my new line of desirable goods, in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver ware, &c., &c., before you buy, I don't urge you not to look at other stocks, but merely ask—as a favor to me and a duty you owe yourself—not to purchase until you have seen my Bargains. See what others offer, learn the price on such articles as you need, but, under no circumstances, invest a dollar without first seeing my elegant attractions.

I don't fear criticism or comparison; on the contrary, I invite it. I can better make you understand the inducements I offer after an inspection of the goods and prices of other houses

This is plain talk; but the plain truth is, I think I can offer the best inducements in new and

Mr. Blake's Influence Thrown on the Side of Liquor.

The Montreal Witness (Opposition) says: "There are times when a blunder is really worse than a crime. Mr. Blake is one of the most conscientious of men, but he has committed a moral blunder which, unless Heaven forbid, may easily prove more mischievous to his country than ten thousand crimes. He has thrown his mighty moral influence on the side of the liquor makers and liquor sellers, every one of whom will rejoice exceedingly in his attitude on the prohibition question. He has thrown his mighty moral weight in the path of prohibition. For every broken life and every broken heart over which the country will have to weep during that postponement, Mr. Blake will be morally responsible. He has theories of law and he follows them: he makes no room in his reasoning for the conclusions reached by men who are actually at work trying to save men, who have labored in anguish for the purpose, who have tried moral suasion till it seemed positively foolish in the presence of licensed temptation. Here are, on the one side, the whole host of religious and the benevolent who have been forced to the conclusion that so long as temptations are publicly, and with the countenance of the community, held forth to our growing boys, so long will a proportion of them be brought to ruin, and so long will the community be responsible for that ruin. On the other side are the Sybarite philosophers who deplore evil at a distance and have theories about it, and the bar-room moralists who glibly proclaim themselves the true temperance reformers, a claim which they share with the Montreal Herald. The deep and settled conviction of all the religious classes counts for nothing with Mr. Blake against some theory of his. But what sort of even theoretic righteousness is there in a system by which the state licenses mills to be fed day by day with the bright youth of the land and remorselessly to crush their souls out, and receive revenue from their destruction? When the earnest women of Ohio had labored long and vainly for the salvation of those who were dear to them and those whom they pitied, they went with earnest words and much prayer to the tavern-keepers, thinking that if only they saw the evil they were doing they would desist. With a few exceptions, which made no permanent difference in the volume of the business, these simply replied that they had paid for their licenses. Their business and they individually were guaranteed respectably by the State, and as long as this was done and they kept within the law no one had any fault to find. What could these women then do but turn to their own husbands and brothers and sons, and plead with them that this public infamy should no longer be permitted. It is for a continuance of this iniquity that Mr. Blake has declared. As was said to Queen Esther when a similar license system had been inaugurated for the destruction of her people, salvation will arise to the people from another quarter."

An Amusing Case.

An amusing suit came before the Division court, Toronto, a few days ago, County Constable King suing Mrs. Burton for $70 commission for procuring her a husband. Plaintiff alleges that he was commissioned by defendant to engineer a scheme for getting Mr. Burton, a well known citizen, to marry her, and also to get a handsome young widow, who was acting as Burton's housekeeper, to give up her position. King was successful in arranging the marriage, but failed to induce the housekeeper to leave Burton's employ. It appeared from other evidence that after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Burton did not live happily together, and finally the wife discovered that the housekeeper was administering to Mr. Burton a certain love philter. Mrs. Burton procured a bottle of this wonderful mixture, which she administered to her husband by pouring small doses upon his coat tail. But as it had no effect she commenced to punish him in various ways, till finally he desisted her. Defendant alleges that her solicitor brought about the marriage between herself and Mr. Burton, and not plaintiff. Judgment was reserved.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected, and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when these diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price 75 cents, large bottles.

A despatch from Genoa reports the loss off that port by drowning of a boat crew of nine persons.

The Italian Chamber of Deputies has approved of an extra credit of $5,000,000 for the War and Marine Departments.

The Spanish Government proposes to establish commercial bureaus in London, Paris, New York, Mexico and Buenos Ayres.

John Keefe, known as "Captain Moonlight," has been sentenced to five years' penal servitude for raiding houses in Limerick and robbing them of arms.

