

Clippings From Late Papers.

Laird Simon, of Philadelphia, a well known journalist, is dead.

How to convert a conservative into a liberal. Try the reform-a-tory system.—Punch.

When the Jeanette returns from the North Pole it will be sent in search of the independent press.

The Philadelphia Chronicle is doubtless correct when it asserts that the fair sex cares more for pickles than for politics.

An editor out West was in prison for libelling a Justice of the Peace, and when he departed the jailer asked him to give the prison a puff.

During one month this summer the Philadelphia Mint coined $600,000, and how they all got past us without seeing one of them is what astonishes us.

Another poet comes forward and says: "And I hear the hiss of a scorching kiss." Beats all what a man can hear if he is only mean enough to listen.

This is the season of the year when bad Indians commence signing treaties of peace and drawing government blankets for the winter.—Picaune.

A young lady who lately gave a milliner an order for a bonnet said: "You must make it plain but still attractive and smart, as I sit in a conspicuous place in church."

A writer advises that girls who wish to have small mouths should repeat at frequent intervals through the day: "Fanny Finch fried four floundering frogs for Frances Fowler's father."

It does look foolish to see a big strong man fooling away his time with three-ounce trout, when an old short-horn bull over in the lot would rejoice to have somebody shake a red handkerchief under his nose.

Very cold weather is reported from the West. At Cheyenne, Wyoming Territory it was 16 below Wednesday morning; at Denver, 6 below; North Platte, 3 below; St. Louis, 17 above; Chicago, 13 above.

On a homeward bound Charleston car a jolly looking Irishman was saluted with the remark: "Tim, yer house was blown away." "Deed, thin it isn't," he answered, "for I have the kay in my pocket."

There are delegates from eight States at the Humane Society's annual meeting at Philadelphia, Pa. A motion for application to Congress to amend the law regulating the transportation of cattle was adopted.

He was brought before the Galveston Recorder on the charge of drunkenness. "Do you plead guilty or not guilty?" "I don't plead at all. I deny everything?" "Do you deny having been up here before?" "I should smile. Why, judge, I deny being here right now. If you catch me giving myself away, just wake me up and let me know it."

Arthur Fitzpatrick, who returned from Colorado a short time ago, gives the following account of an occurrence in the mining districts of which he was an eye-witness: "A miner and some companions were crossing the Continental Divide when it was covered with snow. Three miles below them, down a decline of forty-five degrees, deeply covered with frozen snow, lay the spot they desired to reach, while to go round by trail was fifteen miles. The miner took a tin pan used for washing gold, spread his blanket over it, got in himself in a squatting position on his haunches, tucked the blanket around, held his rifle and other traps over his head, and got one of his companions to give him a push. He informed me he went down at the speed of sixty miles a minute, and shot far out in the valley at the foot of the mountain. When he stopped he found the soldering of the pan melted from friction, his blanket on fire, and it was his impression that had he gone much further he would have been burned up, together with all his traps."—Pittsburg Telegraph.

Fever and Ague.

Are you troubled with Ague, Chills and Fever, Bilious Fever, Remittent or Intermitting fever, Night Sweats or any disease that comes from Malaria or disordered Liver and Hot Sun? If so, procure a bottle of Green's Ague Conqueror, which is an acetic extract of strong tonic roots, combined with Sulphate of Magnesia, etc., and positively contains no Quinine, Arsenic or other poisons. It purifies the blood, cleanses the liver, spleen and other secretive organs so effectually that the chills will not return. We have never found any case of Fever and Ague it will not cure. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. One large bottle has cured as many as five in one family. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."

LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY.

ANALYTICAL SANITARY INSTITUTION, 54, Holborn-viaduct, E.C., London, Aug. 18, 1879.

REPORT on the LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY:

"We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality."
