

Habs Win Stanley Cup; Harvey Scores Clincher

BULLETIN
BOSTON (CP)—Montreal Canadiens struck with lightning thrusts early Sunday night but preserve a 3-3 win over the fighting Boston Bruins and win their third Stanley Cup in a row.
HIGH-SPEED BATTLE
The way the Canadiens opened up Sunday night, it appeared s though the game would turn into a rout. Geoffrion deflected in a goal after only 46 seconds of play and Maurice (Rocket) Richard drove in a 40-footer at 1:54.

The Bruins appeared stung by this sudden setback and struck back with a ferocious offensive that had the Montrealers bottled up time and again. There was seldom a letup in the Boston attack and Don McKenney bagged their first goal at 18:35.

The whirlwind effort appeared to take some of the steam out of them for at the start of the second period the Canadiens were back in command and the Bruins had difficulty getting their drive rolling again.
Beliveau's long slapshot, which goalie Don Simmons didn't play very well, gave Montreal a 3-1 lead at 6:42 of the middle period. With the Bruins still managing to open up only in spurts, Geoffrion scored at 19:26.
Burley Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion scored two of the Montreal goals, and Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Jean Beliveau and Doug Harvey got one each in winding up the best-of-seven series in six games—4 to 2 for the reigning champions.
Harvey's goal came with a minute to play and dashed the hopes of the courageous, gallant Bruins who all but tied up the game in the late minutes.
Don McKenney counted in the first period for Boston and Norm Johnson and Larry Regan sent Boston hopes soaring in the third.
FANS MOB PLAYERS
When the game ended the Montreal players leaped with joy and hugged each other. Montreal fans swarmed on the ice to congratulate their heroes.
The cup presentation ceremonies finally got under way and were brief. President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League presented the prized trophy to captain Maurice Richard of Montreal.
The game wound up one of the most hotly contested and most spectacular series of the final. Twice the underdog Bruins came from behind to get even in games with the highly-favored National Hockey League champions.
The Canadiens pulled ahead 3-2 at home last Thursday and then won the cup title on Boston ice. It was the first time in 10 years a team has won the cup on foreign ice.

Royals Humble Rangers; Win N. S.-P. E. I. Title

Charlottetown Royals severely clobbered the New Glasgow Rangers 10-2 Saturday evening at the Charlottetown Sports Arena in the final game of a best of five series for the N.S.-P.E.I. Senior Hockey Title. The Royals now play the Bathurst Papermakers for the Maritime title. Word is that it will be a home and home series with the first game in Bathurst tonight and the second game at the Sports Arena on Tuesday evening.
Orin Carver, who has just returned from Newfoundland was the star of last night's game, getting four goals and two assists. Other goals for the Royals were by Allie Carver with three; Skip Carver, A. Carroll, Lloyd Shepherd, and Merrill Pineau with singletons.
The first period ended with the Royals leading 2-1. In the second the Royals really got rolling, getting 7 goals without an answer from the Rangers. Orin Carver certainly proved an asset to this Charlottetown squad.
In the final period the Rangers played hard but they were tiring fast and could not keep up to the fast moving Royals. Each team scored one in the third period to end the game 10-2.
The referees called a total of fifteen penalties, five of them being awarded to Josey, Charlottetown defenceman. In the third

MINOR HOCKEY

Tonight the annual Minor Hockey Nite is being staged at Sports Arena as a fitting windup to a successful season during which city youngsters stole the spotlight from their elder brothers and staged some of the best and most exciting hockey played here in years.
Tonight's big "Do" gets under way at 7:00 p.m. The games will all be sudden-death games for City Titles. The opener brings together the Royal City Bears and P.S.S. Tigers in a Paperweight tussle. Second game of the evening will bring together the Royals and Q. S. S. Wildcats battling it out for the pee-wee crown. The third game will bring together two Bantam squads—Royalty Bisons and Q. S. S. Elks and the finale will be a Midget contest bringing together two outstanding squads—Al Rogers' Royals and Ivan Docherty's Vics.
To wind up the evening there will be a short skate to Donnie Burn's Rock 'n Roll records.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

