NEXT, for the conveyance of Her Majesty's Educational.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—A correspondent in your issue of the 3rd instant has touched the right chord of our educational system. I hope the teachers of P. E. Island will give no uncertain expression of their opinions on the question, both through the press and at the spring meetings of their different Institutes. I may, in a future issue, touch upon other points of the present system; but, for the present, I will confine myself to one,—how the teacher may increase his professional knowledge after leaving College and Normal School.

He must continue to study, otherwise he will retrograde to the foot of his profession.
"Upward and onward" should be his motto, and only by earnest study of standard professional works can he live up to his watchword. But many teachers, with families to support, will object that their salary is too small to admit of purchasing to any great extent, the necessary works. Very true. But the way I propose out of the difficulty is by a Government grant, for the purpose of establishing a teachers' library in the Provincial Building, which should be open to teachers actually engaged in school work. A grant of fifteen hundred dollars for the first year, and five or six hundred dollars a year afterwards, would suffice to provide, enlarge, and keep in good order, a large and excellent library.

The library I would suggest as the modus operandi.
The library should be in the Education Office, under the direct control of the Superintendent, and, as in public libraries, a record kept of all books lent and returned. A great many teachers visit the office at the end of each quarter, and might then secure the books they wished to peruse during the ensuing quarter, and return them at their next visit, the price of any book lost or destroyed being deducted from their salaries. An extra clerk would only be required during three or four days at the end of the quarter.

This library should consist of all works useful to the teacher, or bearing on the profession. I know, from six years' experience in the ranks, that teachers would gratefully receive such a boon, and I think if they would unanimously demand it, they would soon have the satisfaction of knowing it to be a reality. I see no great difficulty in carrying out the idea, if we can only get the Government to make the first grant. A general election is coming on next summer, and candidates will soon be soliciting support. There are about seven male teachers on an average, to each electoral district. Many of them are voters, and all have influence. Let them use their influence to this end. Let them work and vote only for such candidates as will promise their support to this measure. Our legislators must see that the great body of teachers would become improved, take a higher standing, and evince a greater interest in their work, the beneficial result of which would be better schools. The lasting advantage thus derived would far outweigh the expenditure of the few hundreds of dollars necessary to secure it, and I believe that the people at large would cheerfully endorse the scheme.

Before saying more, I await the opinions of other teachers, and of our worthy Superintendent, on the subject.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours very truly,

S. M. B.

Indian River, P. E. I., March 7th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—Two lies will not make one truth.
On the 20th inst. the Patriot inserts, no doubt from Dame Rumor's report, that James McKinnon's house was burnt on the Thursday preceding. On the 23rd following Archibald McKinnon reveals this error, and says the house was his. The fact of the matter is that the late Roderick McKinnon died intestate, and that there are now on terra firma five heirs to his house and premises; so that Archy is like one of the sons of Terriah—he has taken too much on himself, probably to damage my credit with the public.

"The I am lame, I have my senses Unimpaired, nor want no fences,
And never yet sold my birthright, Tho' often blam'd for getting Scott tight, Mutton in parvo, or little in much,
I am sensitive to a touch."

Yours truly,

D. C. MCKINNON.

March 24, '82.

Boycotting sportsmen has not been exclusively confined to the Lind Leaguers in Ireland. The Pau Hunt, of which Mr.
James Gordon Bennett is master, and which it is understood in France he hunts at his own expense, had a day's sport spoiled by the Republican villagers of Garderes. Not satisfied with the customary allowances paid them by the Hunt Committee for damages to their lands and crops, disarmed by the members of the Hunt, these enterprising peasants determined to blackmail the riders. They barricaded the road through the village with carts, wagons, and bundles of faggots, behind which they took their stand, armed with flails, bill-hooks, and in some cases with shotguns, threatening to kill the first rider who dared attempt to leap the barricade. The Hunt consequently came to a sudden halt, as well as all attempt to parley with the leader of the peasantry proved ineffectual, perhaps from philological difficulties, the local lingo being of a dark and inscrutable kind, the luckless master of the hounds was fain to sound a retreat and order a return home.
The victory is likely to cost the villagers dear, for the Hunt will probably be discontinued and the pack broken up.

The Railway ferry at Quebec will soon be a fact accomplished, together with the necessary railway extension. The result will no doubt be a considerable increase of traffic for the Intercolonial Railway.

