NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Another tribute to the position which Canadian butter is winning for itself in the British market is found in the last issue of Weddel & Co.'s market report on colonial dairy produce...

It is reported that President McKinley is determined to sift the Maine outrage to the bottom, and that if the chain of circumstantial evidence can be made strong enough after the Cuban Military Commission reaches Havana, he will demand the arrest and detention of the suspected parties.

It appears that peculiar circumstances affected the contest for the seat in the British House of Commons made vacant by the appointment of Mr. Corzin to the Vice Royalty of India. A section of Liberal Unionists, headed by the chairman of the local Unionists Association, declined to support Lord Skelmersdale on the ground, that now that the home-rule agitation is dead, there is no longer any need for Liberals to vote for Conservatives.

MARRIED.

At Souris, on the 24th inst., by Rev. James R. Mackay, Henry Pope Duchemin to Carrie Parker Dingwell, eldest daughter of William Dingwell.

It is reported that the condition of the Queen of Denmark has become worse, and that her daughter, the Dowager Czarina, has postponed her departure.

SIR C. S. GZOWSKI.

Death of a Distinguished Man.

Sir Casimir Gzowski, the only Canadian A. D. C. to the Queen, whose death on the 24th inst., has been announced, was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, March 1813, and was the son of a Polish nobleman, Stanislaus, Count Gzowski, who was an officer of the imperial guard. Destined for a military career, he, at the age of 9, entered the military engineering college at Krennütz, where he remained until 1830. He there evinced a strong liking for engineering, and, on his graduation received a commission in that branch of the service.

When the Polish revolution against the rule of Constantine took place, young Gzowski threw up all his prospects in the army, and took his place in the ranks of his fellow patriots. He was present at the Polish triumph in Warsaw, and took part in the engagements which followed, being several times wounded and escaping, on more than one occasion, narrow escapes from the hands of the Russian forces. When the final catastrophe occurred, at the battle of Boremei, Gen. Dwernecki, to whose division Mr. Gzowski was attached, surrendered, and the officers were imprisoned in the fortifications for several months, being afterwards exiled to the United States. The rank and file were allowed to depart. Mr. Gzowski landed in New York in 1833, and there found himself at a considerable disadvantage on account of his ignorance of the English language. He was, however, endowed with an indomitable will, and he set himself to the study of the English tongue with the same resolution which has characterized him throughout his career.

Being an excellent linguist and having thorough knowledge of French, Italian and German, he gave lessons for several months, after which he went to Pittsfield, Mass., where he entered a law office. During this time he applied himself to the study of the English language, and in 1837 he was admitted to the bar. He went to Pennsylvania, where as a necessary preliminary to admission to the supreme court he took the oath of allegiance. He had, however, little inclination for the study of law and in 1841 he went to Toronto, where he obtained employment in the department of public works. He was successively superintending engineer of roads and harbors in Western Ontario, in 1842-48; engineer of harborworks at Montreal, 1850-53; and consulting engineer, ship canal improvement between Montreal and Quebec, 1850-53. At a later period he became chief engineer of the St. Lawrence and Atlantic railway company. This position he resigned to form a partnership with the late Sir A. T. Galt, L. H. Holton and Sir David McPherson, for the purpose of railway construction. The firm had the contract for the building of the Grand Trunk railway between Toronto and Sarnia, besides some other important works. In 1870 he was appointed a member of a commission to enquire into and report upon the water commissions of the Dominion. In the following year he became engineer of the international bridge across the Niagara, and he was also called upon to report upon the enlargement of the Welland Canal and on the Baie Verte canal scheme. Colonel Gzowski had always taken a deep interest in military affairs. He was president for some years of the Dominion Rifle Association, and was instrumental in sending the first Canadian team to Wimbledon. He was made a lieutenant colonel in 1872, a full colonel in 1879, and in the same year was appointed an honorary A. D. C. to the Queen. In 1890, in recognition of "valuable services to the Dominion of Canada," he was created a K. C. M. G. In 1896 he served as Administrator of the government of Ontario. Sir Casimir has never entered public life though often pressed to do so. Politically he is inclined to conservatism, and favored what is known as imperial federation. In religious faith he was a member of the Church of England. He was the first president of the Society of Canada Christian Endeavor, and he was also the first chairman of the Niagara Falls park commission. He was for some years president of the Toronto club; vice president of the Ontario bank; and president of the London and Canada Loan and Agency Co. He was president of the Corporation of Wycliffe College. He married, October, 1826, Miss Maria Beebe, daughter of an eminent American physician. Lady Gzowski is a vice president of the Y. M. C. A., Toronto.

A Big Cargo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 26.—The new steel propeller McDougall arrived in port yesterday from Chicago, carrying the largest cargo ever transported by a ship plying in fresh waters. She had on board 240,000 bushels of corn.

British Columbia Elections.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 26.—A member of the new Provincial Government is authority for the announcement that Premier Semlin and his associates will not seek endorsement at the customary bye-elections, requesting instead dissolution before any session, and holding a general election between the 8th and 15th October. Should the Legislature be convened now, it would show Turner to have a majority of 2.

Piper Findlater denies that he is engaged to be married to a Dundee lady, while the parents of the girl assert that he asked and received their consent to the marriage a short time ago, and that the arrangements are nearly completed for the celebration of the event on the 6th September. The gallant piper seems to have shown the white feather in this case.

The death is announced of Miss Helen Lindsay, Perth, Scotland, at the age of 103 years.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Mail and Empire: The most important result of the Hardy session of the Legislature is the prevalence of the opinion that if an appeal to the people were made Mr. Whitney would sweep the province.

Montreal Gazette: Mr. Powderly's reported remark that the United States alien labor law was not meant to imply to Canadians lacks facts to support it. It was certainly made to apply to Canadians immediately after its passage, as special agents were appointed, whose location made it impracticable for them to apply it to any but Canadians. If Mr. Powderly is ashamed of the law, it is trusted he will first tell the truth about it, and then try to have it repealed, though the latter may be impossible to accomplish. The law is popular in the United States, partly because it is enforced against Canadians.

The Guardian: The Liberal party is strongly committed to bring about free trade relations with our near neighbors, but not without regard to the price to be paid. We have proved that we can get along without reciprocity, and the great expansion of our trade during the past year—forty-six million in advance of the year previous—affords sufficient evidence of the fact. We trust that the determination of the United States Commissioners has been over-stated. But if we are forced to choose between preferential trade with Britain and reciprocity with the States the preference given to Great Britain will still be retained. This is a British country, and in the present temper of our people no statesmen of either party can afford to forget the fact.

Huntington Gleaner: The Government organs, which are to be pitied, having to grind out laudations of their masters whether they will or no, are these days exulting over an increase in revenue during July of $1,383,000 and an alleged surplus over expenditure of $1,148,000. In reality there was no surplus, for what they give as expenditure was merely the amount spent chargeable to the consolidated fund. The expenditure of the Dominion is not confined to the consolidated fund, and during July the Government must have poured out money like water for railway subsidies, public works, and that absurd military expedition to the Yukon, for the country is over five million dollars deeper in debt than it was when the month began.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalid's Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y.
