CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER
East dealer. East-West vulnerable. NORTH: J73, KJ102, K1082, 108. WEST: KQ92, 9754, J7543. EAST: A10654, 83, 44, KQ62. SOUTH: AQ6, QJ97653, A9.

Opening lead—king of spades. Bridge is not a lazy man's game. It is a game where you have to take time out to think. To play mechanically and without thought is bound to lead eventually to bad results. We are reminded of these things by this hand played in a rubber bridge game. South got to five diamonds doubled. West opened the king of spades and continued with a spade which declared ruffed. After the ace of diamonds was forced out, South had an easy time making eleven tricks, his losing club going off on dummy's fourth heart. But the contract should have been defeated. East should have overtaken the spade king with the ace and led the king of clubs. Against this defense South would have had to go down. Nor is this a difficult play for East to make. The only thing hard about the play is that there is a natural tendency to let West's king of spades win the first trick without wasting the ace. But a little thought should convince East that it is right to overtake the king of spades. Enough information can be gathered from the bidding, the opening lead, and the sight of dummy's threatening hearts to persuade East of the necessity for a club shift. West's spade raise must have been based on three, four, or five spades. If he has five spades, no harm can come from overtaking the king, since declarer is void of spades. By the same reasoning, if West has four spades, giving declarer one, East can well afford to play the ace to make the vital club shift. And if West raised with only three spades the ace play can do no harm either. This is because West is marked on the opening lead with the queen of spades as well as the king. If West originally held K-Q-2, his proper opening lead is the deuce. With K-Q-2 or K-Q-9-2, the king is led. All signs point in one direction. The king of spades must be overtaken with the ace.

Pearson Charges PC's Talk One Way But Act Another

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said Tuesday night the record of the Progressive Conservatives in federal office has been to talk one way and act another. Canada needs—and is not getting—wise and consistent national policies, applied carefully but firmly, with a minimum of excitement and a maximum of sense, he said in an address to a banquet of the National Liberal Federation's advisory council. "Cascades of resonant and re-sounding words; uncertainty and confusion and contradiction in action—that is what we Liberals criticize," Mr. Pearson said in sharp attack on Conservative government policies and actions. ASKS REORGANIZATION He linked this attack with a plea to his own party cohorts to dig in now and reorganize for the next election. The statements were included in a text of the speech issued to the press before delivery. At one point in his criticism of the government, Mr. Pearson made a thinly-veiled suggestion that perhaps Prime Minister Diefenbaker should be in Ottawa attending to serious domestic problems rather than travelling around the world. Many serious problems were crowding in on Canadians "which would seem to demand the continuous and constructive attention of the leader and the members of the government here in Ottawa," he said. Labor Minister Starr had said there might be as much unemployment in Canada this winter as last—worst since the depression of the 1930s—but the Conservatives were acting with "too little and too late." The Liberals would not permit Mr. Diefenbaker to forget his pledge that not one Canadian would suffer from unemployment while he was prime minister. TIGHT MONEY POLICY Conservative administration had brought a tighter money policy in a time of recession with a large budget deficit ahead and a confused and uncertain financial market. "Now the government, having soothed the wind of election promises, are reaping the whirlwind of a $1,000,000,000 deficit; and a deficit without the economic and employment results to justify it in a time of recession." The government's conversion loan this fall was to have cleared up the financial situation. But it had committed this country to high interest rates.

Five Sentenced To Penitentiary SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Five persons were sentenced to terms in Dorchester Penitentiary and another was sent to the county jail Tuesday at the conclusion of the Supreme Court term here. Chief Justice J.I. Tlesley sentenced George Alfred Clark, 30, of Alder Point to five years on a charge of rape. John Archie MacLellan, 45, of New Victoria was sentenced to 30 months in penitentiary on a charge of carnal knowledge. Edgar Budge, 24, of Scotchtown was sentenced to one year in the county jail on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. Two-year terms were imposed upon Wallace Tighe, 27, Celestine Power, 38, and Russell Gillis, 25, all of New Waterford on a charge of breaking entering and theft.