What happens now on the local hockey front as far as Charlottetown Royals are concerned?
The Royals, newly crowned champions of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, are likely going to get a chance to play for the Maritime title. When this column was being written, it looked like a home and home total goal series with the certain raise in Bathurst tonight and the second and final at the Sports Arena Tuesday night.
Present plans are to fly the Royals to Chatham then go by bus to Bathurst. After the game the Royals would fly back to this city and have a good night's rest in preparation for the Tuesday clash.
If this scheme goes through it is hoped that Royals will take a strong team to the Northern New Brunswick town. If the Royals can stay close at Bathurst then they would have an excellent chance of grabbing the three-province championship.
Every hockey fan on this Island will be pulling for the Royals' victory and the Island's first Maritime crown in many, many years.

And now it is being told that Ted Kluszewski never had a slipped disk. At least that's what a Pittsburgh paper published just a few days ago. The paper went even farther, adding that the Pirates would pay $55,000 to the Cincinnati Redlegs if Kluszewski was still with the club at the start of the season.
Pittsburgh's Post-Gazette said the money would be paid to complete the trade in which the Pirates exchanged Dee Fondy for Kluszewski. The trade had been announced as an even swap.
Big Klu has been complaining of back pains the past two seasons. It was determined that he had a slipped disk and might never play again. However now it is claimed that examination by a Pirate medical specialist shows no such condition. Both Gabe Paul, general manager of the Redlegs and Joe Brown, the Pirates' G.M. have no comment.
In 1957 Kluszewski's batting dropped to .268 and he hit only a half dozen home runs, after walloping 35 or more the previous four seasons.

The Post-Gazette concludes with this observation.
"X-rays failed to reveal anything" that might be orbiting in Ted's back. And to further mystify the reason of Cincinnati's disposal of Klu for Fondy is the fact that there was no trace of a disk that had been misplaced. If there has been one, it is completely healed over and back in a good spot somewhere in this important spinal column.
Well here's hoping all they say is true and that the big fellow will have a real top notch year with the Pirates.
Did Pirates pay the $55,000 yet? We don't know. Klu was there on opening day.

And mentioning those Pirates brings to mind a fellow by the name of Bobby Bragan who tried his hand at managing in the Steel City.
Bobby is now masterminding the Cleveland Indians and we recently ran across a nice tribute from one of his players. We felt readers of this column might like to glance at it. They've read so many blasts about Bobby in the past.
This comes from Vic Wertz, a really great ball player and a chap not known for sounding off. It goes like this.
"I'm sold on Bobby Bragan, and believe me, that's a switch. When I read that he had been appointed manager last fall I was sick. I didn't know the guy, but somehow or other I had the idea I didn't like him. You know how you are sometimes. But I began to change my mind at the first squad meeting he held this spring. He said 'you fellows got any gripes, come and tell me about 'em. Maybe you'll be right. If you are, you'll find I can be convinced.'"
A lot of managers might say a thing like that, but Bragan meant it. Some players did have gripes, like they always do, and they went and talked them over and found out that Bobby wasn't one of those guys who's always right and everybody else is always wrong. Now they're 100% for him.
I've never been treated better by any manager I ever played for, and I've played for a lot of them."

The Larry Baker you watched drop that decision on TV Friday night is the same Baker that fought at the Sports Arena (then the Forum) back in 1953.
It was July 24 of that year that Baker stopped Don 'Duck' Trainor in the seventh round of a semi-final scrap staged by Ivan Doherty.
Headlining the card that were Henry Jordan and Gil Edwards.

If you expect to get some rich returns from your betting money, don't go wagering on the Milwaukee Braves or the New York Yankees.
The defending champs of either league are prohibitive favorites to do the same thing all over again. At least that's what the gambling odds will tell you.
You'll win only $2 if you bet $5 that the Yankees will keep their American League pennant. And if the Braves successfully defend their National League crown, you'll get back the same.
Closest challengers to the Yankees in the American League in latest betting are Chicago, 4 to 1, and Boston, 8 to 1.
In the National League you can get 5 to 2 odds that the Los Angeles Dodgers will whip Milwaukee for the 1958 pennant. St. Louis' chances are rated 4 to 1. Other late odds are:
American League—Detroit, 9 to 1; Cleveland, 12 to 1; Baltimore 50 to 1; and Kansas City and Washington, 200 to 1.
National League—Cincinnati, 10-1; San Francisco, 40-1; Philadelphia, 50-1 and Pittsburgh and Chicago, 100-1.

