

I stated these words before the Coroner. About two months previous to the murder, a drunken fellow called Doney at Hutchinson's corner. When he came to me, he said all he was sorry for was that he had not a knife about him. "Doney," I said, "I will carry a knife with me." I took Doney by the arm and led him to the corner. I did not know where he was going, but I could not be sure. I did not know where he was going, but I could not be sure. I did not know where he was going, but I could not be sure.

...I did not know where he was going, but I could not be sure. I did not know where he was going, but I could not be sure. I did not know where he was going, but I could not be sure. ### CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner.
Will you permit me to reply, through the columns of the Examiner, to a brief article on American politics that appeared in the North Star of the 23rd ult., written evidently with a view of gaining favor with the holders of New England. It is not necessary to do so, because I do not approve of it myself. I cannot see, however, that it is much, if any, worse than General Butler's plan of paying the Bonds in greenbacks. The one plan is just as much a speculation as the other; and the North Star is a general admirer of General Butler.

A fourth I must state that I have seldom seen, even in the most ultra and responsible radical journals in this country, anything more fiercely denunciatory of the President of the United States than the article in the North Star of the 23rd ult. It is the only one that I have seen that is so full of vituperation against the President. It is the only one that I have seen that is so full of vituperation against the President. It is the only one that I have seen that is so full of vituperation against the President.

Considerable alterations are to be made in the lines and rig of the North Star, to fit the paper for the public and the American Yachts. Her hull bows are to be filled out, her mast being taller and her keel weighted, she is deemed will make her better able to resist the sea, to compete with the American boats.

Toronto, January 23.
The Wholen case was yesterday before the full Court of King's Bench. Ten judges delivered elaborate judgments, fully reviewing the case. The judges stood four for and six against granting a new trial. The prisoner's counsel applied for leave to appeal to the Privy Council of England, and after long deliberation the Court decided that it had no right of power to grant the leave. The prisoner was ordered to be sent back to Ottawa jail, and so far as the Canadian Courts are concerned the law takes its course, and if a reprieve is not granted, Whelan will be executed on the 11th of February.

Whelan was taken to Ottawa this morning under a strong guard.

Montreal, Jan. 25.
The Governor General has accepted the invitation of citizens, and will visit Montreal, on Monday next. A public dinner will be given on Tuesday, and a banquet on Wednesday. The Governor General will be accompanied by the Hon. J. L. Macdonald, the Hon. J. G. Bourne, and the Hon. J. G. Bourne. He has long been prominent as one of the most zealous Temperance supporters in Canada.

Over 150 deaths from small pox have occurred in Montreal during the last few weeks. The Canadian Society celebrate the anniversary of Burns' birth day to-night by a dance.
The Bank of Montreal is said to have lost between one and five hundred thousand dollars from lending money to New York speculators who became bankrupt by the recent corner in fine shares. The report causes considerable uneasiness in financial circles.

Montreal, January 21.
Desbarats' Queen's Printing establishment at Ottawa was destroyed by fire last night, together with its contents. The loss is estimated at $200,000.
Mr. Trotter's Saloon, the scene of the MacGeoghegan tragedy, was in the building. The fire is believed to be work of an incendiary.

The Treasurer of Quebec has a surplus of $70,000 over the expenditure for the past eighteen months.
It is reported that Howe will be appointed a delegate to Washington, to negotiate for reciprocity.

FROM EUROPE.
London, Jan. 18.
The Times to-day analyzes the Treaty between England and the United States, and gives the following outlines of its provisions:
The Commission is to consist of four members—two to be appointed by England and two by the United States. The Commission will hold its session in Washington. Its first business will be to select an umpire, who the Commission are equally divided, they shall select by lot one of the two umpires to render a final decision. One of the sovereigns of Europe is to be selected by the Commission to arbitrate on points of international law, including the question of the Alabama. The Alabama is to be held in the Great Britain. Each Government is to formulate and advocate the claims of its citizens. No individual claimant will be heard before the Commission, and all claims must be presented within six months from the first day of the meeting of the Commission. The umpire is to be paid within eighteen months from the same day. One year is allowed for the ratification of the Treaty.

The Pall Mall Gazette hopes the English Parliament will not ratify the Alabama Treaty if the question of recognition of the Southern Confederacy as being one of the recognized States.

Holney's Pills—These Pills are more efficacious in strengthening a debilitated constitution than any other medicine in the world. Persons afflicted with indigestion, or who are suffering from weak digestive organs or whose health has been degenerated by bilious affections, should order these, for liver complaints, should have in their possession a box of these Pills. A full trial, without cost, will be sent to all who apply for one on point raised at first. If cured, they are also within the range of the salutary powers of this very remarkable medicine. The cures effected by these Pills are not superficial or temporary, but complete and permanent. They are as solid as they are efficacious, and may be taken with confidence to delicate females and young children. Their action on the liver, stomach and bowels is immediate, beneficial, and lasting, restoring order and health to every case.

consequence merely personal to himself. I have good cause for believing that Gen. Butler himself participates in this feeling of admiration and respect for the President. I am at the White House, and I certainly shook hands with Mr. Johnson. I have the authority of the Radical organs for stating that he professed feelings of warm regard for him—declaring that, with the impeachment trial, all hostility to him on his part had ceased. Now, who will believe that, if Gen. Butler really believed that he represented him on the impeachment trial, he would have acted thus? There was no rule of court etiquette or in view of State policy that required him to pay his respects to the President at all, and even if there were, there was no occasion for his giving expression to sentiments of regard and friendship which did not feel.

