Annual Meeting Borden Credit Union League

On Monday, October 22nd, the Borden Credit Union held their banquet and annual meeting in the United Church basement. At the banquet Mrs. John Sanford presided and, after the members had enjoyed the splendid repast provided by the Ladies' Social Club, proposed the toast to the King, and all joined in singing "God Save the King". After the president of the Credit Union, Mr. Reginald Rodgers, had welcomed those present, the guest speaker of the evening, Mr. G. J. Dennis, Inspector of Credit Unions addressed the gathering. He urged the Union to increase their savings so that their credit union would grow stronger and have more money to work with. Rev. Reginald MacDonald and Mr. Harrison MacFarlane were the other guests.

Young Married Couples Meet

On the evening of October 16th the regular meeting of the Mount Herbert Young Married Couples Group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Farquharson. Meeting opened with the singing of the hymn "He Leadeth Me." The responsive reading was from Psalms 34. Russell then led the group in prayer. The hymn "I gave my life for Thee, follow me." Meditation for the evening was the 20th chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel. This was discussed at some length, particularly interest being taken by the laborers in the vineyard, Jesus teaching his disciples to be lowly and the giving of sight to the two blind men. The singing of the hymn "Bringing in the Sheaves" brought the devotional period to a close. Business period was conducted by the president Mrs. Russell Farquharson in the chair. Minutes of the last two meetings were read with additions and corrections in the August meeting's minutes. There were nine members present. Collection and an auction realized a goodly sum of money. Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins made the motion to have an auction at the next meeting of an article valued at 25 cents each couple. Those forgetting article to pay 50 cents. Those absent pay 50 cents at the next meeting. This was seconded by Russell Farquharson. Mrs. Winston Wood invited the group to her home for the November meeting. It was moved by David Mutch, seconded by Stirling Wood the meeting be adjourned. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Interesting Exhibition At Art Centre

This collection of photographs produced by the Museum of Modern Art in New York illustrates works of art from many epochs and many countries. The oldest is a stone figure carved by a cave-man thousands of years before the dawn of the ancient civilization of Egypt and China. The most recent work is a painting by Joan Miro made in 1945. The purpose of the exhibition is to show that a Kinship often exists between works of art from different epochs, although each one is of course conditioned by the phrase of civilization that produced it. The collection is owned by the Art Centre and will remain on view for approximately two weeks.

MacDonald-Carter Wedding

St. Edwards Church, Winnipeg, was the scene of a wedding September 27th, when Mona Corinne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Carter, became the bride of John Joseph MacDonald, only son of Mrs. J. J. MacDonald, of Mount Stewart, Prince Edward Island, and the late Mr. MacDonald, Rev. P. F. MacDonald, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., officiated. The bride wore a two piece gown of lime green taffeta. She wore a taupe colored hat and carried a bouquet of tulleman roses. Miss Marjorie Dance was bridesmaid. Best man was Leonard MacDonald. A reception was held at the St. Charles Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will reside in Winnipeg.

be vacillating! Adopt the certain course that you do love him, you are going to make a success of your marriage, as you did of your business together, and make your assurance contagious. A good marriage does not come through chance; it is more often the result of hard work and constant effort. Exercise both!

DEAR MISS DIX: Is there a chance of love, marriage and children (adopted if necessary), or is it too late for me at this stage? I am 29 years old (look younger) and for the past six years have been in a T.B. san. With God's help, the doctor's feel I'll be able to go home within a year or so and will be able to resume a normal life again.

Before I became ill, I had very little to do with boys as I have always been rather shy. Please give me your earnest opinion as to whether you think there is a chance for happiness in the only field I care about—namely, housewife and mother.

ANSWER: If you would send me your name and address, I would be glad to give you a list of books narrating the marvelous comebacks of former T.B. patients. With your doctor's assurance that your recovery is imminent, you can face the future with courage and confidence. Your physical limitations are, of course, a matter for the doctor to decide; emotionally, you may find a little difficulty in adjusting to the outside world after the cloistered atmosphere of a sanatorium but the old life and the new will soon be bridged. Your age will certainly not be a factor in your romance. No age! Many women marry, and for the first time, in their thirties. What you have to offer is the important issue; courage, a cheerful disposition and the ability to accept hardship with faith are the qualities that will bring what you wish from life.

DEAR MISS DIX: Having broken off with a boy I dated for seven months, should I return his gifts even though he doesn't want them? He says he bought them for me and doesn't want anyone else to have them.

ANSWER: Your ex-beau is right! Since these gifts are not costly, and were bought especially for you, you should keep them. If your present steady doesn't wish to be reminded of your former attachment, pack the presents away, but they are rightfully yours to keep.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

What kind of person are you?

As you get older, any faults of personality (selfishness, hot temper, talking too much) become more ingrained, more obvious to others. But you can change these defects — and you can cultivate traits that win love, respect, happiness, say Dr. Smiley Blanton and Rev. Norman Vincent Peale in November Reader's Digest. And they point out how. Read this helpful article. It gives 9 searching questions to ask yourself — to help you take a revealing inventory of your personality. then he would know better what to do. He would know whether to fly or not to fly. A Merry Little Breeze, one of Old Mother West Wind's children, came lightly dancing past and brought him a sound he had been listening for the sound of someone slowly coming through the brush. In a moment he saw the hunter. He saw the dreadful gun held ready to shoot and he saw that the hunter was slowly drawing near to the pointing dog. He was looking where the dog was pointing. It was Mrs. Grouse who was in danger, not himself. Presently she would have to take to her wings and that would be when the dreadful gun would bang. Thunderer had seen this thing happen before. The hunter passed close to him without seeing him. Then with a roar of his stout wings Thunderer took to the air. The startled hunter whirled just as Thunderer dodged behind a tree. There was a second roar of stout wings. Mrs. Grouse had seen her chance and taken it.