Dr. Parker stated in his place in the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, a week or so ago, that he believed that the surplus of earnings over working expenses on the Intercolonial Railway this year were likely to foot up a quarter of a million dollars.

George Hazael has not replied to the challenge issued by Richard K. Fox, which was backed up with $1,000, to match John Hughes to run and walk six days, against Hazael or any man in the world for $2,500 or $500 a side. Hughes and his backers are ready to arrange a match.

Nervous people always dislike the man who carries an open knife carelessly in a public place. But they should, nevertheless, sympathise with the man of New Bedford who, endeavoring to open a car window while he held an open knife in his hand, put out his own eye.

A London despatch says: St. Patrick's day passed in unexpected tranquility, but every precaution was taken. The post-office authorities cut open hundreds of pasteboard boxes sent from Ireland. Shamrocks for Irishmen in London, not dynamite, were the sole contents.

His Excellency the Governor General was a few days ago presented with an address and a massive piece of plate, representing a hunting scene, at Rideau Hall Mr. Schultz, M. P., on behalf of his constituents and himself, a souvenir of the Vice-Regal tour through the North-West last summer. His Excellency made an appropriate reply.

Vanderbilt's wealth is estimated at from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000. Jay Gould is put down at $100,000,000, C. P. at $15,000,000, J. R. Keene at $15,000,- Samuel Sloan at $10,000,000, Cyrus W.

Field at $10,000,000, Hugh J. Jewett at and J. W. Garrett at $5,000,000.

Mr. Grant Allen in the Contemporary says that there is growing up in England a school of critics who have obviously based their ideas of criticism upon Sainte Beuve and Saint Marc Girardin, and that Englishmen have been convinced of the high, wide and earnest conception of the critical function which had never yet existed in English minds. Just as the critical impulse is dying out in France it has begun to live in England.

An editorial in the New York Herald contrasts, very unfavorably for the latter, the treatment of the Indians by the Canadian and United States Governments. It shows that under the system in vogue at Washington it is to the interest of contractors, Indian agents, and others, to foment trouble with the aborigines, and points out how, while the report of the Canadian Indian Department is filled with records of the advance of civilization, that of the Washington Department is nothing but a history of outrages and wars.

The great Sheffield handicap of 203 yards was run at Sheffield, England, on February 20. Hutchins, the English short distance champion, won the handicap by a few inches from T. Liddle (82 yards). G.
Gibson (81 yards) was third, and T. Digh-ton (81½ yards) fourth. All the field were bunched. It is stated that Hutchins ran the distance "nine yards inside events," which, translated, means that he was nine yards better than 13½ seconds for the 131½ yards—equal to 140 yards in 13s.

The English public has a budget of topics under discussion now. The most notable of these are to abolish the "prone" position in firing at Wimbledon; Mr. M. S.
Mulhall advocates the construction of a breakwater across St. George's Channel, connecting Great Britain with Ireland.
Mr. Goldwin Smith has found out that the Irish difficulty will be "solved" by the Queen taking up her abode for a time each year in the distracted island.

COST OF LIVING IN MANTOBA.—A gentleman from this city, Mr. Ambrose White, who took up a large tract of Land at Edmonton, Man., last spring, returned on Monday to visit his friends. He stated that he regretted having settled at Edmonton, as living there was too costly. Coal oil cost $2 to $2.50 per gallon; bacon, 33 cents per pound; tea, 60 to 70 cents; sugar, 30 to 33 cents; smoking and chewing tobacco, $1; dried apples, 25 to 30 cents; and syrup, $2.75 to $3.50 per gallon.

Not long ago we happened to be seated at the same table at a hotel with Doc.
Palmer, C. U. Attorney of T. York county, Ky. Everybody there knows the Dr. who lives in Louisville, Ky., and everybody likes him. We soon introduced a favorite subject in that section, and, as usual, found an instance of the powerful efficacy of St.
Jacob's Oil, the Great German Remedy.
Mr. Palmer said: "I had a bad attack of rheumatism in the left shoulder. I applied St. Jacob's Oil and was permanently cured.
On another occasion I was attacked with neuralgia, and profiting by my former experience, became doubly indebted to St.
Jacob's Oil for a cure of that most excruciating torment. I recommend it to everybody I see suffering with that class of diseases."
