Few questions are of greater practical importance to humanity than that which is to be presented by Dr. McLeod; and we may add, few doctors are able to present it in a clearer or more forcible manner.

AN EARLY WINTER.—An exchange of views: Winter has set in early and severely in Michigan. In the northern end of the State, rivers have frozen over, one having an inch of ice from bank to bank a week ago. At Michigan Lake snow fell every day for a week up to last Wednesday, and last Tuesday and Wednesday there was fine sleighing all about that neighborhood. A few miles west of the town the snow was a foot deep on the level. Ten inches of snow fell at Vanderbilt early last week, and last Monday the river Maple was frozen over at Maple Rapids.

Mr. A. E. Olive, of Moncton, a popular I. C. R. Conductor, was at the Hotel Davies over Sunday.

Mr. T. B. Crady, station agent at Summerside, spent Sunday in the city. He was at the Queen Hotel.

Mr. T. A. McLean returned from Westville, N. S., on Saturday evening. Mr. James E. McLeod, of L. L. A. Cardigan, is in town. He is at the Hotel Davies.

Mr. J. C. McKay, is here in the interests of Moir & Co., Halifax. He is registered at the Hotel Davies.

Rev. W. H. Baker, Chaplain of H. R. Majesty's forces at Halifax, preached an edifying sermon in St. Peter's cathedral last evening. He was for Halifax tomorrow morning.

Captain Andrew Davis, master of the Dominion Steam Dredge Prince Edward, was here to-day, having recovered from his late serious illness, and is on deck again.

Evangelist Ainsley, of the Nova Scotia conference, now engaged in revival work at Margate, P. E. Island, will be in Baie Verte at an early date to engage in special work there.—St. John Sun.

Mr. Pearson, manager of the creamery at Capstan, was recently presented with the most complimentary address by the president and officers of the company. A silver tea service accompanied the address. Mr. Pearson made an appropriate reply.

Miss Ethel Elaine Hext, the eleventh child who appeared in Charlottetown some weeks ago, was married recently to Mr. Ernest G. Shipman, manager of the Canadian Entertainment Bureau, and who has been advance agent for Mrs. Hext almost since her debut.

Raymond Archibald, B. A., who has entered upon a mathematical course in Harvard, has been winning honors in Boston for the Mount Allison conservatory of music. He was one of two selected out of twenty-five in a competitive examination of the first violin in the Harvard symphony orchestra. Mr. Archibald received all his violin training in the Backwell conservatory.

We announce to-day the death of Mr. Andrew Stevenson, of Fredericton, in this Province. The deceased was three weeks ago a hale and hearty old gentleman, in his eighty eighth year. His death was the result of an accidental fall in his granary. He was one of the first settlers of Fredericton—one of those who went into the forest and subdued it. It is not hard to say that he lived an exemplary life and that his death was that of a just man. He was the father of Mr. Matthew Stevenson of this city.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon James Savidant and James Hughes were each fined $10 or 30 days for maliciously injuring the property of Benj. Rogers, by destroying the roof of his place of business on Queen Street by ripping the lead from the roof of the building, and by his behavior. Hughes is eleven years of age and Savidant twelve. His Honor, in giving judgment, said that under one section of the Criminal Code, for stealing lead or other metals affixed to any building, the guilty person was liable to be tried by indictment and imprisoned for seven years in the penitentiary. But, considering the youthfulness of the offenders in the present case, he thought the ends of justice would be best served by trying them summarily for maliciously injuring the complainant's property. We feel sure that when a certain section of the youthful portion of the community realize the gravity of the offence they commit when pilfering lead, etc., from buildings, they will be more careful.

The Scott Act summons against Captain John Hughes was dismissed. Mr. Blanchard was counsel for Hughes. James Macdonald, for being drunk and disorderly on Saturday night, was fined $2 or 10 days.

FROM ALL POINTS OF THE COMPASS. The Pope's Health. ROME, Nov. 1.—Accounts of the Pope's health are highly contradictory, and the truth probably is that he constantly overtaxes his strength and thus induces fainting fits which alarm his attendants.

