

NO SUNDAY FISHING
BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa, (CP)—The Orange Free State authorities decided not to relax the provincial ordinance which forbids angling on Sundays. The ordinance rejected appeals from anglers after one man was fined about $10 for fishing on Sunday.

Georgetown-Montague In 7-All Tie In Series Opener

The Montague Shmohawks and Georgetown Eagles played to a 7-all tie at Montague last night in the first game of the King's County intermediate hockey series. The fast rugged game brought the packed house to its feet on more than one occasion as close scoring plays followed perfect rinkwide passes on smooth, hard ice.

Georgetown led off the scoring when A. Murphy banged the initial tally into the net from a scramble. MacLure for the Shmohawks dipped into his bag of tricks to whip two past Sullivan to give Montague the lead, which was soon tied by H. MacLean. However, they dropped back one when D. MacLean for the locals soloed with an angle shot with one and a half minutes to go.

The scoring was light in the second session, but the hockey was first calibre as the two teams put on a dazzling display. H. MacLean again tied the score, but once more Power and Fraser sent the locals out in front as the Shmohawks held the commanding edge during the period.

As the locals began to feel the tiring pace in the third period, the edge was lost, and although Davis put the locals up to a three-goal lead, this was soon cut to zero, as the visitors turned on the steam, and with four minutes to go took the lead when Stevens slapped the puck past MacDonald. The locals rallied then and fought with fury to regain the lost point, and the rafters vibrated to the jubilant cries when Nelson sank the disc to even the score at 7-7.

The crucial and final game will be played at Georgetown Friday night in the home and home games, goals to count series. Lineups: Georgetown: Goal, Sullivan; defence, W. MacLean, MacPhee, Johnson, McNeill; forwards, A. Murphy, B. Murphy, F. Landry, A. Landry, H. MacLean, MacSwain, Stevens, MacNeill. Publicover. Montague: Goal, MacDonald; defence, Clements, MacDonald, Davis; forwards, Power, Nelson, MacLean, Fraser, Stewart, MacLure.

Summary: First Period 1—Georgetown, H. MacLean 2:19 2—Montague, MacLure, 4:30 (Power) 3—Montague, MacLure, 5:46 (Power, Nelson) 4—Georgetown, H. MacLean, (A. Murphy) 7:38

DEAN AND JERRY MAKE MERRY IN THEIR BEST YET, "JUMPING JACKS" Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will be off on another of their hilariously unpredictable adventures when Hal Wallis' "Jumping Jacks" opens today at the Prince Edward Theatre. This Paramount release marks the sixth screen appearance of the sensational comedy team that has been writing box-office history since their first film appearance a little more than two and a half years ago.

Most recently seen in the Wallis productions of "That's My Boy" and "Sailor Before," Dean and Jerry now strap on their chutes and climb into jump boots to play a pair of paratroop rookies who have the joint (Fort Benning in this case) jumping with laughter at their attempts to qualify as rugged airborne soldiers.

Dean is the sky GI who has all the girls falling and Jerry, of course, is the terrorized trooper who gets dizzy just from climbing into a plane. In fact, Jerry doesn't belong in the Army at all. He's a song-and-dance man who comes on the post to live up a camp show, is mistaken for a genuine GI, and can't fight his way back to civilian life.

This sets the scene for a lot of mayhem, music and romance as the unwilling recruit and his ballad-singing buddy put Army routine to route in their eye-opening attempt to wangle paratrooper wings. Among the comedy highlights are a mass aerial drop in which Dean and Jerry invent some uproarious new uses for a parachute, and some war maneuvers that are probably the wackiest in the history of armed combat.

Assisting in the revelry is vivacious Mona Freeman, who emerges as a shapely charmer after a long series of adolescent roles. Mona joins Dean in warbling a bright set of new Mack David-Jerry Livingston tunes that includes such hummable entries as "I Know a Dream When I See One," "I Can't Resist a Boy in Uniform" and "The Parachute Jump."

"Jumping Jacks" was directed by Norman Taurog both in Hollywood and at Fort Benning, Georgia.

P.W.C. Principal Guest Speaker At Men's Club

Dr. Frank MacKinnon, principal of Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown, was guest speaker at the regular monthly supper meeting of the Men's Club of Trinity United Church, Montague, which was held at 6:30 p.m. on Monday evening in MacKenzie Hall.

The president, Mr. Gordon Coffin, presided. Minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary, Mr. MacKinnon's address was on the history of Prince Edward Island, from the early days to the present time. He outlined in very interesting detail the difficult political, financial and economic problems encountered by the early governors, members of parliament, and the people. He also gave full particulars of the building of the P.E.I. Island Railway, Confederation, and many other problems which the people of the Island have encountered throughout the years.

