COLLEGE DEBATE.—The subject debated by the students of the Prince of Wales College on Saturday evening was "Which is the better for Canada Protection or Free Trade." The vote stood 17 to 11 in favor of free trade.

WILL FINISH TO-MORROW.—To-morrow we will publish the last chapter of our story, "The Second Cabin Passenger," which has interested so many of our readers, and the absorbing question as to who stole the diamonds will be solved to everybody's satisfaction. On Wednesday we will begin the publication of another short story which is even more interesting than the present one.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon Bernard Murphy pleaded guilty to the larceny of $5 29 from Elizabeth Anderson on the 1st of August last, and was sentenced to two months imprisonment. Daniel McMillan, the younger, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault on William L. Duncan and was remanded until Thursday for sentence. The Scott Act case against Patrick McAleer was adjourned until Wednesday.

RECOVERED.—Mr. Joseph Stanley has recovered the sleigh and harness lost at Mount Stewart about a week ago, and brought them to the city on Saturday. It seems that the body of the horse with the sleigh and harness attached floated with the tide and was found by a Mr. McIntyre. It is said that the harness is little the worse, but the sleight will require a new runner and some other repairs.

CONCERT AT EMERALD.—The concert to be given at Emerald to-morrow evening promises to be a great success. Everything points to a large attendance from the city. The Benevolent Irish Society held a meeting yesterday afternoon and decided to attend, and a committee was appointed to forward the movement, composed of R. F. Madigan, Thomas Driscoll, Martin Walsh, P. McQuillan and John Lappin. The special train will leave here at 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and will return after the concert. The return fare will be only seventy-five cents. The promoters of the entertainment request all who intend going by the special train to leave their names at Reddin Bros, drug store as early as possible.

PARKSIDE FARM SALE.—The Agriculturist reports that the sale of horses at Parkside Farm, Summerside, on Wednesday last, was very successful considering the dull times and the low prices at which horses have recently been selling. Parkside was bought by J. A. Gourlie, V. S., Summerside, for $1,975; Parkland, by Geo. B. Sims, Kensington, for $575; Parlo, by James Houghton, Summerside, for $345, Parkside Jr., by Philip Francis, Dundas, for $340; matched pair of fillies, Park Maid and Park Miss, by J.A.Gourlie,V.S., Summerside, for $200; Lady Parkside, by E. REPLY TO "ONLOOKER."

SIR,—Referring to the letter of "Onlooker" in the Patriot of Saturday, I have yet to learn that the Frenchmen of Quebec are not our fellow Canadians, or that they are to be classed with "foreigners" or "outsiders." I have heard that their contractors are given to botch and boodle; but I dare say that in this regard they are not much worse than P. E. I. contractors. They all need to be watched. It seems to me that the Bishop of Charlottetown exercised prudence when he went outside the Province and asked for tenders on plans prepared in Quebec. We all know that there are some really fine buildings in Quebec, though I am free to admit that a great many of them are not up to the mark in artistic design. The cost is not such a great matter. What is $100,000 so that we have a building that will reflect credit upon us and upon the Province for all generations. What I object to in the plan is, as I hear (I hope that I have been wrongly informed) that part of the walls is to seem to be that which it is not. I have sympathy for a man who has to wear false teeth or a wig, or anything to supply the place of that of which he is deprived. But the man who wears anything that is false while he may yet have that which is true, is, I think, to be despised. When I see him I think of an actor, a hypocrite, or a thief; and upon the same principle I should be disposed to object to a church, apparently all stone, that was not really all stone. A church, above all things, should be an expression of that which is honest and true, and I hope—in fact, have no doubt—that His Lordship and the Building Committee will see to it that there is no sham about the new Cathedral. Let it be plain or let it be beautiful, it should, at all events, be real. I care not whether the stone comes from Nova Nova Scotia or P. E. Island, whether the workmen come from Quebec or any other part of Canada,—so that the work be genuine.

