TROTTING AND PACING RECORDS BROKEN AT ALBERTON

South African, Three Britons Lead In Open

(By DREW MIDDLETON Associated Press Sports Writer) ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 5 (AP)—The British Empire Open Caledonia Open Golf Championship today as Bobby Locks of South Africa and three Englishmen, J. H. Bussan, Dick Burton and Jack Faulkner, set the pace for 129 holes with 70's for the first round.

Far down the list, at 77 and 79 respectively were the United States hopes, Johnny Bulla of Chicago and Lawson Little, the former amateur king. Checked by their own ineptness on the greens as well as a day of wind, rain and sleet, they must turn in sensational golf tomorrow to win a place in Friday's 36-hole final.

Despite the elements, the top four each clipped three strokes from par today, and 11 others bettered 73. So low was the scoring that Henry Cotton, the favorite, had 5 players a head of him, and he had a 74. A stroke behind the leading foursome came Reg Whitcombe, the defending titlist; Alf Perry, who won in 1935; Martin Pose, the Argentine stylist, W. H. Davies, Jimmy Fallon and the diminutive and plucky Welshman, Dave Ross.

Whitcombe provided the day's most sensational string when he went six holes in three. Jim Bruen ran the quality rounds for his own benefit, was bracketed with another amateur, Len Crawley, and two other shot-makers at 72. Bruen and Crawley were the lowest amateur scores. Brig-General A. C. Critchley, London amateur who was born in Calgary, scored 75. Wally Smithers, English pro who is dominating the English tour at the Royal Ottawa Club, finished one stroke over.

At the close of tomorrow night's play, the low 44 will be picked for Friday's two rounds. The best guess today is that 150 or better would qualify. Little and Bulla therefore face a terrific task in this weather and on a course distinctly unsuited to their games.

Teams from this association haven't been too successful since they first entered the competitions but although they have usually finished far down the list, they nevertheless have provided keen competition every year.

Regardless of how he fares in the New Brunswick-P.E.I. tournament Kelly is sure to be an entrant in the Canadian Amateur. It is Pete's intention to pay a month's visit to his parents in Montreal, and while there will get in some practice rounds over the course which he will play over.

It will be Pete's third appearance in the tournament, a tournament that draws in an entire team from the Dominion. Pete has already made two fine showings in his attempts to lift the amateur crown and golfing enthusiasts hereabouts feel that he is on his game he will go even further this year.

Sports Program Features Gathering Of The Clans At Caledonia Yesterday

The hills of Caledonia rang with the shriek of bagpipes yesterday and the shouts of athletes competing in the ancient games of their Scottish forefathers as the annual Caledonia Club sports were held. A large crowd, variously estimated at approximately 2,000 persons looked on as competitors threw the hammer, putted the shot, tossed the caber, pole vaulted or competed in running events.

The weatherman smiled on the gathering and farmers especially were able to enjoy the sports to the full as they remembered their crop shooting upward under the smiling sun which sent Prince Edward Island's temperature to 86 degrees above zero, warmest for the year.

The afternoon opened with short addresses by Clansman Neil MacCannell, president of the Club. He was followed by Rev. A. MacLean, pastor of the Presbyterian Church and Chief Clansman Walter R. Shaw, and Rev. Richard Westaway a native of Lower Montague. Mr. George MacLean of Lewis presided.

Rev. Mr. Westaway recalled that the three ships bearing the forefathers of many of those at the gathering cast anchor off Prince Edward Island shores on "the 3rd, 4th and 5th of August, 1833." He reminded the gathering, too, that the district where sports were held yesterday was named after Scotland, known in ancient times as Caledonia.

The Williams of Charlottetown carried off the trophy donated by Premier Thane A. Campbell for the athlete scoring the most points at the gathering. The cup donated by Mr. A. Matheson of Charlottetown for the winner in the hammer throwing class went to Neil A. Matheson of Charlottetown.

Williams won the Premier's Cup with 18 points. Athletic events did not have the whole stage yesterday as dancing competitions, featuring old Scottish dances were followed with keen interest by many spectators.

Perhaps outstanding in the dancing was the performance by Mr. Alex Buchanan of the Belfast district who, although over 80 years of age danced on several occasions to the music of the pipes. He danced alone in addition to competing with three other competitors in a step dancing contest for men.

Williams was followed by Mr. Martin, a native of this Province and now residing at Belmont, Mass. D. MacPherson, Glen William, Donald MacLeod, Glen Wilber, the Caledonia Club piper John Manderson and Roy MacDougall from the Highland Black Watch Pipe Band.

Second Place At Stake In Game Tonight

With second place in the league standing hanging in the balance, Anchors and Stars meet in an important game of the City Baseball League at the Park diamond this evening at 6 o'clock sharp.

Pepped up by their victory over Rovers on Tuesday the Stars feel that they can take the Anchors in stride and start whitening down the big three game lead which the northern team now enjoys.

Both teams are now tied for second place in the standing with two victories apiece, so tonight's winners will go into undisputed second place in the standing.

Alkie McCormack will likely take the hill for the Stars while the pitching choice of the Anchors will likely be between lefty McAlister or Archie McFarlane, the latter a right hander who although beaten in his previous start has rapidly rounded into shape and should be mighty hard to defeat.

As slated above the game is called for 6 o'clock and players are asked to make a special effort to be ready to start on time.

Excellent weather conditions and an excellent track combined yesterday afternoon in making possible the fine day's racing at Alberton in the initial meet of the season. Approximately 600 enthusiastic fans saw both the trotting and pacing records of the track shattered as Duce Potemkin, driven by Lloyd O'Brien, trotted the first heat of the 2:13 mixed in the classic class.