The Canadian News says in effect that the choice of a successor to the late Bishop Maclean, of the Saskatchewan, rests between Dean Grisdale and Archdeacon Pinkham. The appointment rests with the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Canadian Pacific Telegraph.

A MOST WONDERFUL WIRE TEST—VICTORIA, B. C., AND LONDON, ENGLAND, EXCHANGING GREETINGS—NEW ORLEANS AND NEW WESTMINSTER.

Ever since the Canadian Pacific Co. took over the Government telegraph system in British Columbia they have been perfecting it until it is now in the same high state of excellence as are the other lines of the Company. In order to test its efficiency as a great trans-continental circuit the Company recently placed London, England, and New Westminster and Victoria practically in one unbroken circuit, thus demonstrating that should the Imperial authorities in London at any time wish to place themselves in instantaneous connection with their naval authorities on the Pacific coast it could be done by means of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph. At about 3 o'clock Montreal time New Westminster, B. C., was placed in direct circuit with the Mackay-Bennett cable office in New York and after exchanging greetings, the New York office told New Westminster he would attach their main Atlantic wire and that as soon as he gave "the signal" he was to call Canso, N. S. The signal was given, and Canso and New Westminster exchanged greetings with as great facility as though they had been as near each other as Toronto and Montreal. The distance is about 3,500 miles of land line and 1,000 miles of cable or 4,500 miles in all. At 12.20 p. m. New Westminster, B. C., time, that office sent the following telegram to London and in five minutes received the attached reply:—

"To London—New Westminster, B. C., sends greetings to Old Westminster. 12.20 p. m., our time. Weather cloudy; light rain; ther. 44° above."

REPLY.

"Old Westminster to New Westminster. London time 8.22 p. m., Greenwich. Old Westminster sends kindly greetings to its younger namesake. Weather here is heavy, fog; temperature about 32° above. The city is enveloped, but about three miles outside the weather is clear."

"New Westminster to Old Westminster—we heartily reciprocate the kindly greetings from our big brother. The working of this wonderful circuit demonstrates the feasibility of this being the most direct and practical route between England and the East. Before another 12 months have passed, we hope to be regularly handling the cable business between England and the East via this route. Please give us some press reports from your papers."

"Winnipeg, the centre of Canada and metropolis of the greatest cereal-producing region of the North American continent, sends greetings. Weather clear and bright; therm. 30 above. We are a happy and contented people, and there is room for millions more. Come and join us in building up a grand Canadian nationality under theegis of the flag that's braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze."

REPLY.

"London to Winnipeg:—8.22 p. m.—We have heard a great deal about your wonderful city, I cannot but admire its marvellous progress. Your city is bound to be the centre of a vast population. Let us hope that the many thousands that will leave these shores to find homes in your country will grow up in the path marked out in your telegram."

Other telegrams were exchanged between the officials of the different companies at New Westminster, Winnipeg, Montreal, New York, Canso and London, when the circuit was closed and New Westminster was put in circuit with Buffalo, who gave him over the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.'s lines a direct connection with New Orleans. The operator working in New Orleans happened to be an old Montrealeur, knowing the operators at Montreal, Winnipeg and New Westminster, and they had quite a gossip together over old times. The thermometer at New Orleans was 75 above zero and the operator there seemed surprised to learn that the weather at Winnipeg was so mild.

The distance from New Westminster to New Orleans is estimated at about 5,700 miles. This circuit and the cable would give one some idea of the vastness of the Canadian Pacific Co.'s telegraph and its connections.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites

seems to possess remedial powers of great efficacy. It heals the irritation of the throat and lungs, makes pure blood and builds up and fortifies the system against further inroads by disease. Take no other.

In the Italian Chamber of Deputies a few days ago, Signor Ricotti, Minister of War, after reading the military budget, declared that Italy was now in a position to mobilize and victual 400,000 troops, not counting the reserves. The work of providing the troops with repeating rifles has been begun, and 1,000,000 of them would be in use in 1888. Though at the present time there was nothing to threaten the peace of Italy, it was useless to ignore the warlike indications in the East. He believed Italy would be well prepared in the event of an outbreak in politics.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gurgles, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.
