

Collisions Result In Heavy Damage

Automobile body shops will be happy this week following this last gnashing weekend. Damage to vehicles in the Charlottetown area as the result of accidents have been estimated at around $1,200, enough money to buy a new import or a good used car.

The heaviest feuters resulted from five accidents over the weekend which took their toll of vehicles but luckily no injuries were reported.

The most expensive accident occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:10 when a vehicle driven by Colin MacPhail, Cornwall, collided with a car driven by Mrs. Wanda Howatt of Richmond Street, Charlottetown.

The accident occurred at the corner of Prince and Fitzroy streets. Damage to the MacPhail vehicle was estimated at $300 and to the Howatt vehicle at $150.

About $200 damage was sustained by a 1964 model driven by Earl MacAulay, 79 Douglas Street when it was involved in a hit-and-run vehicle Saturday morning on Elm Avenue at Young Street.

Yesterday there was a rear-end collision on Queen Street when a vehicle driven by Antonio Facini of Newswalkers, N.B. stopped for a red light at Hughes Corner and was struck by a car driven by John Norton, Jr., of Falconwood Drive, Sherwood. Damage was estimated at slightly over $100 to each vehicle.

A three-car smash Friday night at St. Dunstan's station involved vehicles driven by Eugene B. MacLean, Hunter River, Roger Goff, Highfield, and Suzanne Bradley, Charlottetown.

The accident occurred about 8:30 p.m. and MacLean's car sustained approximately $100 damage while the other two received about $20 damage each. Eugene H. Guindon, driving a 1961 car and Chester Davis Moffatt, Mayfield, also with a 1961 car were involved in an accident on Queen Street shortly before 9 p.m. Friday. Damages amounted to about $150 to the first vehicle and $40 to the other. While all this crashing was going on in the city, the Charlottetown detachment RCMP reported no accidents of any consequence.

Little Theatre Guild Finds Auditions Are Satisfactory

The advertising of auditions for casting of plays now in production proved highly satisfactory, it was learned Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Little Theatre Guild executive as 25 persons attended the try-outs.

With opening night drawing near at Oct. 23 it was felt that more people should come to assist in cleaning up the theatre. A number of people were required to help with the painting in order to have the stage open for rehearsals before opening night.

Murray Lasher, stage manager, is conducting a course in play production and back stage techniques. It is hoped that the UNCFE committee would be approached to see if it could make use of some clothing left over from a rummage sale.

Plans were laid and tentative dates were set for the presentation of three full length plays and nine one-act plays this year.

Peter Shama presided at the meeting.

Donald Gordon's Term Expiring

OTTAWA (CP) — The government will decide "very shortly" whether to re-appoint Donald Gordon as president of the Canadian National Railways, Prime Minister Pearson said Saturday.

Mr. Gordon's term in the $75,000-a-year post expires Sept. 30.

Reports circulated here that the CNR board of directors and a number of Liberal M.P.s have been exerting pressure on the government to renew Mr. Gordon's three-year term of office.

Mr. Pearson recalled that when Mr. Gordon's previous term of office expired in October, 1960, the former Progressive Conservative government delayed a year before renewing it, leaving Mr. Gordon as CNR board chairman and acting president.

A period of one minute's silence was observed in memory of the late Harry Morgan a long standing member of the branch, and C. Ball who recently died.

Following the adjournment, lunch was served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

With regards to the Charlottetown Forum, the City Council passed awarding the tender for the painting of the interior to Crawford Cameron. Another resignation named Weston (Bucko) Trainer as the manager of the Forum.
