

sonal estate, or the rents or produce thereof, in respect of which, the same, respectively, shall be made, or in such manner as the said Chancellor or Court shall think proper.

LXV. That, upon any petition being presented, under this Act, to the Chancellor, concerning a person of unsound mind, it shall be lawful for the said Chancellor, should he so think fit, to direct that a commission, in the nature of a writ de lunatico inquirendo, shall issue, concerning such person, and to postpone making an order upon such petition, until a return shall have been made to such commission.

LXVI. That, upon any petition, under this Act, being presented to the Chancellor, or to the Court of Chancery, it shall be lawful for the said Chancellor, or the said Court of Chancery, to postpone making any order upon such petition, until the right of the petitioner or petitioners shall have been declared, in a suit duly instituted for that purpose.

LXVII. That, in citing this Act, in other Acts of the General Assembly of this Island, and in legal instruments, and in legal proceedings, it shall be sufficient to use the expression "The Trustee Act, 1866."

LXVIII. That this Act shall come into operation on the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

LXIX. That, from and after the day when this Act shall commence, and take effect, all other Acts, and parts of Acts, contrary to, or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall be, and the same are, hereby repealed.
