Churchill made clear that "in particular in the West, we are resolved to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with the United States and our Allies in Europe in resisting any aggression."

Need Economic Foundation "But," he added, "there can be no assurance of lasting military strength without a firm economic foundation."

Labor left-winger Aneurin Bevan, who has long demanded cuts in defence spending, attacked Churchill on a charge of mishandling Britain's finances.

Bevan accused Churchill of hiding the truth that Britain's economic position never could have supported such a staggering defence load. Bevan charged that the U.S. was not paying its full share for Western defence.

Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, who with four other Labor members submitted the motion yesterday for censuring the government, described Churchill's economic efforts as "squalid."

Churchill, snapping back accused the former Attlee Government of leading Britain into too big a defence program to begin with. He said that if the original program had not been modified, the "expenditures would have risen enormously beyond our power to bear."

Throughout the economic debate, which started yesterday, there were Labor cries for Churchill to resign.

Attempts To Explain Saucers MONTREAL, July 30 - (CP) - Professor J.S. Marshall, director of the Stormy Weather Research Group at McGill University here, came up today with a possible answer to the strange objects - possibly flying saucers - reported on radar screens in Washington.

The object appeared at the 30-mile range on the set and he assumed it was caused by a storm cloud. He telephoned a town in the object area and was told the sun was shining with no clouds visible. Further checks failed to produce any clouds.

It was when he discovered the "ghost signals." The explanation was that his set was calibrated on a 90-mile range, but the radar pulses had gone beyond that and were bouncing back from a storm cloud 120 miles away.

The Washington radar could have picked up just such a "ghost signal," he said.

This Living Earth To turn the earth into a thing of love. Could that be purpose of its life expressed. In human form - in lower animals Who have not yet evolved to mind's estate.

But are in tune with God Who gave them life Through His own agency, this living earth? Life common to all things and entities. With also mind in varying degree From consciousness to conscience which must be The only attribute men could possess To justify their immortality: As their right to continuity. Their angle right to continuity. Could well be placed by life - by Delty. - J. M. MacLean.

Veterans' Children Picnic At Stanhope

The veterans' children's picnic at Stanhope yesterday brought together 110 kiddies and 50 adults who experienced no difficulty in having a thoroughly enjoyable time. A chartered bus and enough cars to provide ample transportation moved off from Legion Headquarters at 1:15 p.m., returning at 4:30 p.m., with a happy but tired band of youngsters.

The afternoon was spent largely in such activities as are essential to an outing of this kind, and included swimming and races. A race between the married men and also between married women proved exciting from the children's point of view.

Prizes were awarded in each of the events for children, provided by the Legion.

The ladies' auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. T. G. Davies, excelled themselves in providing refreshments of all kinds, including the inevitable ice cream and soft drinks without which a kiddies' picnic would be a failure.

President Charles Sinclair stated that Tony Gallant, Vince King and John Thistle, who so ably managed the affair, had considered themselves appointed "as from today," to arrange for a similar outing next year.

Good Time Has Chance To Boost Earnings Tonight

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 30 - (AP) - Good Time, biggest money winner in harness racing history, has another golden opportunity to boost his earnings closer to the $300,000 mark tomorrow night in the $5,000 Nassau two-mile pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

The Mighty Mite from William H. Cane's Goshen, N.Y., Good Time Stable is the 4 to 5 early choice over nine other sidewheelers in the race.

The six-year-old bay son of Hal Dale - On Time already has earned $281,958, and can collect an additional $22,500 if driver Frank Ervin can get him home first.

Good Time will be meeting the toughest opposition he's ever faced, among them Dudley Hanover, from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable, Du Quoin, Ill., and Solicitor, the $100,000 purchase racing under the colors of the Hanover, Pa. Shoe Farm.

Others in the line-up include Dr. Stanton, owned by W.L. Fraser, Forest, Ont.; Prince Adios, from Grant Hodgins' stable at Clarendon, Ont.; and Prince Jay of S.A. Camp Farms, Inc., Shafter, Calif. Prince Jay will be driven by Joe O'Brien of Alberton, P. E. I.

