EUROPEAN.

LONDON, Oct. 28.

At a meeting of the Borough magistrates at Limerick on Wednesday, it was decided that 100 additional police be drafted for service in the town, on the occasion of Parnell's reception on Nov. 1st. It was also decided that liquor shops be closed on that day.

DUBLIN, Oct. 28.

Between Templemore and Thurles, signal flashes on the most approved military system are carried on nightly, and are answered by flashes from various points on the hills. There appears to be quite a system of communication by such signals and flashes, which is considered ominous of mischief.

Lord Cloncurry, who owns extensive estates in the counties of Dublin, Kildare and Limerick, has received threatening letters.

The Magistrates of the County Cork have passed a resolution asking for the suspension of habeas corpus until the country becomes more peaceful. The impression gains ground that unless some such measure is taken and a stop effectually put to assassination in this part of Ireland, the North and East will be roused to active intervention, and civil war will be precipitated.

At a meeting of the Dublin Diocesan Synod, a resolution was passed urging the Government to take measures to protect their Protestant countrymen. A copy of the resolution was sent to Gladstone.

The workhouse at Bantry is being prepared for a company of soldiers.

The Home Rule confederation of Great Britain and representatives of the Radical Clubs have passed resolutions condemning the prosecution of the Irish agitators.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.

A Dublin despatch, of says the arrangements of the Government for the prosecutions are nearly complete, but the utmost secrecy is observed. Only a few officials at the Castle are aware of the exact intentions of the Government. The indictment is being printed in England, and every precaution is being taken to keep the intentions of the Government unknown till a definite decision is reached.

The weekly remittances to the Land League from the United States average $1,500.

LONDON, Oct. 28.

There is great excitement at Dublin. It is stated that warrants have been issued for further arrests of members of Land League.

(By cable to the N. Y. Herald.)

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.

Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, is now roused with the expectation of a stirring winter. All feel that the country is on the eve of a grave crisis. The agitation has become more than an agitation. It is open social revolt against a movement to crush the ruling class of Ireland by intimidation and force. There is nothing to be compared with it since the French Revolution. The prosecutions are only intensifying the bitter feelings of the agitators and drawing to their side many who have hitherto disapproved their course. Messrs. F. S. O'Donnell and Justin MacCarthy, members of Parliament, to day applied for membership in the League on account of the prosecutions. It is also rumored that Mr. Shaw will resign from the Land Commission for the same reason. No one believes for an instant that the prosecutions will be successful. A disagreement is confidently anticipated. The excitement among the members of the League is not to be exaggerated. Their speeches since the prosecutions were threatened have been fierce and violent, characterized by intense hatred and contempt for the government and the landlords. Mr. Forster, who was once very friendly with Mr. Parnell, is now bitterly denounced and nicknamed "Buckshot Forster." The truth is that Mr. Forster is sadly unfitted for such a really serious task as the pacification of Ireland. Like most Irish secretaries he is totally ignorant of the country, its people or history. His only recommendation here is that he visit Ireland and distributed a few bags of meal during the famine thirty odd years ago, an incident that reminds one of the gentleman who did not know German, but who played the German flute. It is, therefore, no wonder that it is reported that he has resigned. That, as yet, is probably untrue, though it would not be surprising if a Cabinet crisis were caused by the action of the government.

FEARLESS ATTACK.

The attitude of the Land League is now one of fearless attack upon everything and everybody with the bitterness of desperation. Mr. Parnell, at the Galway banquet on Sunday evening, furnished the government with better ground for prosecution than it had before. Mr. Killen, one of the agitators arrested last year, said they had cast off all allegiance to England. Ireland was hereafter one of the States of America. Mr. Parnell followed and said that he wished to pay tribute to his countrymen abroad for their kindness to him while in America. His exact words were these:—"I feel confident that if you ever call upon them—the Irish in America—in another field and in another way for help, and if you can show them there is a fair and good cause for success—(enthusiastic cheering)—you will have their assistance, their trained and organized assistance, for the purpose of breaking the yoke that encircles you, just in the same way that you had their assistance last winter to save you from famine." Mr. Parnell thus concluded:—"If the government prosecute the leaders of this movement it is not because they wish to preserve the lives of one or two landlords; it is because they see that this movement is the most dangerous movement to their hold over Ireland; it is because they know that if they fail in upholding landlordism here they have no chance of maintaining English rule in Ireland. I would not have taken off my coat and gone to this work if I had not known that we are laying foundations in this movement for the regeneration of our legislative independence. Push on then towards this goal. Extend your organization. Let every tenant farmer, while he keeps a firm grip on his holding, recognize the great truth that in so doing he is helping to break down English misrule in Ireland."

