

STATIONERY

It is an annoying incident to sit down to your desk to write a letter, and there to find that your pen scratches, or your ink is gone, or you have but one sheet of paper and that is soiled, and as for envelopes your assortment may be varied, but not one fit to use. Call and see us before that happens again. We'll fix you up all right.

THE DAILY EXAMINER

JUNE 22, 1900

MR. ANDERSON'S LETTER.

A letter from Mr. John Anderson, President of the Provincial Alliance, will be found in THE EXAMINER of to-day. The letter is an interesting and timely contribution to the literature of the prohibition discussion. It shows conclusively that the measure of prohibition passed by the Pineau Government is not that which the temperance people wanted, notwithstanding the prattle of the Guardian. The history of the bill is traced by Mr. Anderson. He and the other gentlemen associated with him in its preparation were from the first suspicious of the Government and told them that if the measure placed in their hands was mutilated or changed in any essential particular it would not afterwards be recognized by the Alliance. But this did not deter the Government from interfering with the measure and so emasculating it that there is little or nothing of the original article left. Clauses that were essential to the effectiveness of the act were either struck out or so amended as to practically nullify the law and make its proper enforcement a matter of impossibility. The clause prohibiting the sale of liquor in clubs was among the first to be sacrificed, and the very object of the law was in this way defeated. The unfairness and ineffectiveness of a law such as this was pointed out when the bill was under discussion in the Legislature, but the club element was evidently master of the situation and the amendments introduced by Mr. McKinnon and Mr. Birch were promptly voted down. The Alliance also wanted all offences subsequent to the second punishable by imprisonment without the option of a fine; but the Government were after "blood money" and promptly wiped out this section also. As the bill now stands it may be used as a license law, and in order that the provincial treasury may not suffer the fines have been made higher than under the Scott Act. The Alliance also wished the bill to come into force in December, when all the liquor licenses now issued shall have expired. But the Government wanted the $8,000 or so of license money for six months longer and provided that its enforcement be postponed until June of next year! Other changes were also made in the Alliance bill, as pointed out by Mr. Anderson, all of which detract from its usefulness as a prohibitory measure. The measure as it stands is considered ineffective by Mr. Anderson and those for whom he speaks. But he is hopeful that it will be so amended at the next session as to make it workable. Evidently, however, nothing is to be hoped for from the Pineau administration. Twice already has Premier Farquharson given the Temperance Alliance a stone instead of the bread they sought, and he may be depended upon to do it again if he is given the opportunity.

—Premier Emerson, of New Brunswick, has retired from public life to accept a seat on the Supreme Court bench. Five prominent Liberal members in the Federal parliament, including Speaker Bain, have formally announced that they will not seek re-election at the approaching general election. This desertion of their party on the eve of an election is significant.

THE VICTIM.

The new Liberals are holding a convention to-day to select a candidate to contest the Second District. The man already chosen is Dr. Douglas, of Hunter River. There was much trouble in getting a victim, but Dr. Douglas finally consented. The general opinion is that he is not in it, and will be defeated, as he deserves to be. Even the delegates complain that he is not known to the people and openly express their doubts as to his chances. The old Liberals are leaving the ranks, and without their assistance it is freely admitted that it is impossible to carry the District.

THE FOOD SCANDAL.

The independence of the Guardian may be judged from its article on the Emergency Food Scandal. Whilst every respectable newspaper that refers to the matter at all condemns the transaction and admits that a fraud and scandal has taken place, the Guardian advances excuses and asks the public to suspend judgment. In this as in many other public matters the attitude of the Guardian is denounced by the better-thinking portion of the community.

A HARD JOB.

Dr. Douglas, in addition to being entirely unknown to the vast majority of the electors of the Second District has to contend against the unpopularity of the Farquharson Government. The sins of that Government would kill any candidate, let alone an unknown one. Dr. Douglas has a hard job on hand. He will fail, and those who refused the nomination know it.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—McKinley and Roosevelt are the unanimous nominees of the Republican Convention. Both will accept.

—Already the Grits are picturing imaginary quarrels among Conservative leaders as to who shall have seats in Sir Charles Tupper's cabinet. This is significant.

—A correspondent thinks that the title of the prohibitory law passed by the Pineau-Farquharson administration should be "An Act Permitting the drinking of liquor in Clubs, 1900."

—The electors of the West River District should beware of the prominent politician who is hawking around a pledge for their signatures. The person engaged in this business should pay peddler's license.

—Mr. John Anderson points out that the eliminating of the club clause from the prohibition bill submitted to the Government by the Alliance leaves the door wide open for the defeat of the very intention of the act.

—Messrs Mackenzie and Maon, it appears, have sent in to the Government a bill for $335,434 for expenses incurred in connection with the Yukon railway they did not build. They will probably get the money, too. This is the session before an election.

—A meeting was held at Canoe Cove Lot 65, last evening to select delegates to attend the Grit convention in Charlottetown today. But no one could be found willing to accept the position. This clearly shows the feeling against the Pineau government in that section of the West River District.

—It is pointed out by an exchange that sufficient evidence has already been given in the emergency food investigation to show that a fraud has been committed and that the minister has been guilty of negligence at least. Staff that is little better than plain wheat was brought in from the United States and palmed off as "concentrated food." This was brought in free of duty and it is shown that the goods were valued for customs purposes at 30 cents while the Government paid two dollars per pound.

—The Hamilton Spectator says: "The apology offered for Sir Wilfrid Laurier's conduct in keeping his seat while the members of the House of Commons were singing God Save the Queen recalls the article in La Temps (Paris) in which, among many sneers at the joy of the London people over the relief of Mafeking, it said: "At the theatre the audience brutally interrupted the performance at the most thrilling moment to chant God Save the Queen."

—The words of Sir Charles Tupper on the occasion of his appeal for the enlargement of the scope of the election frauds commission are worth repeating. Here they are:

"We have no objection to making its scope as wide as possible. We hail with delight this commission. If there be a man in the Conservative party to whom you can bring home such frightful rascality and scoundrelism as prevails in West Huron, we want to see him exposed and punished. We care not how far back you go. You may go back to the Greek Kalends if you like."

These are honest, manly words, such words as should always emanate from public men. But they did not influence Sir Wilfrid. Every suggestion Sir Charles made was refused.

"I tried all sorts of medicines but got no relief until I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They made a new man of me, and the old troubles seem to be driven out of my system."