1915 Petition In 1915 Mr. Robert Lister MacNeil petitioned the Lord Lyon for the use of the Arms of the MacNeils of Barra. He came forward under a deed of nomination made by his late father in his favour as against an elder brother, still surviving.

The Lord Lyon remarked "There is very little proof of this pedigree" and to protect the interests of the older son he only granted Robert Lister MacNeil the arms with a Second Son's Difference.

This petition was presented during the war and Mr. Wallace MacNeil was not aware of the fact until later informed that a grant had been made.

When in 1938 Mr. Robert Lister MacNeil petitioned for the use of the undifferenced Arms of the MacNeils of Barra, Mr. Wallace MacNeil entered a caveat to make sure that no vital steps would be taken without his knowledge. This caveat has not been vacated.

In addition to the above excerpts the Press Committee were instructed to make known that the late Roderick MacNeil of Vernon, P. E. I. was called to Barra in the year 1900 where all the insignias of Chieftainship were conferred upon him.

This Roderick MacNeil was married to Miss Catherine Campbell a lady of pure Scottish stock. Several children were born to this union, Wallace being the oldest was looked upon as the heir-at-law to the Chieftainship. After the death of Wallace the chieftainship naturally passed on to his brother Colin MacNeil.

NEW GLASGOW W.M.S. The Auxiliary of the New Glasgow W.M.S. held its July meeting at the home of Mrs. Wartfield Orr with the president in the chair. Mrs. Gough took charge of the worship service and the opening hymn was No. 378.

Scripture reading was taken from Psalm 103 and prayer in unison was followed by hymn 445. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the roll call was answered by eight members, two assistant members and five visitors. It was decided to take home cooking to Cavendish to sell and each member was asked to bake something.

A letter about the rally in Kensington was read and the Friendship Secretary reported 10 calls in homes, three cards sent, and nine bouquets of flowers given to shut-ins.

Appointments for the August meeting are as follows: Leader, Mrs. Davis Moffatt, heralds, Mrs. Millar Orr and Mrs. Murray Orr and Missionary Prayer, Mrs. Davis Moffatt.

Mrs. Gough invited the members to the manse for the August meeting and the evening closed with Hymn No. 488 followed by the "Lord's Prayer."

SWEDEN'S RULERS - (CP) - Sweden was allotted frequencies for 80 television transmitters at a recent European conference here, but it will take 10 or 15 years before the planned Swedish television network of 80 transmitters can be completed. Stockholm expects the first station in 1954.

Grand Narrows Clansmen Organize In Support Of PEI Chieftain's Claims

loyal clansmen at a suitable reception was heartily approved. This committee approves the stand adopted by the committee of the Iona Area that they do not attend the Gaelic Mod at St. Anne's which will not be attended by Chieftain Colin MacNeil on the advice of the joint committees.

The organization which had been taking form for some time became a reality on Saturday evening, July 26th at a very spirited meeting at which the Clan battle cry "Buaidh No Bas" presaged a relentless effort to have Colin MacNeil of Vernon River, P. E. I. proclaimed Chief.

The press committee comprising the Secretary, Mr. Angus J. MacNeil, John A. MacNeil, D. J. D. MacNeil and John MacNeil were instructed to have the claim of the late Wallace MacNeil as presented by the legal firm of Davidson and Syme of Edinburgh on July 26th on May 14th, 1938 and which now holds good for his heir Colin MacNeil, publicized through the medium of the local press as it was felt that in as much as the controversy had evoked more than Canadian-wide interest, the public should be given the complete facts.

The gist of the claim referred to is as follows: Mr. Wallace MacNeil claimed descent from Clieonan MacNeil, son of Roderick MacNeil of Barra who obtained a charter of the estate of Barra in 1638, and his claim to the Chieftainship was based on the fact that this Clieonan was Senior to his brother James, from whom Robert Lister MacNeil claims descent.

The following publications were authorities for Mr. Roderick MacNeil's claim to the Chieftainship: Articles by the late Rev. A. MacLean Sinclair, famous Gaelic scholar, and Highland genealogist, on the MacNeils of Barra in the "Highland News" of December, 15th, 1900 and in the "Celtic Review" Vol. 111, pages 216-221.

