessively low. Snow fell six inches on the fields, floods covered the outlying districts, large trees were uprooted, sheep drowned or starved and farm buildings blows down. The sea defences at Bridlington were much damaged. A huge wall of brick and masonry at Driffield was overturned. A considerable amount of damage was done at Bradford. At Preston walls were blown down and chimney stacks were blown through the roofs of houses, injuring several of the inmates. At Fleetwood, which seemed to lie directly in the region of the cyclonic disturbance, the gale was felt most severely. A large chimney fell, demolishing a building. At Chorley some buildings sustained great damage, and a chimney thirty yards high was blown down.

THE FORCE OF A HURRICANE.

At Chester the wind had the force of a hurricane. Snow fell during the morning and chimney stacks were overturned. At Newton a church tower was damaged and hay stacks blown over. The Irish mails were delayed. Passengers across the channel experienced most tempestuous weather. Snow fell for several hours on Saturday in North Wales, succeeded by a heavy downpour of rain. Rivers overflowed their banks and in many places the heavy rain caused serious losses.

INUNDATIONS.

The low lying country in the central and western parts of Ireland, particularly Tipperary and Queen's counties, were inundated. At Waterford on Saturday night great damage was done to property. Several old houses were blown down and the harbor was crowded with vessels seeking shelter. At Ennis the principal streets are flooded, the River Fergus having overflowed its banks. The main thoroughfare looks like a canal and all business is suspended. The effects of the storm in the neighborhood of Enniskillen have been very great. Much damage has been done to the town. The waters of Lough Erne reached a great height, and the River Dee overflowed its banks. In the vale of Llangollen many acres of land have been submerged. The inmates of the houses flooded by the waters had to leave their homes and find places of safety.

A PHENOMENAL DARKNESS.

In Birmingham a phenomenal darkness prevails and some of the streets are strewn with debris. At Stoke-on-Trent heavy rain has fallen without ceasing for the last twenty-four hours. In North Staffordshire the rivers along the Trent Valley and Churnet Valley overflowed in some places and miles of land are submerged. At Newbury a terrific storm of wind and rain swept over that part of Berkshire last night, and up to eleven this morning there is no sign of abatement. The floods are rising rapidly. At Kennett Valley and Wakefield rain has fallen in torrents, accompanied by very high winds. During the night and this morning and the lower part of the valley have been inundated and the waters are still rising. The river Calder overflowed its banks, and the lower floors of some of the large grain warehouses and malt kilns have been flooded.

Two prize fighters in the United States are in a dying state from the batterings they received in recent matches. A "manly art," indeed, to live by, and a manly death to die! The promoters of these two fatally brutal contests are said to be sneaking out of the reach of the law.

The Great French Remedy, Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills.

For the cure of Leucorrhœa or White's Excessive or painful Menstruation, Green Sickness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh of the Uterus or Vagina, Hysteria, Pain in the Back, or Piles, or for the purpose of invigorating and giving tone to the Generative Organs, two pills should be taken twice daily, or in very enfebled conditions, one pill three times a day. To effect cures in chronic cases it will be necessary to continue the use of the remedy for some months. A reasonable trial will create sufficient confidence in the remedy to insure its being taken until a permanent cure is effected.
