motives, to undervalue the services of these officers, will Mr. Coles think, that Government had better have "sent them out to the Black Sea, and compelled them to do something for the heavy pay they derive from it."

The allusion to the want of pluck comes singularly enough from the pen of Mr. Coles, but we beg to assure him, that whatever he may think, personal courage is the thing least wanted in either arm of the service; we rather imagine it would be difficult to find a dozen persons in the whole army and navy of the United Kingdom deficient in that particular. If there be one part of the service more extensively beneficial to the navy and the country, nay the world at large, than another, it is this particular portion of it in which Capt. Orlebar is now engaged, and we have long since made it a subject of silent admiration to observe, how quietly and unostentatiously the invaluable labours of Capt. Bayfield and his brother officers are given to the world unheralded by any flourish of trumpets: not unappreciated however, for by all scientific men, and those of every country, the results of the patient and accurate investigations of the officers of the Gulnare will be held in greater esteem and more highly prized the better they are known. Bayfield's charts will be in greater demand half a century hence than they are at present. That the exertions of scientific men should be looked upon with contempt by men whose minds are of limited calibre, we can well understand. It is with the vulgar and uninformed only, that Mr Coles's observations can have the least weight. We look upon the selection of the harbour of Charlottetown for the wintering station of the surveying establishment under the command of Capt. Bayfield, as one of the most fortunate occurrences that could have happened. The gentlemen composing it have effected a large amount of good to Charlottetown and its vicinity, in the same quiet and unostentatious way, that their professional duties have been performed. But we stop here, fearful of offending those whose friendship we hold it an honor to possess, and which we would not willingly risk losing by any unauthorized expressions of praise, however highly merited.

To George T. Haszard, Esq.

Sir;

I perceive that Mr. Coles denies that he made use of the words attributed to him by the Sons of Temperance. He does not however tell us, what they really were, but says, that "his speech in the House of Assembly will answer for itself, when it appears in the regular way," that is to say, the authorised version of the speech as corrected and amended by the author. Does Mr. Coles think that the public of Prince Edward Island are so soft, as not to perceive that this regular way is just the most unsatisfactory one that could be referred to. No! No! your version of the speech is the the most to be relied upon, yours was taken of course at the same time with that of Mr. Howe, neither of you write in short hand, but there is this difference between you. Mr. Howe is not obliged to extend the short notes of the heads of the debates immediately after they are taken, and while they are fresh in the memory, and you are. You are not obliged to submit your summary, that is published in your paper, as soon as may be after it is delivered, to the surveillance of Mr. Coles; Mr. Howe is. He is employed by the House, and paid by them, and of course the members have a right to correct their own Speeches. Who should know better what they said, or meant to have said, or wish the public to believe they had said better than themselves? Mr. Howe, I have no doubt, has reported correctly, but before Mr. Coles will suffer it to appear in the regular way, depend upon it he will have the regulation of it. It is part of the system, Sir. He won't suffer an officer of Government to vote against his candidates, and he won't suffer a Government reporter to report, nor a Government printer to print a word prejudicial to himself or his Government. It would be contrary to the practice and principles of Responsible Government.

Yours &c.,

Aliquis.

If we do not receive our stock of paper, we will not issue Haszard's Gazette on Wednesday. there will be no Mail between this and that day, so that there can be nothing particular to communicate. We shall likely have an English Mail before Saturday, by which time, we hope to be able to issue a double sheet.

The Lady Le Marchant will, we understand, be put upon the route between this port, Bedeque and Shediac. She is to ply twice a week between Bedeque and Shediac, and to make one trip to Charlottetown. The days of sailing have not yet been made known. She left this morning for Shediac, and will return on Tuesday.

Temperance Meeting, at the Cross [illegible] Chapel, Lot Forty-eight.—On Monday evening last a Public Meeting was held in the Chapel, Lot 48, the Rev. John Knox, D. G. W. P., in the Chair. After prayer by the Chairman, Mr. MacAusland, G. [illegible], addressed the assembly in a speech of great power full of earnestness and argument, in which he expounded the general principles of Temperance in their relation to the moral, social and political condition of man. He dwelt particularly upon the influence of [illegible]tchmen; upon the drinking usages of Society, and urged upon them their obligations to reform the [illegible] which they had contributed to originate and susta[illegible]. Mr. Arbuckle, P. G. W. P., in a very able and lengthy speech, full of anecdote and wit, illustrated and enforced the great principles of Temperance Reform, to the amusement of the old and delight of the young, and dwelt especially upon the necessity of [illegible]nded effort, in the great and noble cause. The speeches were listened to with great attention and showed the deep interest which the community cherish in this benevolent and extending Reform. The [illegible]ing, which was both excellent and abundant, contributed to the enjoyment of the evening. After some remarks by the Chairman, and a vote of thanks to the Orators of the evening, the audience separated, all delighted with the proceedings of the meeting.