W. E. MacKenzie's "History of the Outer Hebrides" (1903) page 222. Coedrich Freer, "Outer Isles" (1934) page 117.

F. Adam's "Clans Septs and Regiments of the Scottish Highlands" (1934) page 99. Letter from the late Neil MacPhail, MacNeil of Barra, a man uncommonly skilled in Barra traditional history, to the Oban Times of July 31st, 1915.

While egg prices are slightly below that being paid at the same period last year, this may be explained by the fact that for the first six months of the year 13% more eggs have been marketed than for same period 1951.

Poultry receipts are light and prices are unchanged. Dealers are purchasing very cautiously and at the present time none are interested in purchasing chicken of any quality.

The hatching season is now completed and as reported earlier, there has been a decrease of 2% in the total chicks sold on P. E. I. in 1952 by island hatcheries as compared with 1951.

Neither Federal nor Provincial veterinarians last night cared to express opinions on the disease. Dr. Oran Hall, Assistant Veterinary Director General, Ottawa, said he was surprised at the quarantine report as he had received no official word of an outbreak here. Dr. R. J. McClenaghan, Federal Veterinarian for the Maritimes, Moncton, said there was "no serious outbreak of livestock disease" in this Province. However, he stated that an investigation was being carried out by both Federal and Provincial livestock officials. He said it was simply a routine investigation and the condition causing it now appeared to be under control.

Apparently the disease first struck several weeks ago but there was no announcement made at the time. The farms on which the animals died are in the same general area, but are not adjoining. But the farm on which a horse died yesterday is several miles distant.

"Flying Farmer" Takes Over Paul's Flying Service Here

An island born flying enthusiast who over the past several winter's has gained national fame through a series of life saving winter mercy flights, today reaches the climax of his ambitions. Today Mr. Elton C. Woodside of Clinton, known more familiarly on the Island as "The Flying Farmer", has taken over the licenses and operation of Paul's Flying Service which is now in its seventh year of operation. Mr. Woodside will continue to operate all the services offered by Paul's Flying Service except flying instruction but will be changing the name of the business to Woodside's Flying Service. In addition the base of operation will be changed to Clinton.

Elton Woodside gazed skywards daily during the war days at the multitude of planes that passed over his farm from the nearby training bases at Summerside and Charlottetown, vowed then that he too would someday learn to fly. However it was not until 1946, when Mr. Paul Sharpe started giving instruction in Charlottetown, that this opportunity came. Mr. Woodside was one of the first students at P. E. I.'s first licensed school and one of the earliest graduates.

Has Own Landing Strip Shortly after graduating, Elton Woodside purchased a plane of his own, a Fleet Canuck and with this aircraft built up hundreds of flying hours of experience and earned his commercial license. The caption "Flying Farmer" has rested on his exploits from that time on, for he had a fully licensed landing strip built on his own farm, built his own hangar thereon and has made this a base

For all his flying to date. Several successful air shows and air meets have taken place on Mr. Woodside's airport and thousands have watched the flying activities. Planes as large as the twin engine Lockheed transport, aircraft similar to those flown by M.C.A. have landed there too. And now by continuing Woodside's Flying Service from his own farm airport Mr. Woodside can be truly classified as the Island's Flying Farmer.

During the past six years, Mr. Woodside has built up a distinguished record in his flying activities. His exploits during the winter have gained him prominence throughout the country and he has been credited with saving lives on more than one occasion, and in rushing expectant mothers to the hospital, he has been in several races with "Mr. Storm". He has been associated with Mr. Paul Sharpe in flying "The Guardian" to Western P. E. I. and has for the past few months been making twice weekly trips to Picton Island from New Glasgow, N. S. for Paul's Flying Service who have held the mail contract for that service.

For the past two years he has made hundreds of flights for Paul's Flying Service with whom he has been associated. During the past month he has flown more than 4,000 miles in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. I. in Government survey work on the breeding habits of ducks, a duplication of similar flights made by Mr. Woodside last summer. Other flights have taken him all over the Maritimes and it is not unusual for him to get a call over to Fredericton and