SOCIAL WAR.

The city is filled with alarming rumors, many of which are baseless, though the government is awakening to the fact that they have a serious social war and desperate men to face. The Irish garrisons are being filled to their utmost capacity. The arrest of Mr. Healy, Mr. Parnell's secretary, at Bantry, is not a government act, but is due to his visiting a tenant who had taken a farm from which another had been evicted and trying to make him relinquish it. The sudden breaking out of disturbances at Cork seems to mark a series of regularly organized outrages there, which now exceed those in any other country. Rents are being fairly paid in many parts of Ireland, but wherever the Land League has extended its organization, only Griffith's valuation is offered by the tenants, and this the landlords have nearly universally refused. The consequence is that no rent is paid. The papers are filled with reports of outrages in the West and South, but not a third of those taking place are reported. The list of names of agitators to be prosecuted may be possibly modified before the informations are sworn, but the last list sent in is correct, so far as known, including, namely: Messrs. Parnell, Dillon, Biggar, T. D. Sullivan, Sexton, O'Kelly, O'Sullivan, Arthur O'Connor, P. O'Connor, Brennan, A. Egan, O'Sullivan, assistant secretary of the Land League; Kettle and Boyton.

A FIRM FRONT.

At an exciting meeting of the Land League to-day, Mr. Dillon presiding, the greatest determination was expressed by all present to keep a firm front and fight the prosecutors to the bitter end. Every reporter and correspondent was closely questioned before he was allowed to attend the meeting. A reporter pretending to represent the Ulster Gazette was ejected as suspected. He undoubtedly was a Government reporter. Mr. Dillon made a long speech, defending the policy of the League and replying to the accusations that the League is responsible for outrages. He said: "Personally, I don't believe there is any man in Ireland or England that has a greater detestation for assassination than I have; but I am not going to speak personally. I want to say that the policy of the National Land League has been always distinctly a policy of self-defence, not a policy of outrage or crime. I claim that we have restrained the people from outrage; I claim that we have saved the lives of landlords and agents in Ireland this year, and so long as our organization holds it will prevent private attempts on human life and as far as possible will keep the people to this open and manly policy which has always been set before them by the Land League; but if the Government break up an organization of this kind and fill the jails of Ireland with leaders in whom the people put trust, who have advised them to pursue a policy of peace, and if the landlords and agents in Ireland then begin to feel the power of the rifle and the assassin, then I say the blood be upon the government and Mr. Forster and their insane advisers who have driven them into a policy which may end by making Ireland a very hot place for the landlords."

MR. EGAN'S RESOLUTION.

Mr. Egan moved the following resolution: "That in the face of the threatened prosecution of members of the Land League by the English Government, we call on the Irish race all the world over to answer such coercive measures by resolute organization for the purpose of defending the principles and people of Ireland, and ardently request Michael Davitt to remain in America for the purpose of protecting the great and extensive movement among the United States." The resolution was adopted. There is great excitement at Cork in connection with Mr. Healy's arrest. Indignation meetings are to be held in the neighborhood by the farmers who are indignant with Mr. Barrett, the agent, who, it is suspected, forced Manning, the tenant, to swear information against Mr. Healy. The police guard Barrett's house and he carries his rifle wherever he goes. The words reported to have been used by Mr. Healy were: "If you don't give up the Land League will visit you." I am informed on good authority that Mr. Redpath's name is withdrawn from the list of prosecutions.

WARRANT OF ARREST.

The following is the warrant on which Mr. Healy was arrested: "The Queen at the prosecution of sub-Inspector Kennedy against T. M. Healy: Whereas, complaint has been made on oath and writing that, whereas the complainant believing that on the 18th day of October, said defendant did unlawfully attempt, by threats and menace, to compel Cornelius Manning to quit his farm at Cahne, and did also deliver to said Cornelius Manning a message, threatening him with injury and damage unless he gave up said farm; this is to command you to whom this warrant is addressed to arrest said Timothy Michael Healy and bring him before me or any other justice of said county." A warrant is also out for the arrest of J. B. Walsh, who was Healy's companion.
