blue jackets yesterday who is a mere boy.
The boy was put in irons and will be court-martialed.—St. John's Nfld., News.

LOBSTER FRY—Over 100,000,000 lobster fry have been hatched in the Pictou hatchery this season, and have been distributed in the beds around Pictou Island. Last year over 200,000,000 were planted in the same locality.—Truro

LOTS OF VISITORS—During the month of June fully thirty thousand farmers visited the Experimental Farm, Guelph, under the auspices of the various farmers institutes. The number was one third greater than last year. The work done at the farm is being more highly appreciated from year to year.

A FRIEND OF QUEEN'S—The treasurer of Queen's University writes to the press

Macdonald memorial chair. This makes four thousand dollars subscribed by the Senator towards the chair.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT—At Hillsboro while the two sons of William Harding Stevens were playing on a raft in a creek near his place, they were precipitated into the water. The smaller boy succeeded in reaching the shore, but the other boy was not so fortunate and sank to rise no more.
He was eighteen years old. The body was found a few hours afterwards.—Moncton

A NEW THING—A great blessing to those bicyclists who have a nervous dread of what may be coming behind them, and who are not able, or rather not sufficiently expert, to look around, will be the "retroopticon." This is nothing more nor less than a small mirror which is fastened to the handle bars, and which may be adjusted very easily to any angle required.
There is little doubt that they will be much in demand.

FUNERAL OF A PRIEST.

Impressive Services at St. Teresa's Yesterday.

The obsequies of Rev. M. J. McMillan yesterday were the most imposing ever seen in this province. What has never happened before for priest or layman, the Archbishop, Bishop, and all the priests of the diocese were present, having gone by special train from St. Dunstan's at 7.30 in the morning, as well as all the parishioners of St. Teresa's and many from other portions of the province. Among those present were Judge Hodgson, Cyrus Shaw, M. L. A., and many others of prominence from a distance.

At 9.30 the Pontifical Requiem was commenced, and the solemn strains of the chant broke upon the ears of a packed and sorrowing congregation. The casket containing the mortal remains of the dead priest was placed among blazing tapers just without the sanctuary. The officers of the Mass were: Bishop Macdonald, celebrant; Arch Priest, Mgr Gillis; Deacons of Honor, Very Rev. James Phelan, V. G., and Rev. R. B. Macdonald Deacons of Office, Revs. A. J. Macdonald, and Peter Curran. Rev. I. R. A. Macdonald acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Archbishop O'Brien occupied his throne on the right of the sanctuary, with Revs.
A. E. Burke and J. A. Macdonald as chaplains.

A strong choir composed of priests led by Rev. Father Gallant and including such well known voices as those of Dr. Chaisson, Dr. Doyle, S. T. Phelan, R. J. Gillis and others chanted the beautiful Requi m liturgy.

After the Mass Rev. Father Elliott, the celebrated Panlist now preaching a retreat to the priests, ascended the draped pulpit and preached a most beautiful and affecting di-course on the text "I am the resurrection and the life," etc. Several times the whole auditory was in tears and in the end the preacher was so affected himself as to sob audibly.

The absolutions were given by Archbishop O'Brien, and then to the solemn chant of the Benedictus the procession was formed, the Revs. S. Boudreault, James Aneas Macdonald, A. E. Burke, Dr Walker, D. F. Macdonald and J. A. Macdonald bearing the casket followed by the whole people.

The function throughout was most imposing, and all united in saying that the dead priest was worthy of all the honor done his remains.

After the obsequies the special brought the clergy back to the college.

PROWSE BROTHERS

Where They Marry to Kill Time.
One strange feature of Australia social life is the perfectly casual way in which men marry for no ostensible purpose except the purpose of vanishing wearily around the corner immediately after the ceremony. In a Sydney case now on hand the husband, it is alleged, married in 1884 and shortly afterward made his wife, indifferent exit around the corner and never came back. In 1896 he married again and immediately faded away up the street. He never lived with his second wife. When he was arrested on a charge of aggravated harassment, he offered no explanation whatever.
Apparently he only did it because a fellow must do something.—Sydney Bulletin.

A French Way to Cure Baldness.
A French surgeon announces a novel cure for baldness, which, however, is only within the reach of the wealthy.
The first thing is to find some poor, starving wretch with a fine head of hair of the color which the patient desires. The former having consented to part with his hair for a stipulated sum, the doctor scalps the pair delicately and applies the hairy scalp of the subject to the bald client, and vice versa. With luck the graft is said to be a success.—

lain in that play you saw last night?
Mrs. Crimsonbeak—Not on the stage.

and insisted upon climbing over my lap