Lieut. Bland and a Sergeant of the 76th Regiment, arrived in the steamer last night. They intend to form a recruiting party, to raise soldiers for the British army. We have no doubt they will find many young men on the Island, willing to serve their country, and maintain her power.

Concert.—Another Amateur Concert, in aid of the Patriotic Fund, came off at the Temperance Hall on Thursday 3d inst. The room was beautifully decorated with Flags, Pictures, Paintings, &c., and brilliantly lit up with gas, and was pretty well filled with the beauty and fashion of Charlottetown. His Excellency the Lieut. Governor and family, were also present. The music was very good, and the singing excellent. Much praise is due to Mr. and the Misses Duchemin, and the gentlemen of the band, for the very handsome manner in which the whole affair was got up, as well as for the praiseworthy object they had in view, as for the evening's entertainment afforded the inhabitants of Charlottetown. We have spent many hours in the Temperance Hall, listening to Lectures, and amusements of different kinds, but never did we leave the Hall so well pleased as we did at the close of the performance of last evening. The handsome new fine-toned Organ, recently built by Mr. Duchemin, added much to the appearance of the room, and was an excellent accompaniment to the Vocal Music.

At the conclusion, a vote of thanks and three cheers were unanimously given to Mr. and the Misses Duchemin, and then the same compliment was paid to the gentlemen of the Band.—Isl.

Ship News.

Arrivals at Georgetown.—Schr. Messenger, from Salem, and Glide from Gloucester, U. S. trading voyage.

The Ship James Cheston,—In the London Shipping Gazette of March 28th, we find a letter of Capt. Wilson, of the British Bark Marathon, by which the ship James Cheston was picked up, after being abandoned, in which he gives the following account of the condition in which that ship was found:

"All the hatches were off and everything in disorder on deck, ship's papers, compasses, and wearing apparel being taken away. I immediately went into the hold, and found about three feet water on the between decks, and also perceived water rushing in around and through two holes in the cargo port. To all appearances attempts had been madeto force and cut the port out, the lashings being cut, and the port nearly cut through; there were also two auger holes through it, and the water was running in with great force."

We seldom recommend a manufactured medicine, believing that, in most cases, nature herself perfects a cure more rapidly and effectually than can be accomplished by the vegetables and minerals of medical science. Bnt in the matter of dyspepsia, there are chronic features about it, which very often defy all the efforts of nature to create a healthy action of the digestive organs, and it not unfrequently happens that thousands suffer for years, diseased both in body and in mind, from indigestion and its kindred ills. To such, Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, are truly a most valuable preparation. It is a tonic medicine, giving a healthy action to the stomach, and will be found highly serviceable at all seasons, but especially during the spring. Dyspepsia can only be cured by a patient perseverance in one course of treatment; and to all those suffering under this sad malady we would recommend an application to the depot of Hoofland's German Bitters, 120 Arch street, Philadelphia.—Philadelphia Inquirer See advertisement.

ANOTHER CASE OF FEVER ANE AGUE CURED.

☞ A few days ago we recorded an astonishing cure of Fever and Ague by the use of Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills. We have now another to mention, viz; that of Mr. James Sharpe, of Madisonburgh, who states, that he had labored under a very severe attack of Ague and Fever, and was soon restored by the use of these Pills. Mr. Sharpe also expresses an opinion, founded on observation, that the Liver Pills are the best for bilious complaints ever offered in his section of country.

Although long known as a sovereign remedy for chronic cases of Hepatic derangement, or diseases of the Liver, the proprietors of Dr. M'Lane's Pills were not prepared for the frequent, but gratifying evidences of its general utility and curative capacity. In this respect, this invaluable medicine has exceeded their most sanguine expectations, and induced them to hope, that it will be introduced into every family in the United States.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, also his Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.