The King of Ashantee's Big Following. LONDON, Nov. 1.—The news of the king of Ashantee's preparation for war may be quite a serious matter for the British, as the ex-roy says, he has 50,000 rifles. He rules more than eight million people.

The Bulgarian Ministry Resigns. LONDON, Nov. 2.—A Sofia despatch to the Chronicle says: The entire Bulgarian ministry has resigned until Prince Ferdinand shall have pronounced that his son, Boris, shall be baptized in the Russian church.

A Move in the Right Direction. OTTAWA, N. V. 1.—The militia department has placed an order for 2,000 great coats for the British troops. The contractor has undertaken to waterproof these coats as an experiment, without extra cost to the department, and if the coats prove serviceable it is likely that both coats and trousers will be waterproofed thereafter.

Amnesty Association's Appeal to Irishmen. DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—The Independent publishes an address issued by the Amnesty Association, addressed to Irishmen in the United States and Canada, making an appeal for aid in continuation of the agitation for the release of the Portland prisoners, and also for the purpose of assisting their families and substantially helping the men who were recently released from prison.

A Reign of Terror in Constantinople. LONDON, Nov. 1.—A despatch from Constantinople says eight Albanian guards connected with the palace have executed and twenty-four others imprisoned as a result of the discovery of the plot against the sultan. Discontent with the present regime has become so marked that events of a startling nature may be expected any time. Fusion of the Mussulman and Armenian committee against the sultan is being held to be imminent. The financial situation in Constantinople is causing general uneasiness.

Stole to Buy Food for His Wife. HALIFAX, Nov. 1.—Thomas Nixon was sentenced to fifteen days in Rockwell on a charge of stealing a dress from Mrs. Johnston. Nixon's wife is only sixteen years old. The wife stated that she saw her husband with the stolen dress in his possession. He gave it to her, but thinking it had been stolen, she ordered him to return it. He took it from the house and offered it for sale. The court made the sentence light because it believed that the dress had been stolen to buy food for the wife.

Death Under Peculiar Circumstances. SHELBURNE, Mass., Nov. 1.—Solomon Fiske, aged 60, died a day or two ago under peculiar circumstances. He was driving with his daughter Hattie, when his spirited colt ran, throwing the old gentleman out. The daughter grasped the reins, and as the horse went down the mountain at breakneck speed, courageously guided him into an open field. There she was thrown out and the wagon demolished. Meanwhile Mr. Fiske had gathered himself up, ran down the mountain road, and when he reached his daughter and saw that she was not injured he dropped dead. The excitement and joy at the safety of his daughter caused his death.

The Missionaries Must Withdraw. LONDON, Nov. 1.—A Constantinople despatch says that advice from Moscow as to the effect that Armenian and Turkish minorities have been conferring as to the best means to prevent an outbreak. The Turks stipulated that Armenian missionaries distributing relief in Sassoon should withdraw in three days, otherwise, they said, the British are likely to be re-created. In view of the critical situation, Hon. A. W. Terrell, American minister, advised the missionaries to comply at present with the demand for withdrawal.

Hon. M. H. Terrell made identical demands on the Porte to protect the missionaries. Mr. Terrell added that the United States would hold Turkey answerable for the lives of the missionaries. The Porte decided to accede to the demand. Kurds threaten to plunder Armenians as soon as the missionaries are gone.

Verdict in the Durant Case. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The jury in the Durant case were out but twenty minutes and returned a verdict without any recommendation for mercy. The punishment was death. This trial was for the murder of Blanche Lamont on July 22nd last. Durant is yet to be tried for the murder of Minnie Williams. When the case comes on for trial, the jury returned with the verdict the scene in the courtroom was a pathetic one. Men cheered the decision, while women wept hysterically. Durant made a half attempt to rise to his feet, but before he was able to do so his mother, with half a moon, threw her arms around his neck and sank into her chair. Durant seemingly forgot his keen position for the time being and with his arms around his mother's neck was doing his best to console her. When she left the room he was taken back to his cell apparently the most unconcerned person in the vast assemblage.