ART IN CANADA

Miss Harriet Ford contributes to the Mail and Empire a critical letter concerning the opening of the Royal Canadian Academy of Art in Montreal, incorporated with which is a likeness of Mr. Robt. Harris, President of the Academy. Concerning Mr. Harris's pictures on exhibition she says:

"Mr. Robert Harris, the president of the academy, is 'par excellence' a portrait painter, and in his portrait of Dr. Shepherd, No. 73, he has done himself ample justice. It is a very excellent piece of work; life-like, solid and simple in effect. The tones are full of grays, with the warm underglow of flesh. The president is to be congratulated, I think, in this portrait, for his vigorous, manly, direct handling, but which is, nevertheless, full of the 'happy accident' of knowledge. Mr. Harris shows also a large canvas of two boys in a boat; No. 75. It is strongly felt and strongly painted in 'plain air' effect of breeze and sunshine. I should like more light in the sea, and more play of colour; and perhaps, too, the drawing a little clumsy in line; a little lacking in curious research. The president's portrait of 'Mrs. Peterson' is not as successful as his men's heads; but it has a stately dignity and directness which goes far to redeem a somewhat monotonous colour effect. Whatever Mr. Harris does commends itself for its absolutely artistic integrity; its qualities and thoroughness. To the ordinary public the first requirement in a portrait is that it shall be a good likeness. We have not yet reached the point when we will readily welcome portraits simply for their supreme clearness, their technical interest; but as to those terribly, preternaturally graphic likenesses generally dear to the sitter's family, the present exhibition, fortunately, is free from them, and throughout there is a large feeling for portraiture promisingly suggestive."

Commenting upon Miss Ford's letter, the Mail and Empire remarks that. The Royal Canadian Academy is an evidence that this country has advanced to a point considerably beyond the early beginnings of a settlement in a new land. When the earth has to be subdued, the forest to be felled, and the first steps of roadmaking and cultivation to be painfully taken, there is not much room for art. But in our cities the log hut of the pioneer has given place to buildings of architectural beauty, wealth has increased, and the artistic instinct which previously had to spend itself and die amid rude surroundings begins to blossom, in a modest and frugal way, perhaps, but in such a degree as to give promise of a future fruition of much vigor and refinement. Our Canadian artists have already produced works which are destined to live, and Canadian art is already spoken of with respect in places that are far removed from the bounding prairies of the Dominion.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—There was a very good attendance at the meeting of the Teachers' Institute, held on Saturday evening. Mr. Seaman gave the usual lesson in calisthenics, after which Mr. Percy Pope read a scholarly paper entitled "What We Know." The paper dealt with the essentials to knowledge, and for upwards of an hour Mr. Pope held the undivided attention of his audience. A short discussion followed the reading of the paper, after which Mr. Pope was tendered a hearty vote of thanks. The next meeting of the Institute will be held on the second Saturday in April, when Mr. J. M Duncan will deal with the subject of geometry.

HOCKEY.—There will be a game of hockey in the Hillsborough Rink to-morrow night between the Prince of Wales team and the Boys hockey team. The game will commence at 8 o'clock. Admission 10 cents.

BE SURE and look out for the programme for the Easter Monday concert. It will appear on Wednesday and will be replete with all the attractions that the city possesses.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Saturday evening by special request, made to Principal Hodgson, the spacious rooms of the P. E. I. C. C. were thrown open to the students and a large number of their friends, who assembled to say farewell to Mr. C. S. Ching, who leaves to-morrow at 3.30 p. m. for Alberta, N. W. T.

Since arriving in our city some five months ago, Mr. Ching has made hosts of friends, and although his stalwart form and kindly face will be greatly missed, not only from the college but also from the city, it is with pleasure we learn that he is to make Canada his home.

During the evening coffee, cake and confectionery were served by the ever thoughtful ladies, and games and various amusements were indulged in until a late hour, when the company broke up by singing, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The following address was read to Mr. Ching by Principal Hodgson and was accompanied by a handsomely bound set of Longfellow's poems from the teachers and students of the college:

Prince Edward Island Commercial College
March 21st, 1896.

