The Only Perfect Dyestuffs in the World.

The scientific preparation of dyestuffs and putting them up in proper shape for family dyeing has been brought to perfection by Wells & Richardson Co., who are proprietors of the celebrated Diamond Dyes.

These popular dyes have banished from the homes of Canada, madder, fustic, logwood, cochineal and all other antiquated dyestuffs. The work of home dyeing is now done quickly and successfully by Dyes; the process is one that would astonish our grand parents.

Today millions all over the world use the scientific Diamond Dyes in preference to all others. Diamond Dyes command themselves to all who use them, because they are the strongest, brightest and fastest, and the easiest to work with.

Diamond Dyes, like all other perfect and popular preparations, are largely imitated in style of package and the way they are put up. These imitations are worthless and adulterated dyes, ruinous to all kinds of goods and dangerous to handle. Great caution is advised when buying dyes for home use. Ask only for the "Diamond"; see that the name is on every packet.

Games

and Sports can be entered into with greater enjoyment when ADAMS TUTTI FRUTTI is used. It always thirst and gives staying power.

Some dealers try to palm off imitations to obtain a big profit. See that the trade mark name is on each 5c. package. Save coupons for latest books and prizes. 149

IRON AND STEEL.

Rust consists of ferric oxide, ferrous oxide, ferrous carbonate, calcic carbonate, silica and ammonia.

The common coppers of commerce, so extensively used as a disinfectant, is a salt of iron, the sulphate.

According to Moses, the first iron worker was Tubal Cain, who was "an instructor of every artificer in brass and iron."

As early as 1590 English iron mills for preparing wrought iron in bars for blacksmiths were established by Godfrey Boobes.

In 1543 the manufacture of iron in England became a permanent item of industry through the efforts of Ralph Page and Peter Baude.

The first export of iron from this country was a shipment of bar iron to England in 1717. The first shipment of pig iron was made in 1728.

The so called chalybeate springs are medicinal in their qualities largely on account of the iron contained by their waters, it being thus presented in a form convenient for assimilation.

Before the days of iron, horses were frequently shod with straw, as they are in many parts of China to the present day. In some of the country districts of the Celestial empire persons make their living by gathering the cast off straw horseshoes scattered along the highways.

According to tradition, the Damascus blades could be bent into a circle and remain so for years without losing a particle of their elasticity. The Toledo blades of Spain are still made in limited numbers, and it is believed by experts that the Toledo swords are in every respect the equal of those made in Damascus. - St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Theatrical salaries in summer are usually cut 20 per cent.

London expects to see Duse this summer in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

Catharine Lewis has been added to the cast of "The Circus Girl" at Daly's theater, New York.

In Garrick's time, when the weather was warm, the men in the pit took off coats and vests.

Greek and Roman architects placed earthen jugs in the walls of theaters to increase the resonance.

Elvia Crox Sealbrooke has made a success at the Tivoli, San Francisco. She contemplates a starring tour season after next.

In the last century the Gravedigger in "Hamlet" excited immense enthusiasm by pulling off, one after another, a couple of dozen waistcoats.

Poe's ghastly story, "Hop Frog," has been dramatized in French and is now being performed with two light one act pieces at the Paris El Dorado.

A tragic Italian opera, "A Basso Porto," by Spinelli, was recently given for the first time at Breslau, Germany. It is another short work of the modern Italian school.

In four years Mr. H. C. Miner, the owner of "Shore Acres," has cleared $120,000, and yet the New York critics predicted, when it was produced, the play would not last a month.

Among the new works in preparation at the Royal Opera House in Berlin is a five act tragedy, "Caub," dealing with an episode from the Napoleonic wars. It is by Walter Blaine, said to be a relative of James G. Blaine.

A MATTER OF JUSTICE,

Is The Wey A Young Lady Of New Brunswick Views It.

Suffered From Headaches, Pain in the Side and Heart Palpitation—She thinks Similar Sufferers Should Know How She Found a Cure.

From the Fredericton Gleaner.

Miss Alma Millar, of Upper Southampton, N. B., is a daughter of Mr. Ezra Millar, a wealthy and influential farmer, and the young lady is a general favorite among a wide circle of acquaintances, who have had occasion to congratulate her upon her complete restoration to health, after a severe and trying illness. When a correspondent of the Gleaner called upon her, and requested that the facts might be given for publication, the young lady, though not at all anxious for publicity, nevertheless gave her consent in the hope that her experience might prove beneficial to some of the many young girls whose condition of health is very similar to what her's was previous to her cure. Miss Millar stated that when her illness began her mother was unable to look after the affairs of the household and the duties largely devolved upon her. She felt herself growing weak and easily tired, but felt that she must keep up. She says: "Notwithstanding my efforts I found myself growing worse and worse. My appetite failed, my complexion became sallow and my eyes sunken in my head. I was troubled with dizziness, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart until at times I felt as though I would suffocate. I was almost constantly troubled with a pain in the side, and severe headaches. When I went upstairs I was obliged to rest. Life had become almost a burden and at last I was forced to give up and keep my bed. My friends feared I was going in consumption and one remedy after another was tried with no beneficial results until I was induced to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. In less than three weeks I was able to leave my bed and go about the house, and the use of Pink Pills a few weeks longer completely restored my health and strength and drove away all symptoms and pains which had made my life so miserable. I feel that in bringing this matter before the public I am but doing simple justice to suffering humanity and I hope that those afflicted as I was will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. I might also add that other members of my family have used Pink Pills with equally good results."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for Miss Millar, they will do for thousands of of other young girls throughout the country whose condition is similar. They restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks, correct functional derangements, and create a feeling of new life and energy. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Refuse all pink colored imitations and other medicines said to be "just as good."
