

Do-It-Now Type Thinking Behind Manitoba Election

WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitobans vote Thursday, June 23, in a do-it-now provincial election.

The Progressive Conservative government had a year and a half of constitutional mileage left, but Premier Roblin said Thursday:

"We are facing a centennial year and it seemed appropriate that there should be a political conflict while celebrating a centennial if it could be conveniently arranged otherwise."

The press conference announcement caught nobody by surprise. All parties have been busily nominating for weeks.

The general view is the premier decided some time ago on a spring vote and would have announced his decision earlier if springtime flooding along the Red River had not temporarily forced attentions away from politics.

SEEK FOURTH TERM

In power eight years, all of them under Duff Roblin's leadership, the Conservatives will be seeking June 23 to entrench themselves for a fourth consecutive term.

While 57 seats are at stake, one will not be decided until Thursday, July 7. Voting is being deferred for two weeks in the tundra-belt riding of Churchill because of the late-arriving northern spring.

Manitoba's last provincial election was held Dec. 14, 1962. The House prorogued April 26 and was formally dissolved Wednesday by Lieutenant-Governor Richard S. Bowles.

At dissolution, there were 36 Conservatives, 13 Liberals, five New Democrats and one by Former Credit. Two seats formerly held by the NDP were vacant.

It will be a campaign trail birthday for Mr. Roblin which will be 49 June 17.

The men after his job are Liberal Leader Gildas Molgat, a 39-year-old businessman, and the NDP's A. R. (Russ) Paulley, a 57-year-old railway foreman. Both became MLAs in the 1963 election.

ENTERED HOUSE IN 1949

Mr. Roblin first entered the House in 1949. He became premier of a minority government after ousting the Liberal-Progressives in a 1962 election, got a solid majority in another vote the following year and strengthened his position slightly in 1962.

For a time leading up to the federal election last Nov. 8, it appeared Mr. Roblin might leave provincial politics and make a bid federally, establishing himself as a contender for the national Conservative lead.

CHARTIER WROTE PAPER LETTER TELLING POLITICAL AMBITION

EDMONTON (CP)—In a letter received by The Journal a few days before he died in the explosion of his own bomb, Paul Joseph-Chartier told of his ambition to become president of Canada and said he planned to kill as many members of Parliament as possible.

"But I knew this might cost me my life," the letter added.

The rambling, 23-page letter from Toronto, dated May 11, contained a picture of Chartier. The newspaper dismissed it as the work of a crank until the bomb incident Wednesday.

Largely similar to writings found in Chartier's Toronto room following his death, the letter accused parliamentarians of corruption and misgovernment and said Chartier planned to remedy the situation when he became president.

It said Chartier considered himself no good for anything else.

RECALLS THREAT

Meanwhile, an Edmonton lawyer recalled Friday that Chartier had threatened him with death during a 1960 bankruptcy hearing.

T. W. Gallant, who was acting for the Edmonton real estate commission in opposing Chartier's application for personal bankruptcy, said Chartier was heard to say "I'll kill the S.O.B."

Recalling the case Friday, Gallant said the commission had seized a car and a tow truck Chartier was using in hauling work for the city to satisfy a judgement against a Chartier-owned hotel in Veteran, about 180 miles northeast of here.

The lawyer said Chartier's bankruptcy application was denied but the commission never obtained enough assets to satisfy the judgement. Mr. Gallant said he sent a report to the attorney-general's department suggesting Chartier be charged with fraudulent bankruptcy.

CHINESE BOMB BIGGER THAN EARLIER GUESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government has disclosed that China's recent nuclear blast was considerably more powerful than originally estimated.

An announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission indicated the yield of the May 9 explosion was at least in the 200-kiloton range—equivalent to 200,000 tons of TNT.

This would be considerably higher than a preliminary estimate of 130 kilotons given to reporters by the state department May 11.

LONDON (Reuters)—China's nuclear blast 11 days ago contaminated two BOAC airliners, it was announced here Friday.

The corporation said the radioactive fallout showed up on routine checks last Sunday on a Boeing 707 from New York and a Super VC-10 from Beirut.

But it said the general radiation level had been higher on Boeing 707s after the Russian and U.S. tests of 1961-62.

Dermot Doran, BOAC's occupational health engineer, said no health hazard was involved.

Opening lead king of hearts. If you play in games where you are bound to take a considerable amount of time analyzing hands where the result was disappointing to one side or the other because of something that someone did or failed to do. Certainly, this studious approach to bridge is bound to help your game, especially if the analysis is fair and objective.

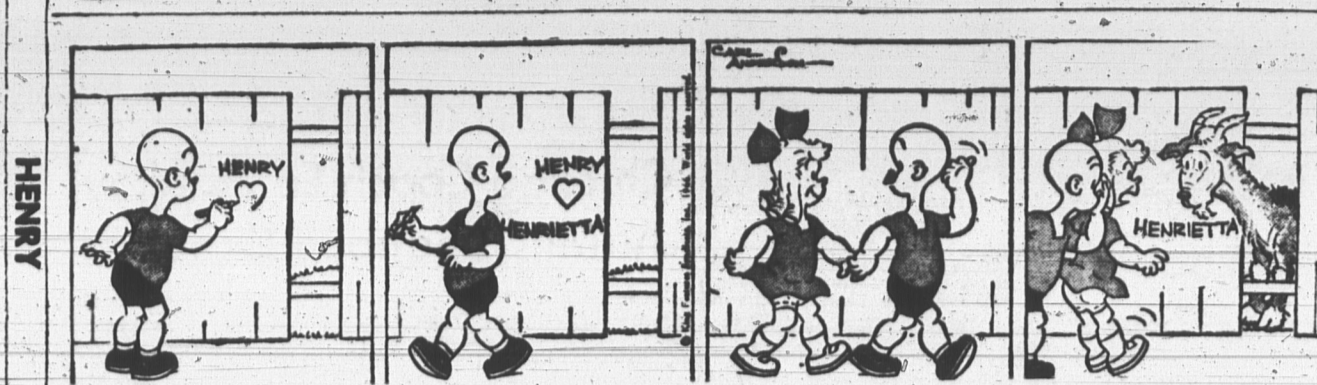

Take a hand like this one where South bid and made six spades. West led the king of hearts and continued with the ace. South ruffed.