Mr. Cyrus Stewart Ching:

DEAR SIR,—We, the principals and students of the Prince Edward Island Commercial College cannot permit you to leave this institution and depart from this city and Province for a distant part of the Dominion without conveying to you an expression of our esteem, friendship and goodwill.

For the past five months our daily duties have brought us into constant contact with you, and during that period we have not failed to discover and appreciate the very excellent traits of character you possess. Your gentlemanly deportment and sterling qualities have commanded our constant respect, and now that the time has arrived to say "good-bye," we do so with very great regret; but are pleased to know that your ability and many good qualities have commanded attention and secured for you a suitable and remunerative position in the great North-west of our own Dominion.

As a graduate of this institution, we feel assured that you will ever reflect credit upon her. Her interests are confided to you, and we feel sure that they will be sacredly preserved.

In this connection, we cannot help saying to you that we are pleased to see a stalwart, worthy young man like yourself, remaining in this young Dominion to assist in developing her boundless resources. There are more undeveloped resources on this side of the line than upon the other side, and we trust that you will be abundantly successful in your new sphere.

And now, Dear Sir, as a small souvenir of the days spent in the P. E. Island Commercial College, we ask your acceptance of the accompanying set of Longfellow's poems. It will serve to remind you of your old associates in the Commercial College.

With very best wishes for your future welfare, we are,

Respectfully yours,
S. F. HODGSON, Principal.

VARIOUS INTERESTS IN EGYPT

France Protests Against the British Expedition Into the Soudan

PARIS, March 19.—Concerning the British expedition to Dongola, Eclair says an interview between M. Berthelot, foreign minister, and the Marquis of Dufferin, which took place yesterday, proves that France is disposed to discourage a policy which does not show sufficient respect for the interests of France in Egypt. France has many other grounds of objection to England's engaging in a venture advance of herself which is not calculated to have a soothing effect upon various ministries.

ROME, March 19.—In a discussion in the chamber of deputies to-day, Signor Terri, a socialist, made allusion to the crown in connection with the late government's African policy, whereupon the president called him to order. Terri retorted by shouting that the socialists were all anti-monarchists, which elicited cheers from the socialists and cries of dissent from the other groups. The tumult was so great as to prevent a continuation of Terri's speech. The proposal to send a message of salutation to England was loudly applauded by the chamber despite the protests of the socialists.

LONDON, March 19.—The Cairo correspondent of the Times supposes that the passing ill-humor expressed there is due to the Dongola expedition having been decided upon in London before consulting the khedive. "But the palace organ, El Moaadd," the correspondent continues, "which has been most bitter in attacking England, has published an address exhorting the troops going to the front to do their duty loyally and gloriously."

PARIS, March 19.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Berthelot, foreign minister, said: "There were serious objections, financial and political, to the British expedition against Dongola and representations have been made by France to the English government and to that at Cairo, negotiations resulting from which were now proceeding."

LONDON, March 19.—In the Commons to-day Mr. Balfour said that in order to meet the expenditures required for the Egyptian campaign it might be necessary to use a larger sum than was at the disposal of the Egyptian treasury, and that the government hoped the commission of the public debt would assent to the expenditure of £500,000 from the reserve fund, which was now £25,000,000. The governments of Germany, Italy and Austria had given their assent to this. Russia and France had not been heard from yet.

PARIS, March 19.—The Gazette, pursuing the discussion of France's attitude on the Egyptian situation, says: "The cabinet ought to have modified their language and not lent themselves to an incident the result of which will cement the Driebund and afford Germany occasion to draw close to Great Britain." Le Journal thinks the occasion has been afforded the foreign office to take revenge for the recent numerous rebuffs it has experienced.

ROME, March 19.—The Italia, commenting on the attitude of Great Britain in the Soudan, dwells upon the long friendship which has existed between Great Britain and Italy, and says: "The British advance to Dongola will be of great advantage to Italy, but of rather a moral than a material character, while Italy renders a great service to Great Britain in affording her a pretext for showing Europe that the time has not yet come to speak of evacuating Egypt."