A bad break by the Potemkin mare in the second heat ruined her chances and difficulty in getting away in the third heat, lost Harry O'Brien which was won by Aaron L. W. McNeill.

Some excitement arose in the 2:23 class when after several scores Starter Dougan removed James Power from Miss Victoria's sulky and put up Pat McKenna. Barring this single incident Dr. Dougan had no trouble and conducted his job smoothly and effectively.

They noted, too, that the average age of competing athletes was considerably less than former years. They noted, too, that some former strong winners in Caledonia Club sports were absent yesterday owing to road construction work.

Referee chief D. P. Bethune, of Charlottetown made special mention of the performance of two young athletes, Bill Hooper and Alex Beaton, who showed special training, he believed. The sports were held on the farm of Mr. John MacLean. The "inner man" was not forgotten yesterday and the delicious meal provided on the grounds by the women of Caledonia Church who had charge of the refreshment booth. Long tables were crowded for hours and the universal comment afterwards was on the excellence of the menu.

Seeking to regain the team championship they held in 1937, the 'Reds' of the American League will leave for Toronto tomorrow for St. Andrew's, N.S., where they will take part in an annual New Brunswick-P.E.I. tournament to be staged in that July 10th to 12th inclusive.

Composed of Doug Saunders, R. Tolman, Maurice Dowling and leading champion Pete Kelly, the team is on a par with those that have competed in the tourney. All four players have been shooting consistent golf in the various local matches they have engaged in and are expected to make a strong bid to retrieve the honors they held two years ago.

Young "Pud" Beer, the junior sensation of this year's golf match, has also accompanied the team to take part in the junior tournament of 36 holes that is being staged in connection with the senior event. It will be a great chance for the youngster, but also a chance to gain experience but also a chance to qualify for a trip to Montreal to take part in the Dominion junior tournament that is staged in connection with the Canadian Amateur.

This Dominion junior tournament came into existence two years ago. Champions of each province meet at the same time to decide the Canadian champion and also the holder of the magnificent Buckingham Trophy which annually goes to the winner.

In competing in the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island matches Pete Kelly will be defending the crown he has now for two years. Pete has been his same steady self in the local tournaments to date and any pretensions to his crown are going to have to be fought in the final round of the tournament. Kelly's shoulders.

As usual a New Brunswick-P.E.I. team will be picked in the result of the tourney to go to Montreal to compete in the Willingdon Cup matches against the picked teams of the other provinces.

Teams from this association haven't been too successful since they first entered the competitions but although they have usually finished far down the list, they nevertheless have provided keen competition every year.

Regardless of how he fares in the New Brunswick-P.E.I. tournament Kelly is sure to be an entrant in the Canadian Amateur. It is Pete's intention to pay a month's visit to his parents in Montreal, and while there will get in some practice rounds over the course which he will play over.

It will be Pete's third appearance in the tournament, a tournament that draws in an entire team from the Dominion. Pete has already made two fine showings in his attempts to lift the amateur crown and golfing enthusiasts hereabouts feel that he is on his game he will go even further this year.

REMEMBER WHEN

(By The Canadian Press) Canada's mines and oil wells, not her golf courses were beckoning to Walter Hagen when he visited Toronto one year ago today. Here "strictly on business," The Haig played a round of golf with his host, H. M. (Coo) Cochrane, promised to return in August for the Canadian open. He did, but did not place well. Sammy Snead took the title.

When the Reds last played in New York, Derringer was very much absent from the club, and he doubtless will continue feeling that a spell in the Tombs is too large a contribution to the charitable objects of the all-star game for one ball player.

Most popular exchange of pleasantries at the Polo Grounds in New York this season: "Who's playing first base for the Giants?" "Mel Ott." "I thought he played right field." "Yeah, he also plays right field."

Ott did not have an error charged to him in the outfield last year, but he's been charged with several this season, all on balls that Bonura should have been easy, but that good old Zeke merely waved at, taking it for granted that Bonura was handling the chance, was caught off guard when the ball scooted into right field.

Ott no longer takes anything for granted where Bonura is concerned. He comes in on every grounding hit to first base, an arrangement that pleases and gratifies Bonura.

A sizeable doubt surrounds the ability of Paul Derringer, Reds pitcher, to get into the game. It's a matter of $8,775. Derringer had a judgment of those figures assessed against him in a New York court for assault, and a bench warrant has been issued against him for his arrest unless it's satisfied.

Kasaboski Seeking Win Over Montana

Larry "Babe" Kasaboski and rugged "Bull" Montana are expected to provide fireworks at the Sporting Club tonight once they go to the mat in the main event of the big wrestling card. Kasaboski, a local favorite will have the full support of the big crowd that is expected to attend the show but he will also have his hands full if he is to keep his local string of victories intact.

Montana, a short, thickest type of wrestler, has plenty of ability to go with his powerful physique no matter what type of match he is engaged in. Kasaboski is no greenhorn at the game either, so fans are envisioning another of those grueling, thrilling matches that have been so prominent in the other appearances of the "grunt and growler" at the Club.

K. O. Jack Conley, a fine wrestler despite his reputation of being a bad actor in the ring, will be Jack Hagan in the semi-final. Unlike Kasaboski, Conley will be attempting to chalk up his first win before an Island audience, being defeated in his two previous starts. He meets a tough actor however in Hagan and this match like the main event has great possibilities of being action filled and exciting all the way.

Attendance at the shows are on the increase lately and tonight's crowd is expected to better all previous attendance marks for wrestling.

GATEWAYS WINS YARMOUTH, N.S., July 5—(CP)—Frank Moore's curfewball checked Middleton into submission today and Yarmouth Gateways scored an 8-1 win in a western Western Counties Baseball League game.