Dr. MacKinnon's address was intensely interesting and showed a profound knowledge of his subject. The appreciation and thanks of those present were tendered to the speaker by Mr. Edward Bulbit. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

House, Barn Burned At Mitchell River

Fire Monday night destroyed the home, barn and all belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacDonald of Mitchell River in an early night fire which is thought to have started on the roof near a cracked chimney. Mr. MacDonald was absent at the time working at a neighbor's farm. His wife, who was at home with four small children, noticed the fire and had only time to get the children out of the house before it went up in flames, fanned by the high winds blowing Monday night. In fifteen minutes the house was consumed and in a very short time the barn was also a total loss.

Mrs. MacDonald made an attempt to save a few clothes that were within reach inside the house, after she had first removed the children. However, the children followed her so closely that she was afraid to venture in for fear they would follow her into the flaming house. Although a considerable number of people gathered they were unable to do anything to save any belongings. It is understood that there is a small insurance.

Jacques Cartier brought some cattle to Canada but livestock was not permanently established until nearly a century later.

Montague Church Group Meets

The Young Adults' Club of Trinity United Church, Montague, met in MacKenzie Hall on Monday, February 16th. Mr. W. A. Hilchey presided. Minutes of the last regular meeting were read by the secretary, Mr. Horace Fraser.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Horace Fraser who afterwards led a discussion pertaining to the work being carried on by missionaries in Angola, West Africa.

Dr. Sidney Gilchrist, a talented minister and physician, has devoted the greater part of his life to missionary service in that field and when his name was mentioned, during discussion, the members were very greatly interested to learn that he had been a classmate, at Pictou Academy, of the present pastor of this church, the Rev. J. M. Fraser.

At the close of the meeting, lunch was served by the committee in charge.

ern equipment. He submitted several exhibits with the brief, but most of the questioning by committee members centred around analysis of the results of a questionnaire sent out to member groups on the subject of electoral reform.

The questionnaire was sent to 375 groups in all sections of the Province. Of these there were 112 returned, showing that 860 people had passed on the matters set out in the form.

The first question dealt with the subject of property voting. In favour were 334 while opposed were 455. Another 45 made no answer and 26 believed in voting on property only in the case of resident ownership.

In the matter of compulsory voting the result was sanguinary. 338 favored it, 368 opposed it and 124 did not care to answer or had no opinion. The suggestion that there be smaller Districts, each with only one member, also saw a variety of opinions, or lack of them. There were 404 favoring the proposal, 240 opposing, 161 with no opinions and 51 who believed that the same districts should be maintained, but that there should be only one member for each.

A great majority favored the lowering of the voting age to 18 with 526 expressing approval of the plan, 266 opposing it and 48 with no opinion. The percentage of those favoring rose sharply in the matter of the elimination of bribery where 758 voted for this with 72 opposing and 30 having no opinion. That there were so many opposed or of no opinion evoked surprise and laughter from the committee with one of them asking "Well how can you eliminate something which does not exist?"

The rather confusing question relating to representation based on population and convenience at a district geographically brought 312 votes in favor, 236 against and 292 of no opinion. Mr. Dewar explained that perhaps when the form was sent out the explanation of this question had not been made clear enough to the people attempting to answer it.

Small Proportion It was this phase of the brief which brought forth most of the comment. Hon. Mr. Matheson noted that of the 375 forms sent out less than a third were returned and these indicated that only seven persons had answered per form sent to the meetings. Of these 112 sent back to the Federation Mr. Dewar said that while they were representative of the Island there was a higher proportion of returns from Prince County.

He explained that the Federation brief was not making specific recommendations on the points brought out, but he felt that the figures quoted represented a fairly even division of the general opinion.

Montague C.W.L. Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Montague C.W.L. was held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Coyle on Monday evening with 14 members present.

The president, Mrs. Coyle, presided, and opened the meeting with prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Levi Power, and approved as read. Mrs. P. J. McKenna read the financial report, which showed a substantial increase in funds owing to entertainments held during the month.

Correspondence included a letter from Miss Jean MacDonald, matron of the Convalescent Home, thanking the League for gifts received at Christmas time and another from Miss I. Arsenault, re Red Cross work.

It was moved and seconded that all bills be paid. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. P. J. McKenna next week. The following ladies were appointed on the lunch committee: Mrs. J. Lanigan, Mrs. H. J. Hyman, Mrs. P. J. McKenna, and Mrs. A. Fraser.

Following the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by the committee in charge.