In conclusion, let me assure the enterprising editor and proprietor of the North Star that I entertain none but kindly feelings towards him, mingled with that respect which I must always feel for a man that I see battling so bravely and so unflinchingly for a friend, however unpopular he may be. I am, however, I would advise him to steer clear of the fifty-fifty compromise of American party politics. It will be sufficient time for him to enter upon that subject when your country shall have become an integral part of the Great Republic, which I, as a loyal American, am bound to believe will be his final destiny.

AMERICAN CITIZEN.
Washington, D. C.,
January 16, 1869.

To the Editor of the Examiner.
Sir, I desire the privilege of a small space in your valuable columns for the purpose of addressing a few words to the Roman Catholics of Prince Edward Island.

For nearly a year the subject of a grant in aid of St. Dunstan's College and other schools, has occupied the attention of the people of this island. First brought forward in the columns of the Examiner, the arguments were ably supported, and kept more prominently and persistently before the people, in the editorial columns of the Islander. It is needless to say that these arguments have never been controverted, because, simple and easy to be understood, they were founded on reason, justice and expediency, and were, therefore, unanswerable. His Lordship the Bishop of Charlottetown, the acknowledged head of the Roman Catholics of this island, last year presented a petition to the Government praying that an annual grant should be bestowed on St. Dunstan's College and other schools therein mentioned, without specifying any particular sum. The prayer of this petition was very politely refused, without even allowing it to come before the representatives of the people in Parliament. I am at a loss to know why the Roman Catholics should have allowed the Islander newspaper, a Protestant sheet, to be the sole champion of their cause, when the paper of the Roman Catholic community, the Islander, was so ready to take up their cause, and to give them the aid of a man of common judgment and more moderate counsel. Men of extreme views and bitter personal prejudices can never be the permanent leaders of any great party. Men who possess moral and intellectual superiority are never long trusted by the people. It is not necessary to say that the prayer of this petition was very politely refused, without even allowing it to come before the representatives of the people in Parliament.

for sinners, if only he was truly penitent for his crime, as was the penitent thief. His Honor Judge Peters is a man of whom we may be proud; and the manner in which he presided over the Doney trial is sufficient to confirm his character as a learned, strict, impartial Judge, as a man of feeling and as a sincere Christian.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.
We beg to inform the Editor of the Patriot that we did not reply, in any previous number of this paper, to anything that he may have written on this subject. What we did write about the Post Office was written before we saw anything in the Patriot on the subject, and when we were penning our short article we had not prejudiced, or the least idea of injuring the character of Mr. McLeod. We are glad to learn that our hints will have a very beneficial effect. In the first place, we understand that the new P. M. G. will not allow loafers or spies into the "Sanctum" of his office. This will be a great improvement, and will lessen the chances of letters and other important documents being feloniously abstracted by "key-hole" spies and political pimps. We understand, too, that it is the intention of the Government, in accordance with our suggestion, to erect, as soon as possible, a respectable building for a Post Office. This will be another improvement, and will do much to restore confidence in the Patriot and Progress as in establisments. Mr. McDonald, a Catholic, has been appointed Post Master General. The Pope of Rome never received a tenth part of the praise from the "P. M." as the new official has received from the same source; therefore, we suppose, he must be a superior individual. We must sing him as the claims of Hon. F. Kelly. The Government organs have spoken: causa finita est (that is Latin). Much good the new official receive from the warm advocacy of Messrs. Laird, Currie, Kirwan, Hunt, &c. No more spies will intrude themselves into the "Sanctum" and stealthily sneak about corners on soft moccasins.

The saintly Elder has made an unprovoked attack on some of the officials of the Post Office, on Messrs. McKenna and McDonald, one of the criminal charges preferred against one, is that he is Secretary to a Literary Institute. Why did not the pious and holy David sing down on the claims of Hon. F. Kelly. The Government organs have spoken: causa finita est (that is Latin). Much good the new official receive from the warm advocacy of Messrs. Laird, Currie, Kirwan, Hunt, &c. The saintly Elder has made an unprovoked attack on some of the officials of the Post Office, on Messrs. McKenna and McDonald, one of the criminal charges preferred against one, is that he is Secretary to a Literary Institute. Why did not the pious and holy David sing down on the claims of Hon. F. Kelly. The Government organs have spoken: causa finita est (that is Latin). Much good the new official receive from the warm advocacy of Messrs. Laird, Currie, Kirwan, Hunt, &c. No more spies will intrude themselves into the "Sanctum" and stealthily sneak about corners on soft moccasins.