A Soviet soccer star, who was chased to the 'minors' for hitting the bottle more than the ball, has repented and made a public apology in the Soviet press.
Edward Streltsov was given the 'gate' early in the year after a Soviet paper did quite a job on favoritism and wild living in the top ranks of Soviet soccer.
In his letter, Streltsov said he now realized he had to "defend the high calling of Soviet sportsmen with honor."

Yanks, After Three Wins Are Now in Top Spot

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The New York Yankees are rolling.
Casey Stengel's boys completed a three-game sweep of their series with Baltimore Orioles this weekend, winning a 4-3 squeaker Saturday and then pounding out a decisive 7-0 shutout Sunday afternoon.
The victory left them atop the American League baseball standings by a game-and-a-half over second-place Washington.

The Senators toppled Boston Red Sox 4-3 Saturday, and then Sunday nudged the Beantowners 6-5. It was the third win in as many meetings for the Nats over the Sox.
In the other American League games, Detroit took a pair from Cleveland, whipping the Indians 9-1 Saturday and 4-2 Sunday. Chicago White Sox were rained out in their Saturday night game with Kansas City Athletics, but were humbled by the A's 8-2 on Sunday.
CUBS FINALLY LOST
In the National League, Chicago Cubs finally tasted defeat as veteran Stan Musial crashed two home runs to help St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-4 win Sunday. Saturday, the Cubs won their fourth game in as many tries, a 6-3 effort over the Cards.
The defending world champion Milwaukee Braves blanked Philadelphia 5-0 Saturday, but found the Phillies ace Robin Roberts too tough Sunday. They lost a 3-2 battle as Roberts tossed a five-hitter.
Pittsburgh Pirates ended a three-game losing streak Sunday nudging Cincinnati Redlegs 4-3. Saturday the Pirates lost 9-6.
San Francisco thumped the Los Angeles Dodgers twice 11-4 Saturday and 12-2 Sunday to pull into second place in the standings a half-game back of Chicago.

ROYALS HUMBLE RANGERS; WIN N. S.-P. E. I. TITLE

Charlottetown Royals severely clobbered the New Glasgow Rangers 10-2 Saturday evening at the Charlottetown Sports Arena in the final game of a best of five series for the N.S.-P.E.I. Senior Hockey Title. The Royals now play the Bathurst Papermakers for the Maritime title. Word is that it will be a home and home series with the first game in Bathurst tonight and the second game at the Sports Arena on Tuesday evening.
Orin Carver, who has just returned from Newfoundland was the star of last night's game, getting four goals and two assists. Other goals for the Royals were by Allie Carver with three; Skip Carver, A. Carroll, Lloyd Shepherd, and Merrill Pineau with singletons.
The first period ended with the Royals leading 2-1. In the second the Royals really got rolling, getting 7 goals without an answer from the Rangers. Orin Carver certainly proved an asset to this Charlottetown squad.
In the final period the Rangers played hard but they were tiring fast and could not keep up to the fast moving Royals. Each team scored one in the third period to end the game 10-2.
The referees called a total of fifteen penalties, five of them being awarded to Josey, Charlottetown defenceman. In the third

SPORTS FRONT

What happens now on the local hockey front as far as Charlottetown Royals are concerned?
The Royals, newly crowned champions of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, are likely going to get a chance to play for the Maritime title. When this column was being written, it looked like a home and home total goal series with the certain raise in Bathurst tonight and the second and final at the Sports Arena Tuesday night.
Present plans are to fly the Royals to Chatham then go by bus to Bathurst. After the game the Royals would fly back to this city and have a good night's rest in preparation for the Tuesday clash.
If this scheme goes through it is hoped that Royals will take a strong team to the Northern New Brunswick town. If the Royals can stay close at Bathurst then they would have an excellent chance of grabbing the three-province championship.
Every hockey fan on this Island will be pulling for the Royals' victory and the Island's first Maritime crown in many, many years.
