

Criminals of U.P.E.I., Take Heed

albert macdonald

the bookworm

Have you committed an act of intercourse during Lent, within three days before receiving Communion, on Sunday or in any position other than the male superior. If so, then according to past and present laws you are indeed a criminal. These and other fascinating tidbits are to be found in the book, Fundamentals of Human Sexuality, by Lunde and Katchadourian. This is a remarkable book, remarkable for its objectivity and straightforwardness in a field where the major works have been characterized by their sexist and incredibly immature viewpoints.

The authors' purpose in writing this book was to provide a work which was informative, stimulating, and objective. They rise to the occasion admirably. The book has an excellent visual presentation and is well-written.

My only complaint is that in studying the sexual nature of man and woman, the work is limited in that it restrains itself to an observational frame of reference.

To look at the book as a whole one must conclude that it is excellent.

Fundamentals of Human Sexuality, Herant A. Katchadourian, Donald T. Lunde, Holt, Rhinehart, and Wilson Inc, New York, 1972.

By the way this will be a weekly column and if you have any suggestions, criticisms, etc. drop a line to the Editor or myself or simply tell me. While I have some space I would like to throw in a couple of words for a worthwhile activity on campus. There will be an organizational meeting of a Debating and public Speaking Club at the Education Building Lounge next Thursday, 23rd at 6:00.

The Cadre

WANTS

YOU !!!

If You Are Interested

in reporting,
interviewing,
reviewing,
layout :

come to

WE NEED YOUR HELP

OCT. 22 WEDNESDAY AT 2:30
ATTENDANCE COMPULSORY, DRESS OPTIONAL